

Challenge: What does it mean to be a genius?

For this challenge, you will think about the different components of "being a genius" ... and you can get started by looking at this wonderful cartoon from Grant Snider: Genius is and reading the information at that blog post.

Your List. Then, take a few minutes to think about the components of genius as you understand it. What do you think the components of genius would be? And what percentages would you assign to them?

Your Graphic. Then, you can make your list into a graphic using a quote generator like Canva, AutoMotivator, etc. (use any design service you like best). If you feel ambitious, you might even try making an infographic of your own. There is Canva-Infographics, Piktochart, and more. Just Google quotemaker or infographics maker if you want to explore the many options!

Your blog post. To finish, publish your list together with your graphic in a blog post!

A COMIC FOR RED LEMON CLUB BY GRANT SNIDER