

Team 3 Reflection

Good

As a team, we were great at getting work done. The organization within our team was phenomenal considering that the project is fully virtual. The use of the scrum board and retrotool was extremely helpful with visualizing our tasks. How open we were to each other's ideas, suggestions, and feedback. Also, not being afraid to give each other feedback. No one was afraid to ask questions amongst each other or suggest things that would make their presentable better. We all expanded on our thoughts that weren't so clear. Everyone gave their best in each of their tasks as well.

What Could Have Been Better

As a team, sticking to our designated department could have been better. At times what we were supposed to do in our departments overlapped with others but it wasn't a big deal. Also, letting others speak one at a time. There were a handful of instances where people talked over another, and one person ended up not being able to speak. There were times where
