Section 7: Philosophy and Curriculum

7.1 Philosophy

The goal of Little Oaks HLC is to provide a safe, supportive, and creative environment where each child can feel secure and thrive. We want the children to move on from our center feeling successful and confident, ready to face the challenges of their new environment. We also want to create an environment where the parents/guardians feel comfortable and confident about leaving their child in our care, knowing that we will keep them safe, and offer opportunities for the child to grow and mature socially, mentally, physically, spiritually, and emotionally.

Equally important is to provide an environment for our staff to thrive in, one in which the teachers work together in harmony as a cooperative team. We will strive to support, encourage, and assist each other in any way we can. Continuing education is emphasized, and each teacher is encouraged to renew her skills by attending frequent professional development opportunities.

We approach the preschool concept from a developmental approach, with an emphasis on the following:

- All children learn and develop in stages - as administrators and teachers, we need to meet each child at whatever stage they are in and offer experiences that will challenge them to reach the next stage.
- Children learn by doing - the process is far more important than the product. This concept needs to be taught to parents/guardians, as they tend to focus on the product.

How do we implement these two beliefs into the center? In preparing to teach each lesson for the week, offer many different experiences to reinforce the topic. This effort will assure that each child has had the chance to absorb what you are focusing on, no matter what their learning style. Make sure each week you offer hands-on art experiences, music, dramatic play, language development, science exploration, and math activities that will stretch each child to their next level of development. During the day, teachers should be interacting with the child, helping them develop oral language skills, make observations, predict what will happen next, and solve problems.

The philosophies we follow are inspired by the teachings of Montessori, Reggio, and Waldorf:

Montessori

Focus on the “whole student,” taking into consideration their social, emotional, intellectual, and physical development. Individualize learning by having less whole group lessons, and more small group work; this way students have various activities to choose from, rather than trying to learn in a way that doesn't suit them. Use rotating centers; once students have explored all centers, they then choose which suits their learning best.

Reggio

Our job is to teach children to be independent, involved learners. We give them the tools they need to feel capable and to realize they are able to depend on themselves, but still know when to ask for help if necessary. Our classroom environment provides a small community for our students. Students will be given responsibilities pertaining to their weekly “jobs,” and encouraged to practice their problem-solving skills.

Waldorf

Teach students by letting them do. As often as possible, our lessons will not simply stay within the walls of the classroom. Do your best to give students experiences that go hand-in-hand with what is being taught. In order for students to truly learn, they need to do, not just listen and memorize.

7.2 Curriculum

The curriculum must fit the needs of the children; we should not try to force the children to fit the curriculum. It needs to focus on what the child experiences in the world around them and what is relevant to them. It should include activities that develop self-esteem, confidence, cooperation, and problem-solving skills. The curriculum should be flexible, and responsive to the child's interests and needs.

We need to provide a developmentally appropriate curriculum that enables children to explore and discover the world around them. Children learn through their senses and by doing. They need to manipulate and actively explore their environment. To them, the process is more important than the end product.

While following the set curriculum, each teacher is encouraged to modify lesson plans, as needed, to follow the interests of the children.

Daily lessons should incorporate:

- Reading Readiness (books, games, drawing)
- Large Motor Skills (large hollow blocks, balance beam)
- Small Motor Skills (puzzles, scissors, lacing)
- Dramatic Play (dress-up clothes, kitchen, puppets)
- Math Readiness (shapes, patterns, counting)
- Science Readiness (magnets, plants, bugs)
- Expressive (water tables, finger painting, music)
- Social (sharing, cooperation)

The daily schedule and activities should create a balance between active and quiet times; large and small group, and individual activities; indoor and outdoor playtimes; as well as child-directed and teacher-directed activities.

Section 8: Expectations for Working with the Children and Families

8.1 Daily Preparation

Our goal is to ensure a warm, caring, and stimulating environment for children which encourages the development of physical, social, emotional, and cognitive skills, as well as enhances self-esteem and independence.

- Plan, organize and implement lessons based on developmentally appropriate practices and learning standards.
- Supervise and ensure the safety and well-being of the children at all times, being alert to the needs of children as individuals and as a group.
- Provide and maintain a neat, organized classroom; take responsibility for the upkeep of materials and equipment. Involve the children in the housekeeping- encourage them to put away their toys and supplies in the proper areas.
- Maintain a stimulating, aesthetically and educationally appealing room décor (display of children’s work, arrangement of bulletin boards, placement of books, science materials, etc.).
- Assess children’s progress, routines, and interests, and keep parents/guardians informed of their child’s development.

8.2 Using brightwheel

Little Oaks Hands-On Learning Center, LLC has partnered with Brightwheel to manage classrooms, and schedules, stay in constant touch with parents/guardians, and manage child clock-in and clock-out times. All teachers are expected to use the brightwheel app daily as part of their job duties. Teachers are expected to update daily any changes consistent with a child’s schedule so we can keep an accurate record for each child and help families feel connected with our program.

