

COLOR LEGEND:

MARIA HARTLY

CHRIS HOLLYWOOD

RYAN HOLLYWOOD

THIS IS ENTERTAINMENT TODAY!!

“Hello, and welcome to Entertainment Today, your daily syndicated radio broadcast on all things entertainment and entertainment-adjacent. I’m your host, Maria Hartly, and today we have a lot of news to go through, so let’s get right into it.

Off the top, we have a startling transition for two of Hollywood’s shiniest stars. That’s right, the debates of Hollywood’s favorite Chris or the greatest Ryan on the silver screen do NOT involve these two, but their passion is undeniable, even if it has gotten them in some hot water before. Ladies and gentlemen, I want you top please join me in welcoming my guests at this time, brothers who have apparently paid handsomely to be featured as the top story on Entertainment Today, Chris and Ryan Hollywood! Gentlemen, how are you doing?”

“Doing great, Mary.”

“Okay... um... lately, you boys have been...”

“Excuse me, Mary... I just want to point out that we are NOT, in fact, “boys”. As you can tell, when you’re as defined as we are, we can only be properly described as “men”.

“I apologize for the confusion.”

“It’s okay... just don’t let it happen again, mmkay?”

“Okay... well, lately, you men have been in the news for some rather lurid reasons... something involving a high school cheerleading outfit?”

“IN OUR DEFENSE... in our defense, Maria, they were 18.”

“They told us they were 18!”

“They said they were 18.”

“They even showed us their IDs.”

“Those ID’s they have nowadays? Wooo!”

“Like they came straight from the government.”

“VERY convincing.”

“I... was going to ask about the literal outfit you were in possession of.”

“BECAUSE... because we offered to have it dry cleaned at our guy’s place.”

“We didn’t want to make them wait for a CONVENTIONAL dry cleaner. It was an urgent need, and our guy is reputable!”

“Super reputable!”

“We were under the wire!”

“We just wanted to get it back to them in time.”

“I’m being told not to ask you about that anymore.”

“Whew.”

“Thanks Dad!”

“Instead, let’s pivot onto your next project.”

“New York Fashion Week?”

“No, she means the agreement with Brazz...zz... zen Film Conglomerate.”

“Nice save.”

“Thanks!”

“N... no. I’m referring to your recent contracts with Supreme Championship Wrestling.”

“OHHHHH!”

“OHHHHH!”

“So why the pivot from Hollywood and into the realm of professional wrestling? You have obviously been around the block a few times... why this? Why now?”

“See, Marla... Ryan and I looked out on the ‘rasslin landscape and felt there was something missing... a hole in the business.”

“So we talked about it and decided... who better to fill that hole than the Hollywood bros?”

"It's a perfect fit, really."

"A natural transition."

"We decided that there was no one else who could be the next grrrrreat tag team!"

"Well, besides being "brothers," do you have any experience as a tag team?"

"DO WE HAVE..."

"Marisa, we have so much experience tag teaming."

"Just ask Angela..."

"And Pamela!"

"Sandra!"

"Rita!"

"And you know from there that they only get sweeter."

"Isn't that Mambo Number 5?"

"More than five!"

"No, I mean the song."

"We have no recollection of any song like that."

"Yeah... Hollywood bros don't mambo."

"Unless it's HOTIZONTAL!"

"Ew."

"But what it all comes down to is timing."

"Yeah. Like... we've been ready for this for ages."

"And when we hit that ring, everyone is going to know just how ready we are."

"This isn't about making some kind of vain attempt at legitimacy."

“We’re not interested in flashing the pan or anything.”

“We’re going to take our star power to tag team wrestling.”

“And use our tag team wrestling to increase our star power.”

“It’s really win-win, when you think about it.”

“Win fing win, baby!”

“But if your Hollywood history has told us anything, it’s that you two gentlemen tend to attract controversy wherever you go.”

“What? Controversy?”

“Me and big Ry are flipping SAINTS.”

“CASE IN POINT... the cheerleader debacle.”

“We told you they had IDs.”

“That’s not our fault!”

“We’re totally innocent.”

“If anything, your media friends made us the victims!”

“We were victimized!”

“Whatever the case was, controversy does tend to go where you go. Don’t you worry about that becoming even greater when you enter professional wrestling?”

“All you need to know, Marisol, is that we’re going to make sure the entire flipping world knows who Hollywood is when we’re through.”

“There won’t be a question or controversy... because we’re going to be undisputedly great.”

“Well, you have told us a lot while somehow simultaneously telling us nothing at all. We wish you luck in your endeavors, and will certainly be here to cover every scandal I’m sure you will inexplicably attract.”

“Pfft... scandals? We’re literal angels.”

“You should feel my skin.”

“I’m sorry?”

“ .. ”

“ .. ”

“BAIL!”

[DEAD AIR]