

DREAM STATE

My alarm went off i was sweating I had woken from a nightmare. Something feels strange This room feels fake "This isn't my room"
I thought to myself suddenly the room changed it became all white there was no doors and no windows I was TRAPPED
"HELP! HELP! HELP!" i yelled i was looking around for something to help me escape I was panicking the walls started to close it was getting tighter and tighter then i heard A voice "isaiah isaiah" then i woke i was Having a nightmare it was all a dream
A dream state.

Isaiah C., 13