Daily Teacher Usage Requirements are as follows:

- Infant Group: Teachers must update all activities, as well as photos/videos throughout the day
- 1s and 2s Group: Teachers must update curriculum, photos/videos, potty/diapering times, amount of diapers and wipes available, naptimes, snack and lunchtime amounts (under special circumstances)
- 3s, 4s, and 5s Group: Teachers must update curriculum with state preschool standards and observations, photos/videos, general daily notes, “needs” list, and naptimes for those still napping

8.3 Playground Guidelines

The children’s safety is your primary responsibility while out on the playground. Staff members should be spread out and be able to observe all areas of the playground. This means that teachers should not be standing near each other for long periods of time.

Outside time is not a time to write notes, prepare lesson plans, or prepare materials. As in the classroom, there should be no talking on cell phones or text messaging.

Interact with children while on the playground. Talk to them, read a book, or create activities. However, do not focus too much attention on one group for too long, make sure to look up to see what other children are doing periodically.

Keep an eye on the gate. Nobody should leave the playground without permission and an adult chaperon. If a child needs to go to the bathroom or get a drink, you need to go with the child, making sure there is enough coverage outside, and letting the outside staff know you are going in.

If you see a child do something they shouldn't be doing, don't yell from across the yard unless they are in imminent danger. Instead, walk over and talk to the child.

Please make sure to keep the area organized and see that the children put away the toys they play with and that you put away any supplies you set up for outside time.

8.4 Water Play

It is a part of the philosophy of this center that water play is an integral part of our curriculum.

Through water and sand play, a child:

- Experiments with mathematical concepts of mass, volume, and measurements
- Learns concepts of warm and cool, wet, damp and dry, heavy and light
- Creates own patterns and symbols - needed for pre-writing and reading skills
- Works with others in cooperative activities
- Stimulates sensory perceptions and works on small muscle coordination
- Learns to solve problems

Water should always be available for children to experiment with, with the following guidelines:

- Water play is made available to children during their scheduled outdoor play in the morning and after nap time. Common sense will be used as to whether it is warm enough for the children to get wet. Staff needs to observe the children in their class to make sure that if their clothing gets wet, they are changed promptly.
- Children should wash their hands BEFORE playing at a water table.
- At the end of the day, the water table must be emptied and wiped down with a bleach solution.

8.5 Behavior Guidance

The goals of discipline are to help children learn what acceptable behavior is, and help children gain inner control. Our role as staff members is to provide a positive model of acceptable behavior. Behavior guidance needs to be tailored to the developmental level of the child. We will attempt to redirect children and groups away from problems and toward constructive activity in order to keep conflict to a minimum. The staff will teach children how to use acceptable alternatives to problem behavior in order to reduce conflict. We will help children learn appropriate behavior through logical and natural consequences when there are no safety concerns. Absolutely no form of verbal or emotional abuse or physical punishment will be tolerated. It is grounds for immediate dismissal. This includes teasing, threatening, making unkind comments, scaring, withholding food or drinks, slapping, pinching, restraining, intimidating a child, or any other form of abuse. If any allegations are made, the matter will be investigated.

You can use a variety of approaches to guide children's behavior. No one approach works for every child or every situation.

Positive guidance approaches include:

- Anticipate and plan ahead to prevent problems
- Look for reasons why a child is misbehaving
- Focus on the child's behavior, not the child's value as a person
- Help children understand the consequences of their behavior
- Explain the choices available
- Help children use problem-solving skills
- Help children from dwelling on mistakes
- Watch for signs of frustration or restlessness

In guiding their behavior, it is important to be clear, positive, and firm. Establish simple, but clear rules and limits for your classroom and enforce them consistently. Consistency helps children know what to expect and it helps establish boundaries that provide emotional security for children.

8.6 Conflict Resolution: Negotiating Life in a Community

Here at Little Oaks Hands-On Learning Center, LLC, we view conflicts as opportunities for supporting children's learning. During conflicts, children practice self-awareness and communication, they master the skills of negotiation and compromise, and they deepen friendships. As teachers, we choose from a range of roles when conflicts arise. We may choose to act as a coach, helping children find appropriate language for talking about a problem, or we may choose the more subtle role of facilitator during a conflict. We may simply listen to children talk about a problem, mirroring their understanding and ideas back to them, or we may offer gentle suggestions for approaches to a problem. Our priority is always to nurture children's self-awareness and communication.

Rather than establishing a list of rules, we prefer to state very clearly the underlying principles that guide our way of acting in the classroom and then approach each new situation from that starting point.

Our most basic expectations are:

- Safety for everyone—we need to protect our own and each other's bodies and feelings by being gentle, calm, and careful;
- Respect for everyone—we seek to use words and actions that demonstrate kindness and caring for one another;
- Responsibility for our actions—each person in the classroom monitors and controls her or his own body and language;
- Appropriate use of materials—supplies are used for their intended purpose, or in creative ways that don't damage them.

Usually, any behavior or situation which seems like a problem has probably reached the threshold of one of these basic agreements. If we see a child doing something unsafe, disrespectful, irresponsible, or inappropriate, we will remind them of our expectations and encourage them to resolve the problem in appropriate ways, offering our support.

