ABSTRACT

A structured abstract (not more than 250 words). The abstract summarises the major aspects of a paper (see Algebra Structured Abstract).

Purpose – Reason/aims of the paper. State the background of the study. Methodology – State the research design, sampling design, sample size, research procedure(s), including intervention, instrument, and data analysis. Findings – State the main results of the study. Numerical data may be included but should be kept to a minimum. State the conclusions and implications. Novelty – State the originality/contribution of the research. Significance – Who would benefit from this study?

Keywords: List 5-8 keywords. Alphabetically sorted; Capitalised first word; From A to Z; Maximum 8 keywords; Mathematics education; Sentence case; Separate by semicolon (;) between keywords.

Acknowledgments

Acknowledge individuals or institutions that supported the research but do not meet the criteria for authorship. This may include advisors, research assistants, language editors, proofreaders, technical personnel, data collectors, participating institutions, or organisations that provided facilities or materials. Financial support must be reported separately under the Funding Statement.

Declarations

Author contributions	:	Describe each author's contribution using the CRediT Contributor Roles Taxonomy. Example: Author 1: Conceptualisation, Writing – Original Draft, Editing, and Visualisation; Author 2: Methodology, Formal Analysis, and Writing – Review & Editing; Author 3: Validation and Supervision. Include only contributions actually performed by each author.
Funding statement	:	Identify the official name of every funding organisation and provide the grant number and year where available. Example: This research was funded by [name of funding organisation] under grant number [number], awarded in [year]. If no funding was received, state: "This research received no specific grant from any funding agency in the public, commercial, or not-for-profit sectors."
Conflict of interest	:	Disclose any financial, institutional, professional, academic, or personal interests that could influence the research or its interpretation. If no conflict exists, state: "The authors declare no conflicts of interest."
Data availability	:	Explain whether the data, instruments, code, or supplementary materials supporting the findings are publicly available, available upon reasonable request, restricted, or unavailable. Include the repository name and DOI or persistent URL when applicable.
Additional information:		Identify any supplementary files or additional materials associated with the article and explain where they can be accessed. If none exist, state: "No additional information is available for this article."
