

The Taylor Hall Act

Special Thanks: Angus, 141135

1. This act seeks to honor Speaker Taylor, who admirably led the Legislature as Speaker during the Fifth Government and part of the Fourth Government. He served as a legislator for three terms. Thanks to his leadership, the Legislature passed the Kobe Nova Special Administrative Region Act.
2. The building in which the legislature meets in the capitol shall be renamed Taylor Hall.
3. Moderation is asked to rename the text channel “#legislature” to “#taylor-legislative-hall”.
4. The following elements of the bill are flavor text and non-binding:

The legislative building, to be renamed Taylor Hall in honor of the famous speaker, stands near the center of the capital before an expansive plaza of worked stone. A grand fountain sits in the center of the square, decorated with various carvings depicting the sky and its heavenly bodies.

The building itself is tasteful, yet spartan on the outside. Tall columns grace the walls of the structure, serving both as decoration and support for the building. As government leaders busily hurry in and out, a pair of workers stand atop an elevated platform, carefully inscribing in bold, gold lettering the new name. Shading one's eyes from the sun, one can just make out the workers finishing up the detailing on the “R”.

A lone government official smiles as she observes their work. The preparations for the upcoming renaming ceremony were coming along nicely. She put a lot of effort into setting it all up and is determined to cover every detail. On that thought, she turns towards the city. She needs to pick out the ribbon that Taylor will cut.