We strive to work out interpersonal conflicts and issues verbally, first identifying the problem and then generating possible solutions until we find one that everyone involved can agree on. This form of conflict resolution, often called “social problem-solving,” is more respectful of children’s processes than a teacher-dictated solution, and builds social and cognitive skills, as well.

Often, in the course of a year together, certain situations arise often enough that a shared “agreement” becomes standard policy for the whole class. Some of these common-sense agreements may carry over from year to year or from room to room, but they are always based on the basic principles of safety, respect, and responsibility.

Sometimes, when a problem emerges, direct intervention from an adult is needed. We will usually remind a child about the classroom agreements, explain and follow through on the logical consequences of their actions, invite them to make more appropriate choices, and describe a contingency plan if inappropriate behavior continues. We may ask a child to meet with a teacher in the hallway, away from the distractions of the play area, for these sorts of conversations. In some cases, when the safety or comfort of the group is being compromised, we may take a child out of the room and sit with them there for a few minutes while they calm down and order is restored.

Our goals are to foster in children competence in negotiating and resolving problems that they encounter and awareness of themselves as able, caring people, well-loved and respected by the adults around them.

8.7 Parent/Guardian Communication

Communication between parents/guardians and teachers is vital for us to provide the best possible care for the children. Parents/guardians feel more confident in us when we periodically share with them what is going on at the preschool.

This includes:

- Using Brightwheel to communicate daily with families
- Infants and toddlers will share the most info regarding diapers, bottles, etc.
- Older classes should still share daily a little something about what the children were doing that day, and a photo(s)
- Sharing newsletters/lessons of what their children will be learning in their individual classrooms
- Communication, alerts, reminders, and announcements
- Notes to and from parents/guardians if anything needs to be shared about their child
- Notification of any injuries
- Assessments of children’s progress, routines, and interests to keep parents/guardians informed about their child’s development
- Periodic Progress Conferences

Conversations at pick-up and drop-off should be brief, but make sure to receive and distribute any pressing matter or important information; your chief responsibility remains the supervision of the children. If you feel a parent/guardian needs more time or attention, ask to schedule a time to meet when you are not in the classroom.

8.8 Assessing Children's Development: Observing, Recording & Assessments

Teachers and lead teachers will observe children in the program throughout the year by recording observations, anecdotes, checklists, and other methods. These observations will be included in the children's records.

Based on these ongoing observations, teachers and lead teachers will complete written progress reports for each child. The reports will be provided to the parents/guardians in November and again in March at the Periodic Progress Conferences. All reports must be completed and submitted to the Director two weeks before the Periodic Progress Conference dates. For children with special identified needs, progress reports will be completed and provided to parents/guardians in November, January, and March.

Teachers and lead teachers will conduct periodic progress conferences in November and March, and on an as-needed basis throughout the school year. The Director will be available for conferencing with parents/guardians on an as-needed basis. Periodic Progress conferences will be conducted during school hours. A parent/guardian-requested or teacher-requested conference will be conducted at a mutually agreed upon time between the parent/guardian and teacher(s) and the Director.

Concerns about a child's development will be brought to the Director's attention first. The concern will be discussed, noted, and placed in the child's file and, if necessary, a conference with the child's parents/guardians will be requested by the teacher or director.

8.9 Referral Services Policy

In the event that the program staff feels that an assessment for additional services would benefit the child, such as social, mental health, educational, and medical services, including but not limited to a dental check-up, vision or hearing screening, the teacher will bring this to the Director's attention, write a statement for the reason for the referral, a brief summary of the teacher's observations related to the referral. A conference will be requested with the parents/guardians and the teacher(s) and Director will attend. The written statement will be provided to the parents/guardians at the meeting and a copy will be placed in the child's file.

Note: Parents/guardians will not be told of a presumed issue or concern about development or need for services at pick-up or drop-off time. It is important to have dedicated time to discuss this with the parents/guardians.

We will offer assistance to the child's parents/guardians in making the referral and shall have written parental/guardian consent before any referral is made. Supportive services to the program, including consultation and educator training, may also be an option pursued. The Director shall maintain a written record of any referrals, including the parent/guardian conference and results.

8.10 Suspected Abuse or Neglect

Pennsylvania law requires certain persons to report known abuse or suspected child abuse. Mandated reporters include a licensee, an administrator, or an employee of a licensed community care or childcare facility. No supervisor or administrator may impede or inhibit an individual's reporting duties or subject the mandated reporter to any sanction for making the report.

Should a parent/guardian or staff member suspect abuse or neglect, these steps are the usual course of action:

1. Staff members are encouraged to discuss the suspected case with the director.
2. The Director will observe the child, talk with the child and further seek to determine if abuse or neglect may have occurred. These findings will be documented in the child's file.
3. The Director may talk with the child's parent(s)/guardian(s) about the concerns.
4. The staff and Director will determine the need to call the appropriate child abuse agency.
5. A social worker or representative of the agency may visit the child at the preschool or the child's home.

