

Housing

This fellowship does not provide housing. Recognizing that summer housing may be a considerable barrier to students to engage in this opportunity, we have compiled a list of options that provide additional funding and/or free housing.

Penner Family Experiences Fund

This is the most comprehensive and wide-ranging funding resource at Georgetown, and you can apply BEFORE obtaining this fellowship. Through the Penner Family Experiences Fund, you can apply for financial support for summer to assist with alleviating some of the financial burden of participating in an experiential learning opportunity, such as the Summer Research Fellowship in Psychology. The maximum award is $1,500. To be eligible, you must have documented eligibility for need-based Georgetown scholarship aid during the current academic year, as determined by the Georgetown University Office of Student Financial Services. You must be a junior or a senior to apply. International students are eligible for the Penner Award.

- Application Opens: January/February 2025
- Deadline: late March/Early April 2025
- For the application, you will need to provide the following information:
 - Name of Organization: Department of Psychology, Georgetown University
 - Website:

Part-Time Campus Jobs That Offer Free Housing

Note that summer jobs listed below may not be posted until later in the Fall semester or early in the Spring semester. We recommend applying for those jobs after learning whether or not you have been selected for this fellowship. To be eligible for the Summer Research Fellowship in Psychology, you can hold another part-time position but not a full-time position.

Residential Living Student Employment

A variety of positions are available in the Operations Crew, Summer Programs, and Residential Living Administration. Most positions, including part-time positions, offer free housing. Apply for a part-time position, such as Summer Resident Assistant or Summer Operations Office Assistant.

- Application Opens: Early Spring semester.
- Deadline: Early March 2025

GEMS Summer Positions

GEMS is hiring student staff to help with our summer conferences. They have a variety of options available, including flexible, part-time, and full-time opportunities. Due to this flexibility, they welcome employees with other internships and obligations. The biggest benefit is that all of their positions include free campus housing. Choose a flexible or part-time position.

- Application Opens: Late Fall semester
- Deadline: Early February 2025
