

THE [MAIN] TITLE OF THE PAPER, NOT MORE THAN 16 WORDS, TIMES
NEW ROMAN 12 PT FONT-SIZE, ALL IN CAPITALS, BOLD

First Author Name¹, Second Author Name², Third Author Name³

¹firstauthor@gmail.com, ²secondauthor@gmail.com, ³thirdauthor@gmail.com

^{1,2,3}Affiliation

Received: 18th May 2000

Revised: 2nd June 2000

Accepted: 20th June 2000

ABSTRACT Abstract must reflect the substance of the whole contents of the article and enable to help readers to determine relevance with their interest and decide whether or not to read the full document. The abstract consists of a statement about the background, objective or focus of the study, method or important research steps, findings and discussion, and conclusion. The abstract is written in one paragraph, with single spacing, in times new roman font 10, and total about 200-250 words.

Keywords: abstract, summary (It must be a maximum of 5 keywords)

INTRODUCTION

This section should be written in times new roman 12 pt font size and contain background and research objectives that explain phenomena and research problems. It should also be related to previous studies, especially research gaps or limitations from previous studies. The author hopes to fill in the research gap/limitations, or the author must briefly explain the purpose of writing at the end of the Introduction. The Introduction is in the form of a narrative and does not use numbering.

LITERATURE REVIEW

This section must consist of the summary or analysis of all the research the author read before doing his/her own research. The author provides and describes the theoretical basis used and the background on who has done related research, what that research has or has not uncovered, and how the current research contributes to the discussion on the topic. This section also contains developments in the concepts or theories used. The literature used must be under the topic of the article being written. The author may divide this section into sub-headings.

RESEARCH METHODS

This segment should be written in times new roman 12 pt font size and inform readers of the methods the authors have used for the research. The Research Methodology includes the type of research, research design, population and sample, data collection techniques and instruments, measurement and operational definition of variables, and data analysis procedures. Please ensure that sufficient information has been given to allow for the repetition of the research

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

This section is written in times new roman 12 pt font size and contains the results of data analysis or statistical descriptions required. Tables/illustrations are placed in this section (at most six tables/illustrations) with a brief title. Authors can present an explanation/analysis of each table/illustration contained. Tables/illustrations that are more than one page in size can be placed in the Appendix.

The Discussion section is the author's interpretation of the research findings that can answer the limitations/research gaps of previous research and not repeat the research findings. The Discussion section includes how the research results related to the research objectives (what)? Do the authors provide a scientific interpretation of each finding presented (why)? Moreover, are the research results consistent or contradictory to the research results from other researchers (what else)? Sizes and styles of page setup are shown below. The example of the table and figure are also shown below.

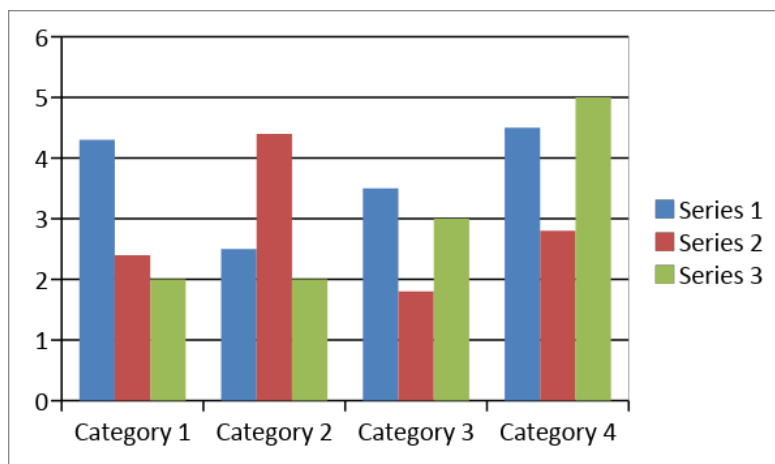

Table 1: The title and the content of the table are written in Times New Roman; 10 fonts; italic

Template	Template	Template
Note:
*)
**)
***)

Figure 1: The title and the figure are written in Times New Roman; 10 fonts; italic

Figure 1: The title and the figure are written in Times New Roman; 10 fonts; italic

CONCLUSION

Please present the main conclusions of the study as the answer to the research objectives. The conclusions include a summary of the research, the contribution/implications of the study, the limitations of the study, and as far as possible, suggest potential areas for further research. The Conclusion section is written in a clear, concise, and does not re-quote previous research. In the form of a narrative, the conclusions presented do not use numbering and are not more than two paragraphs.

REFERENCES

All reference results referred to in the article text must use primary references. We expect a minimum of 20 to 30 references primarily to journal papers, depending on the length of the paper. The reference uses the APA Manual of Style 7th Edition Citations. Cite references in the text by name and year in parentheses. Authors are strongly urged to use a reference manager MENDELEY.

- Ali akbari, M., & Jamal vandi, B. (2010). The impact of role-play on fostering EFL learners' speaking ability: A task-based approach. Journal of the Pan-Pacific Association of Applied Linguistics, 14 (1), 15-29.
- Badr, S. (2008). The effects of blended learning communicating on language apprehension and oral communication skills. Journal of Psychological and Educational Research, issued by Faculty of Education, Minufiyah University, 23 (1), 3-53.
- Bahrani, T. (2011). Speaking fluency: Technology in EFL context or social interaction in ESL context. Studies in Literature and Language, 2 (2), 162-168.
- Brown, HD (2001). Teaching by principles: An interactive approach to language pedagogy. San Francisco: Addison Wesley Longman, Inc.
- Derwing, T., Muray, J., & Thomson, R. I. (2008). A longitudinal study on ESL learners' fluency and comprehension development. Applied Linguistics, 29 (3), 359-380.
- Friend, J., Adams, A., & Curry, G. (2011). Breaking news: Utilizing video simulations to improve educational leaders' public speaking skills. Journal of Research on Leadership Education, 6 (5), 234-249.
- Sugiyono, 2015. Educational Research Methods, Bandung, Alfabeta.
- Hartsell, T., & Yuen, S. (2006). Video streaming in online learning. AACE Journal, 14 (1), 31-43.
- Murat, H. (2012). Turkish EFL word stress to learning English as a foreign language learner through internet-based video lessons. Retrieved from ERIC database. (ED 530678).
- Romero, BN (2006). Improving speaking skills. Encuentro, 18, 86-90.
- Tumova, M. (2002). Speaking activities aimed at developing fluency in EFL classes. MA Thesis, Faculty of Humanities, University of Pardubice, Czech Republic.