Section 9: Child Care Practices

9.1 Mealtime

Mealtimes go beyond meeting the nutritional needs of a child. It is also an opportunity to promote prosocial behavior (i.e., conversations, turn-taking, caring for one's space before and after meals, etc.) as teachers model conversation skills and caring for self.

Procedures:

- Prior to each meal, tables must be washed following the sanitizing procedure.
- All staff and children must wash hands before and after each meal, for at least 20 seconds.
- Sit with the children at the tables and supervise all mealtimes. You are welcome to eat your lunch as you sit with the children and model good table manners.
- Demonstrate pleasant mealtime conversation and teach manners through example as well as discussing them while using them.
- Encourage children to try all foods but do not make an issue out of it. Children should never be forced or bribed to eat.
- Children, in all but the infant groups, are responsible for clearing away their napkins and trash and for wiping up spills. You may need to demonstrate to the children and guide them through the steps of cleaning up for the first few times.

Important: We are NOT generally a nut-free school. If a child with a nut allergy becomes enrolled, we will make changes as needed; please be aware that staff and children are only allowed Soy Butter or Sunflower Butter as a substitute, if this occurs.

9.2 Naptime

Children differ in how much sleep they need, how soundly they sleep, and the regularity of their sleep pattern. These differences are due both to the age of the child, (as a child moves closer to two, morning naps are usually not needed) and to the variances in body types and metabolism.

Why do some children find it difficult to sleep?

- Some cannot be still - they might be practicing walking and want to do that every minute.
- The child may find it difficult to disengage from all the interesting things in this world.
- The child may see it as a type of separation from loved ones. If the child is fighting separation anxiety, he may also fight sleep.
- The child may be asserting his independence by refusing to nap.
- The child may be overstimulated or overtired and find it hard to wind down.
- The child may need more one-on-one time with an adult, and not napping is a way for the child to get it.
- The child may not be tired.

What can we do to help children get enough sleep?

- Create an environment that encourages sleep. Play soothing music. Turn the lights off. Limit talking.
- Separate the sleeping area from children who are awake.
- Have each child sleep in the same place each day. They will feel more secure and comforted by the routine.
- Bring a favorite blanket or “lovey” from home.
- Provide lots of outside time with fresh air and exercise.
- Watch for cues that tell you the child is tired so you can help them to sleep before they become overtired (rubbing eyes, a special “I am tired” cry, or fussiness).
- Stick to a routine at nap time each day, with special rituals that let the child know it’s time to settle down.

What to do if a child does not nap?

- Reflect on what might be happening, so you can appropriately respond.
- If the child is just not sleepy, try to help him relax by rubbing his back on top of his shirt, rocking, etc. If the child is still not sleepy, let him quietly look at books or do a puzzle.

Working with families around sleep issues

- Ask families how their child sleeps at home - what schedule they are on if they are allowed to sleep until they wake up on their own, and how the child is put to sleep (rocked, laid down in a crib, and allowed to fuss, allowed to sleep wherever they are, etc.)
- Share information each day about how the child slept last so that the next caregiver will be able to judge the child’s sleep needs.
- Work with the parent/guardian, if needed, to balance sleep times between the center and home.

Procedures

- Mats should be set up so there is the least amount of interaction between the children.
- Remind the children to use the bathroom before lying down.
- Teachers can help children get settled on their mats with their blankets. Position yourself to rub two backs at the same time. Rubbing children’s backs while they lie on their cots may help children relax.
- At rest time the environment should be made as conducive to rest as possible with shades pulled, lights out, and soft music playing.
- Do not converse with children at this time, just whisper that it is rest time now.
- The children should remain on their mats for the entire rest period. If children wake up early you may offer books for the children to look at during the last hour of nap time.
- During nap time, teachers are to stay awake, using their time to watch the children and keep awake children quiet. This is a great time to work on lesson plans and preparation, put up artwork, catch up on observations, and send or answer messages on brightwheel.
- Let each child wake up naturally. If you need to wake a child up, do so gently and with a soft voice. Age 1 and up should be up no later than 2:45 pm.
- At the end of each child’s care week, their nap mats need to be sent home for laundering. Make the Director aware of any extra nap mats, supplied by the center, that have been used so they can be laundered.

2.3 Diapering Routine

The diapering routine offers an opportunity for young children to closely connect with their caregivers one-on-one. This is a great time to respectfully engage the child by narrating each step of the diaper change routine.

Procedures

1. Gather any change of clothes needed. Make sure supplies are within reach.
2. Place the child on the changing table. Always keep a hand on the child.
3. If gloves are needed, put them on before continuing.
4. Remove and bag soiled clothes (if necessary) and put them out of reach of the child. Remove diaper. If the diaper contains solid waste, place in a plastic bag. Place diaper in a covered, lined, foot-operated can.
5. Cleanse the diapered area of the child with wipes or a wet paper towel and dispose of wipes in the can.
6. Remove gloves, if worn. Apply cream if requested by parents/guardians.
7. Re-diaper and clothe the child.
8. Wash your hands and the child's hands.
9. Spray pad with a bleach solution and wait more than 2 minutes before wiping with a disposable towel.
10. Record diaper change on daily sheet and Brightwheel. Note diaper rash or uncommon contents.

