2. Golf N Golf Quick Verdict

Yes — Alpine Golf Resort Chiangmai is one of the region’s genuine championship courses, having hosted the Asian Tour’s Chiangmai Golf Classic in both 2013 and 2014. Set in a mountain valley on the Chiang Mai-Lamphun border, it mixes parkland, wetland, and rice-paddy terrain across 27 holes, including a par-5 4th reported to be Thailand’s longest and a par-3 played to the country's only rice-paddy green. If you want tournament-caliber golf with real scenery, this is a strong pick.

4. Overview

Alpine Golf Resort Chiangmai sits in a mountain valley on the Chiang Mai-Lamphun provincial border, roughly 30 minutes from central Chiang Mai. The original 18 holes were designed by American architect Ron M. Garl, with a further nine added later — giving the resort 27 holes across a landscape that mixes traditional parkland, wetland, and rice-paddy terrain within the San Kamphaeng forest area.

The course’s competitive pedigree is real: it hosted the Asian Tour’s Chiangmai Golf Classic in both 2013 and 2014, and picked up the Asian Tour’s “Best Golf Resort” award in both of those years, along with an Asia Top 10 Best Golf Resorts nod in 2014 and further recognition through 2017. A handful of signature holes stand out — the par-5 4th, reported by multiple sources to be Thailand’s longest at roughly 652 yards; a par-3 played to what’s described as the country’s only rice-paddy green; and the par-3 15th, surrounded entirely by water.

Set at elevation within the San Kamphaeng forest between mountain ranges, the course offers a genuinely different terrain mix from the flatter courses closer to Chiang Mai city — part of what’s made it a repeat tournament host.

5. Why Play This Course?

- Convenience: about 30 minutes from central Chiang Mai, an easy half-day trip.
- Reputation: two-time host of the Asian Tour's Chiangmai Golf Classic, with multiple "Best Golf Resort" awards.
- Experience: a genuine mix of parkland, wetland, and rice-paddy terrain within a mountain valley setting.
- Unique selling point: Thailand's longest par-5 and the country's only rice-paddy green, both on the same course.

6. Course Highlights

- Championship Design: Ron M. Garl's routing across the original 18, with a later nine expanding the resort to 27 holes and Asian Tour-tested difficulty.
- Course Conditioning: Excellent, backed by back-to-back Asian Tour "Best Golf Resort" awards in 2013 and 2014.
- Greens: The par-3 played to Thailand's only rice-paddy green and the water-surrounded par-3 15th are standout examples of the course's distinctive greens.
- Clubhouse & Facilities: 78-room resort, a clubhouse, locker rooms, pro shop, driving range, a spa, dining areas, conference rooms, a swimming pool, snooker, karaoke, a fitness center, a football field, and an outdoor stadium spanning 9 rai.
- Caddies & Service: Caddie service included in the green fee, consistent with the resort's tournament-caliber positioning.

8. Who Should Play This Course?

- First-time visitors to Thailand: Moderate fit — a demanding introduction; better as a second or third round of the trip.
- Luxury golf holidays: Yes — Asian Tour pedigree and resort conditioning suit a premium itinerary.
- Couples: Moderate fit — a longer, challenging round better suited to golfers who enjoy a real test together.
- Corporate groups: Yes — tournament history and 27-hole flexibility make a strong impression on larger groups.
- Mid-handicap golfers: Yes, with sensible course management around the water and varied terrain.
- Low-handicap golfers: Yes — genuinely one of Northern Thailand's toughest, tournament-tested courses.

9. James' Recommendation

"Don't mix this one up with the Alpine we've got down in Bangkok — this is a completely different course, and honestly one of my favorites up here. The Asian Tour played the Chiangmai Golf Classic here twice, and you can feel why the moment you stand on that par-5 4th — it's supposedly the longest in Thailand, and it plays every bit of it. The rice-paddy green is the one people talk about afterward though; there's nothing else like it in the country. Bring your best game, this one doesn't give much away." — James

10. Golf N Golf Recommendation

- Who it suits best: golfers chasing genuine tournament-tested golf and a valley setting with real terrain variety.
- Courses to pair with: Chiangmai Highlands for a "best of Chiang Mai championship golf" two-day stretch, or Royal Chiangmai Golf Resort for golfers curious to compare a valley-and-orchard setting against a Peter Thomson design.
- Suggested itinerary: Day 1 arrival and rest; Day 2 Alpine Golf Resort Chiangmai; Day 3 Chiangmai Highlands; Day 4 a more relaxed course or a city/culture day before departure.
