Guidelines

Regarding the characters, crossovers and interactions:

- While this blog is based on the Into the Spiderverse version of the character, I am open to crossovers, multiverse crossovers, timeline shenanigans and all kinds of interactions, with canon characters and OC.
- I am, however, selective with who I interact with, and will only interact with mutuals (that is, I follow you and you follow me)

Interactions in general:

- The askbox is always open, be it for memes, asks or interactions. Non-mutuals may still send asks, memes and anon asks.
- I reserve the right to follow and unfollow, but I will take a look at all blogs that follow and check rules (and information, if an OC). If I cannot access them or I can't find them after a few minutes of checking your theme, I won't follow back.
- The opinions or views of the muse don't reflect those of the mun.
- My first language isn't English. Grammar inconsistencies and general weirdness may appear without warning.
- I, the mun, am 21+ and have been RPin for almost a decade now. I go by Sparrow (she/her and they/them).
- I live in a timezone that is apparently unusual for Tumblr. Thus, I may not be online at the usual Tumblr hours.
- Trigger and content warnings are tagged as cw something and will tag blood, nsfw (if it were ever to happen), injuries, the phobias I am aware of and whatever I can think that could be uncomfortable. If you need something tagged or for some reason I forgot to tag something, please approach me.
- I do not participate in callout culture.

Roleplaying:

- God-modding or powerplaying won't be accepted.
- Multiple threads in different verses and moments of the timeline are encouraged.

- The length of the threads will depend on the thread itself and partner preference, as I can do multi-para or short messages. On occasion, short threads may take temporary preference.
- I do not reply to threads in order. I go by muse and personal preference, and I won't always have the time to reply to all my threads. If I don't reply to yours I may not have had the time, the muse, or I may have wanted to take more time for that reply than the one I had today.
- I drop threads. I also lose threads. If it happens with a thread you wanted to continue, poke me. If I lost it I'll reply as soon as possible, if I dropped it we can discuss a way to continue.

Shipping:

- All ships will be assumed to happen on separate verses, between adult and consenting muses.
- All things considered, shipping is not a priority for me.
- There will be no smut on this blog. All content that approaches nsfw, if there ever is, will be tagged accordingly.

Character:

- I claim no ownership of the character.