2.4 Toilet Training Guidelines

For children who are unable to use the toilet consistently:

- Staff check for signs that diapers or soiled underwear are wet or contain feces at least every 2 hours when children are awake, and when children awaken from their nap; diapers are changed when wet or soiled.
- Staff change children's diapers or soiled underwear in the designated changing area and not elsewhere in the preschool.
- All wet and soiled clothes will be bagged and sent home at the end of the day to be laundered.
- At all times, staff has a hand on the child when the child is being changed on an elevated surface;
- Surfaces used for changing and for placing changing materials are not used for other purposes, including temporary placement of other objects, and especially not for any object involved with food or feeding;
- Containers that hold soiled diapers and diapering materials have a lid that closes tightly and opens using a hands-free device (diaper genie). These containers are kept closed (except for receipt of soiled materials) and are not accessible to children;

For those children ready for toilet training:

1. Introduce the toilet area.
2. Assist the children with taking off and putting on clothes.
3. Teach children correct bathroom words.
4. Teach children to flush the toilet.
5. Assist with washing hands with soap and water.

* Staff will never leave a child unattended while using the toilet and no child will be forced to sit on or use the toilet.*

Section 10: Health and Safety Practices and Policies

10.1 Daily Health Screenings

Employees are trained to do daily health screenings along with a record of the teachers' concerns. The daily screenings include the following:

- Changes in usual behavior or appearance;
- Taking the child's temperature with a thermometer, if there are changes in the child's behavior or appearance,
- Skin rashes, itchy skin, or lice/nits (during a lice outbreak);
- Complaints of pain or not feeling well;
- Other signs or symptoms of illness (including drainage from eyes, vomiting, and diarrhea); and
- Reported illness or injury to the child since the last day of attendance.

10.2 Handwashing

All employees, children, parents/guardians, and volunteers must wash their hands frequently while at the center. Germs grow in warm, moist places, especially on palms, between fingers, and under nails. Hand washing is the single most effective method of reducing illness and the spread of germs. Children should be instructed and assisted to wash their hands as well.

It is recommended to wash hands when:

- Arriving at the center
- Food preparation, assistance, or consumption occurs
- Diaper changing or assisting with toileting
- Removing disposable gloves
- Water play occurs
- Setting out sheets and blankets for naptime
- Moving from one classroom to another
- Mealtime occurs
- Personal toileting occurs
- Contact with body fluids occurs (wiping/blowing noses, coughing on hand, vomit, etc.)
- Administering medication
- Handling any garbage
- Cleaning
- Leaving the center

10.3 Handling Food

All employees are responsible for checking for food allergies and religious dietary needs and serving the proper food accordingly. Use spoons, tongs, gloves, or napkins when handling food. Do not use your bare hands. Food returned from individual plates will be discarded. For safety reasons, all children must sit on their bottoms in chairs during mealtimes.

No one with signs of illness including but not limited to vomiting, diarrhea, and open infectious skin sores, or who is known to be infected with bacteria or viruses that can be transferred to food, will be allowed to handle food during that time.

10.4 Sick Child Procedures

If a child is not feeling well, it is in the best interest of the child to stay home.

Children should be picked up if they:

- Have a fever of 100.4 degrees or greater
- More than one bout of diarrhea
- Vomiting
- Communicable diseases- measles, chickenpox, strep throat, etc.
- Chronic and excessive runny nose (unless caused by allergies, teething, or as explained by a doctor's note.)
- Constant cough
- Pink eye
- Rash- other than normal diaper rash

If a child has any of these symptoms, take the child to the Director to discuss the situation. The parent/guardian will be called. The child can stay in the office on a mat until the parent/guardian arrives.

Some children may have none of the above symptoms but evidently do not feel well. It is appropriate to call or message the parent/guardian on Brightwheel to inform them that the child appears to not be themselves and give the parent/guardian the option to pick up the child. You can tell the parents/guardians the child appears to be getting sick and that you will let them know if they get worse.

10.5 Administering Medication Procedures

If a child requires medication to be dispensed during the school day, the following guidelines should be followed:

- Parents/guardians are to fill out a Medication Authorization Form.
- As long as the medication has been prescribed by a doctor, and is in the original pharmacy container, labeled with the child's name and the doctor's name, phone, and directions, we do not require a doctor's signature.
- If the medication is over-the-counter, we will require a doctor to fill out the medication form, including dosages and times.
- Medications will not be administered contrary to the directions on the original medication container.
- Bring the medication and form to the office. The Director or Assistant Director will log the medication and put it in the office or the refrigerator.

- Medications will be stored in a locked box or a high cabinet when in use at the preschool. The Medication Authorization Form must remain with the medication at all times.
- The teacher or Director will dispense the medication when required, and record the time given on the Medication Authorization Form.
- Long-term medications needed for emergency care, such as Epi-Pens or inhalers, will be kept in the emergency backpack in the child's room. A copy of the medication form will be kept there as well.

