The Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS) course takes learners through a real-world scenario involving workplace hazards they face every day. Focused on providing workers the tools they need to better understand chemical hazards and safety measures, the course aims to help employees and contractors develop a safety-based mindset. Knowledge checks throughout the course ensure learners understand the content. Engaging visuals, including 3D and animations, along with interactive scenarios motivate learners to embrace the learning experience and stimulate them to take action. This course meets the basic training mandated by OSHA's Hazcom Requirements in the USA and CCOSH's WHMIS Requirements in Canada. It includes the key elements of the WHMIS system, including hazard classification, cautionary labelling of containers, the provision of (material) safety data sheets ((M)SDSs), and worker, employer, and supplier roles and responsibilities. The worldwide hazard communication system known as the Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labelling for chemicals (GHS) is also reflected in this course.
