

We create habitat niches': Nebraskans help shape environments for large species

September 10, 2026

Nebraska Public Media

... At the time of Lewis and Clark's Expedition, they found mule deer in eastern Nebraska. But since then, a lot of that prairie turned to farmland, which isn't suitable for that species... Mule deer range has continued to shrink west. Over the past 20 years or so, we've seen that range shrink by about 100 miles or so..,