10.6 Accident Procedures and Incident Reports

Children are active and busy, so scrapes, bumps, and cuts are not unusual. In case of accident or injury, take the following steps:

1. Log an "Incident" through brightwheel.
2. Fill out an injury report form (kept in the small locked cabinet in the office). All injury report forms must include the following information:
 - Name, gender, and age of the injured person;
 - Description of the injury;
 - Date and time of injury;
 - Location where the injury took place;
 - Body part(s) involved;
 - Name of the staff member responsible for supervising the child at the time of the injury;
 - Actions taken on behalf of the injured following the injury;
 - Name of the person who completed the report and signature;
 - Name of parent/guardian notified (if applicable).

Special Consideration for Head Injuries:

- Any injury to the head should be reported to the parents/guardians immediately.
- Watch for raised areas on the head.
- Check the child's behavior, watching for disorientation.
- Pay special attention to the mouth area, checking for loose teeth and /or cuts inside the mouth. Put on a glove and very gently check the inside of the mouth for any injury.

If the parent/guardian has been informed and the decision is made to allow the child to remain at the preschool, monitor the child periodically during the rest of the day, watching for a possible concussion. A second call to the parent/guardian should be made if any further symptoms appear.

If medical attention is needed:

- Notify the Director or teacher in charge immediately.
- Contact the parents/guardians, if possible, so they can take the child to their physician.
- If parents/guardians cannot be contacted, and it is an emergency, call 911. Give the ambulance EMT the child's emergency card and the medical release form so that the doctor may give treatment.

10.7 Child's Safety: Indoors and Outdoor Spaces

Each classroom is responsible for daily inspection for any potential hazards in the classroom or on the playground.

Daily Inside:

1. Check to see that electrical outlets are covered with safety caps.
2. Toys are not damaged or broken.
3. Adult supplies are out of reach- scissors, staplers, etc.
4. Cleaning supplies are up high and out of reach.

Daily Outside:

1. Make sure sand is kept in its designated area.
2. Check the yard for any debris or unsafe objects.
3. Notice if any equipment is broken or needs repair.
4. Make sure there is adequate supervision on the playground.

10.8 Releasing a Child from the Center

All employees must be familiar with procedures for releasing a child to a person other than the parent/guardian. Children are to be released for pick-up only to parents/guardians, or persons designated on the child's Authorized Pick Up form. In the event that any other person is to pick up the child, a signed note from the parent/guardian must be sent and put in the front office. Parents/guardians are requested not to phone with this information. Parents/guardians are responsible for notifying the person who will pick up the child that they will be asked for identification before the child will be released to them. Employees are responsible for checking identification on any adult with whom they are not familiar and who is picking up a child from the center. The name and address on the license must match that of the one on the Authorized Pick Up form or signed note.

If you ever feel like any child is in danger, for example, an intoxicated parent/guardian, notify the Director immediately. Delay the parent's/guardian's departure until you feel it is safe to release the child. If you feel endangered, release the child and then call another parent/guardian or person on the emergency contact list, or the local police department.

What to do if a child is not picked up by closing:

- If a parent/guardian calls and will be more than 15 minutes past closing, ask the parent/guardian to suggest someone else who can pick up the child.
- If you cannot reach a parent/guardian 15 minutes after closing, call down the list of emergency contacts authorized to pick up.
- If the child is still here 30 minutes past closing, and you have not reached anyone, call a supervisor for further instructions.
- Notify the director as soon as closing time occurs, as parents/guardians will be subject to late fees.

10.9 Workplace Safety

Little Oaks Hands-On Learning Center values the safety of our employees and our children. Each employee is expected to obey safety rules and exercise caution and common sense in all work activities. Employees are required to report any unsafe conditions to their supervisor. Additionally, your compliance with the following rules is mandatory:

- Employees must report immediately any accident that results in injury, no matter how insignificant the injury may seem
- Be sure you know the emergency numbers (posted in teacher area, parallel to the office)
- Know the location of fire exits, first aid kits, fire extinguishers, gas shut off valves, and any MSDS (material safety data sheets)
- When performing duties, you must take care to protect your safety, as well as that of your co-workers, students, and public
- Clean up all spills immediately
- Jumping from elevated areas is not permitted
- Lift heavy materials with assistance from a colleague

Keep your work environment clean. This includes the following:

- Keep floors dry and free of trip hazards
- Passageways to exit doors and through classrooms should remain open and not be blocked
- Desks and cabinet drawers/doors should be kept closed when not in use
- Clean up after yourself in all common areas, bathrooms, kitchen, and classrooms
- Know your responsibilities in an emergency.

10.10 Universal Precautions

Universal precautions are the term for infection control measures all health care workers and childcare providers should follow to protect themselves from infectious diseases.

Staff will adopt universal precautions when exposed to blood and blood-containing fluids and injury discharges of all children.

