

Sample Table 1

As part of your submission materials, we ask that you provide a comprehensive list of courses taught, detailing for each course the course title, level (graduate or undergraduate), size, and statistical program used, department, and dates when course was offered. Please list the course by Date order, starting with the oldest first. An example table is provided below.

Course Title	Course Level (Undergraduate or Graduate), Class Size, and Programs Used	Department	Dates
GSB 519: Business Analytics Tools	Graduate, 42, R and Excel	Department of Management	Spring 2022
MGT 586: Data Visualization	Graduate, 35, Tableau	Department of Management	Summer 2022

Sample Table 2

As part of your submission materials, we ask that you provide evidence of teaching quality and effectiveness, including quantitative or qualitative student ratings and any other relevant information demonstrating your impact as an instructor. We ask that applicants provide a table that summarizes the most pertinent teaching effectiveness data by course, alongside complete historical evaluations, within or outside their statement of teaching philosophy. An example table is provided below. We know that not all universities ask the same evaluation questions, so do your best in approximating questions related to quality and effectiveness. Please list the course by Date order, starting with the oldest first. Please remember to provide the scoring scale.

Course Title	Evidence of Teaching Quality	Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness	Dates
---------------------	-------------------------------------	---	--------------

GSB 519: Business Analytics Tools	One a 1 to 5 scale, scored 3.73 on the evaluation question: This course's quality was high.	One a 1 to 5 scale, scored 3.99 on the evaluation question: This instructor effectively taught the course material.	Spring 2022
MGT 586: Data Visualization	One a 1 to 5 scale, scored 4.21 on the evaluation question: This course's quality was high.	One a 1 to 5 scale, scored 4.62 on the evaluation question: This instructor effectively taught the course material.	Summer 2022