

What was the most interesting or surprising thing you learned from the article?

What are the advantages of geo-replication?

How is it that operations may appear out of order in an eventually consistent system?

What are the rules of causality?

What are the limitations of causal consistency?

Why are read transactions necessary?

Describe how logical time may be used to provide read-only transactions.