- All persons exposed to blood or blood-containing body fluids and tissue discharges will wash their hands immediately with soap and warm water.
- Single-use disposable gloves will be worn if there is contact with blood-containing body fluids or tissue discharges.
- Hands will be washed with soap and water after the removal of gloves.
- Gloves will be discarded in plastic bags.
- For spills of vomit, urine, feces, blood, or other bodily fluids, staff will clean and disinfect the area including floors, walls, toilets, tabletops, toys, or other areas.

All staff must wear latex gloves when changing diapers or when they may come into contact with body fluids such as blood, vomit, urine, fecal matter, wiping noses, etc.

Hands (staff and children) must always be washed after each task that may obtain germs (regardless of if the staff has worn gloves):

- after each diaper change
- after cleaning a child's nose
- after you have assisted a child with going to the bathroom
- after coming in from outside before handling food or snacks

10.11 Reducing Back Injuries

Back injuries are the most common cause of occupational injury for a childcare teacher. All employees need to be able to lift and carry 40 lbs.

How can staff prevent back injuries?

- Proper lifting techniques such as, but are not limited to, bending at knees, using legs to do the lifting and bare weight, and avoiding twisting when lifting up or setting down.
- Adult height changing tables and sinks.
- Bring changing pads to the ground instead of lifting children.
- Using strollers to transport children for long distances.
- Glider rockers with back support for holding children for extended periods of time.

Section 11: Classroom Maintenance and Procedures

11.1 Opening Procedures for Rooms

- Turn on the lights for the classrooms and café
- Put personal items up/away from kids' reach
- Take chairs down off of the tables
- Check & Prepare bleach solution for all classes
- Return any toys that were left to dry after cleaning
- Pick out students' morning activities
- Review lesson plans
- Prepare what you need for the day
- Confirm that families have checked-in their child(ren) at drop off

11.2 Daily Cleaning Procedures for Rooms

- Clean up and put away material that you used- art material, books, etc.
- Put away snack supplies
- Wash and put away everything you used before you leave for the day
- Clean the eating area, tables, and chairs after each meal or art project
- Sweep the floor under the tables after lunch and snack time
- Keep an eye on the bathrooms and tidy up throughout the day
- Oversee attendance in brightwheel
- During the day, do small cleaning, dusting, and straightening up as time allows
- Clean up outside activities and sweep as needed
- End of care week- Help children get sheets and blankets ready to go home for washing
- Wipe down counters and sink areas before you leave for the day
- Remove any debris from the sink strainer
- Toys mouthed or otherwise contaminated by children are placed in the toy washing container immediately after the child is finished with the toy
- Spray down all mouthed toys with bleach solution and leave out to dry
- All garbage and recycling needs to be taken out daily to the dumpsters at the end of the parking lot; when the number of children is low enough, one teacher at a time can take the garbage out

- Sanitize tables:
 - To remove soil, spray the table (or highchair tray) with a soap-water solution and wipe dry with a disposable paper towel.
 - To sanitize the eating surface, spray the table /tray with the bleach-water solution and wait at least 2 minutes before wiping with a disposable towel or air dry, in order to allow the solution to kill germs. The surface cannot be sprayed and immediately wiped.
 - Sponges should not be used for sanitizing tables because they soak bacteria away from the surface of the sponge, which then cannot be easily reached in the interior of the sponge by the sanitizing agent.
 - If highchair trays are used as eating surfaces, the trays should be washed and sanitized in the same way as plates and other food service utensils.
 - In case different children rotate through snacks, each place must be cleaned and sanitized between use by different children. Sanitizing solution should not be sprayed while children are seated at the table.

11.3 Closing Procedures for Rooms

As soon as the number of children is low enough, the toddler room may closed-out and the rooms can be combined.

- Put chairs up on the tables with seats resting on the tables
- Leave the classroom organized and clean for the next teacher
- Turn off the lights in all of the classrooms when the last child has left
- At closing, if any children are still here, begin calling parents/guardians to come to pick up their child
- Check that the door is locked when leaving

Section 12: Emergency Procedures

Always refer to the Little Oaks Hands-On Learning Center, LLC Emergency Plan, all procedures listed here are summarized and may be changed over time. The Emergency Plan is updated annually and should be referenced before all other emergency plans/procedures.*

12.1 Earthquake

1. Tell children to “Duck, Cover, and Hold On.”
2. Make a quick assessment of the situation – if there is damage to the building, evacuate immediately.
3. Make a quick assessment of the children and/or injuries. If the situation calls for immediate evacuation, help the children leave the classroom and building immediately. Take the safest route out of the building.
4. In the absence of an immediate critical need to evacuate, check for injuries, and initiate first aid for severe injuries if needed. Reassure the children and wait for further instructions.
5. If evacuation is necessary, teachers must take the red emergency folder and backpack with them.
6. Take roll on the emergency sheet found in the backpack. The roll will be taken to the Command Center.
7. Teachers that have Emergency Assignments, move to their assignments.
8. Help the children stay calm by engaging them in songs, stories, etc.
9. Parents/guardians will be directed to the location for pick up to sign their child out. Runners will be sent to accompany the child to the release gate once a parent/guardian or approved person has been processed and allowed to take the child.
10. Staff members should be prepared to stay on campus until all students are picked up unless they are released by the Command Center.

