What should be included about menus?

What is a menu? It's probably not what you think it is.
Why you should be using disclosures instead