

Chloe Price named PBL High School's Student of the Month

Chloe Price of Roberts has been named student of the month for September at Paxton-Buckley-Loda High School. Chloe is the daughter of Arnold and Sandra Price. She was nominated for the award by her Family and Consumer Science Teacher, Sally Ellis.

Mrs. Ellis said in her nomination, "I am happy to nominate Chloe for Student of the Month. Chloe, a junior, is generally a quiet, focused student, however this year I have seen her come out of her shell. Since freshman year, Chloe has taken Introduction to Family and Consumer Science and Clothing Design classes with me. This year she is enrolled in Foods class. Chloe excelled in prior classes, especially Clothing Design expectations in a hands-on environment. She has carried that enthusiasm into Foods class this year."

Mrs. Ellis also stated, "Chloe has a subtle lead-by-example style during food labs and helps with tasks without being asked. She was eager to join and take on a leadership position in Family, Career & Community Leaders of America, and will be attending two FCCLA Leadership Conferences in October. In her interest essay for FCCLA, Chloe wrote, "I'm hoping that as an officer of FCCLA I can help others find new skills in areas they never knew they would enjoy and can also guide me into options for my future career." She has expressed an interest in attending college for fashion design."

Chloe participates in football cheerleading, basketball cheerleading, and competitive cheerleading. The cheerleading team made it to state her freshman and sophomore year. She enjoys helping younger students when they participate in the junior cheer activity. She hopes to attend Purdue University and possibly cheer.

The student of the month award is sponsored by Farmers-Merchants Bank of Illinois. The award recognizes PBL High School students who demonstrate the school district's mission of "Excellence through rigor, relevance, and relationships." Teachers nominate students and the winner receives $50 and the other nominees receive a $5 gift certificate from Just Hamburgers. The other students that were nominated for September Student of the Month are Cael Bruns, Jordan Casteel, Leah Eyre, Emmalee Harding, Bren Henry, Alexis Putnum, Caiden Riecks, Elle San Diego. Congratulations to all of the nominees and our winner, Chloe Price!
