

July 2023: Reading Calendar for Rising 4th Graders

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY
Describe your favorite character from a book you've read this summer. Tell how the character changed in the story. What caused him/her to change?	Plan a backyard camping trip with a friend. Make a list of all the things you will need.	Continue reading. "Stop, Think, and Retell" as you read.	Look up the events that happened on the day you were born and tell someone about it.	Write a letter to the main character of your book. What questions are you thinking about?
Plan a menu for your family. Help prepare the meal.	Continue reading. How many minutes are you now reading? Keep up the good work!	List 20 words with prefixes and/or suffixes. Practice reading them fluently.	Visit the public library. Check out books to read.	Draw a new cover for a book you read.
Write as many contractions as you can. Write both the contraction and the 2 words that make the contraction.	Look at your summer list. What things are remaining. Share your list with your family.	Compare two book characters. Create a Venn diagram that shows at least four ways they are alike and different.	Learn 5 facts about a summer sport. Write a persuasive paragraph encouraging a friend to try that sport.	Plan and prepare a special dessert for your family. Look for recipes in cookbooks or online.
Design a special award for one of your book characters. Write about what your character did to earn this special award.	A fact is something that can be proven true. An opinion is someone's feelings. Write 2 facts and 2 opinions about your book.	Write as many words as you can that begin with: --str --wh --qu	Choose a book character from the book that you are reading you think would make a good friend for you. Explain your choice in at least 6 sentences.	Plan a "Booknic" with your family. Pack a lunch and plenty to read.