Duck, Cover, and Hold

When the ground begins shaking, a loud explosion is heard/felt, or a duck, cover, & hold drill begins, everyone — students, staff, and all others present — take the following protective actions:

Indoors:

- Duck: Take cover under a nearby desk or table, positioning as much of the body as possible under cover.
- Cover eyes by leaning the face against the arm.
- Hold on to the table legs or side of the desk. Remain in position until the ground stops shaking, objects stop falling, or the teacher indicates that this phase of the drill has ended.
- If there are no tables or chairs nearby (or not enough): Duck, cover, hold: take cover by dropping to the floor, against an interior wall, if possible. Select the closest safe place: between tables or against a wall. The “drop” position is preferred: on the floor, on the knees, leaning over to rest on the elbows, hands clasped behind the neck, face down for protection.

Outdoors:

- Duck, cover, hold: Move away from buildings, power lines, block walls, and other items, which might fall. Take the “drop” position or sit down.
- Remain in position until the ground stops shaking or the teacher indicates that this phase of the drill has ended.

Situation assessment:

- The teacher or supervising adult makes a quick assessment of the situation. Any of the following require immediate evacuation: fire, damage to structure, hazardous materials spill.
- Teacher makes a quick assessment of injuries to students. Unless the situation calls for immediate evacuation, the teacher uses first aid for critical injuries.
- Teacher checks with buddy teacher. It may be necessary to assist or evacuate the buddy teacher's class.
- In most cases, the teacher will wait until composure has been reached and an evacuation signal has been received before directing the class to evacuate.

Aftershocks:

- Students and staff duck, cover, & hold.
- Teacher/staff repeat situation assessment procedures detailed above.

12.2 Fire

- If the fire alarm sounds, take your students outside immediately and go to the designated safe spot in the playard.
- In case of fire, the Director will call 911.
- Take roll and let the Director know if any children are missing.
- Parents/guardians will be contacted, and children will be released to a parent/guardian or approved person following appropriate emergency procedures.
- Staff members should be prepared to stay with their class until all students are picked up.

12.3 Hazardous Materials Release - Shelter-in-Place

When?

- Unusual odor or sound (explosion, etc.)
- Visible smoke, vapor cloud, or fire
- Skin or eye irritation
- Breathing difficulty

When in doubt, Shelter-in-Place and contact School Office. If you do not reach School Office, call 911.

What?

- Get everyone inside immediately
- Close doors, windows, or other openings to outside air
- Turn off air conditioning/heat
- Seal windows and doors with duct tape
- Close curtains
- Place towels or blankets at bottom of doors

- If the seal is not good, wet towels and place over the mouth and nose, particularly those with asthma
- Take roll
- Do not allow anyone to leave the classroom
- Wait for further instructions
- Do not evacuate until “all clear” is given, or emergency personnel instructs to do so
- When you evacuate the room, open all windows and doors to air out the room.

12.4 Modified Shelter-in-Place

When?

- Smog alert
- Gunfire
- Severe storm
- Police activity

What?

- Get everyone inside
- Close and lock doors and windows
- “Hit the deck” (lie flat on the floor) if gunfire
- Stay away from windows; close curtains if available

Note: Use your common sense- all situations are different.

12.5 Gunfire—Modified Shelter-in-Place

When gunfire is heard nearby, (the sound is very loud), the teacher or staff member shouts to “hit the deck.” This means lying flat on the floor.

- Use emergency locks to lock your doors.
- Initiate Modified Shelter in Place.
- If outdoors, as soon as it appears safe for people to move and come inside.

12.6 Bomb Threat

The person receiving the threat should keep the caller on the line as long as possible to obtain information that will help the police. This would include:

- Exact time of the call
- Voice characteristics of the caller
- Approximate age: boy, girl, man, woman
- Background noises: music, traffic, laughter, etc.
- Where the bomb is located
- What time it is supposed to explode

Procedures

1. Immediately after contact with the caller has ended, the person receiving the call should notify the Director or designee, who will call 911.
2. Evacuate any section of the school deemed unsafe.
3. Wait for the police to assist in a search.
4. School personnel should assist with searches

Section 13: Volunteers /Student Teachers

Parents/guardians and student interns can be a wonderful experience in the classroom. However, a person cannot volunteer in the classroom (even if only for an hour) unless they have completed the paperwork required by the state licensing division. Please direct any individuals wanting to volunteer within the classroom to the Director.

Once approved, the Director will conduct an orientation with the volunteer to let them know of their responsibilities and our classroom procedures (including, but not limited to daily schedule, emergency procedures, and child guidance policies).

On their volunteer day, each volunteer must list their name and the time they arrive and leave on the attendance sheet. Volunteers will be under the direct supervision of a qualified staff member at all times. The volunteer will not be alone with a child at any time in accordance with state regulations and should defer child guidance/discipline concerns to the supervising educator.
