

This session will focus on some ideas and projects to involve teachers and students in the magic world of storytelling. Being encouraged by the challenge of telling stories, students boost their self-confidence and also enjoy a unique experience that combines learning English with having fun. Some activities such as: telling a fantastic true story, an amazing page of a diary or blog using past simple; Book buddy time (older students telling a story to younger ones); English club: a volunteer project teaching a less privileged community by reviving old soundtracks telling the story of famous films; using traditional and Coursebook songs to retell fairy tales during the presentation. with a new approach to the words as an end-of-the year production will be presented and discussed. Participation will be welcome
