Email 4: The Unseen Power of Generosity in Business

Subject: Are you a generous person?

Once upon a time in a small town, there lived an entrepreneur who faced insurmountable challenges.

With a dream to build a better life through her business, she encountered obstacle after obstacle—doubt from potential investors, and the daunting task of competing against well-established giants.

Yet, what set her apart was an unwavering belief that success could be built on the foundation of generosity.

Slowly but surely, her reputation as a generous leader grew, and so did her business.

It wasn’t until she reached the pinnacle of her success that her name became well-known — Sara Blakely, founder of Spanx.
