

Name: María Teresa Flynn

Gender: Female

Age: 10

CV: Tara Strong

Nicknames: Tessie, Firecracker (PJ, Ferb, and Ashleigh)

Parents: Phineas and Isabella Flynn

Fun Facts: Tessie is of course Phineas's favorite child (alongside PJ), while Violet is Isabella's. They often fight sometimes for his undivided attention, with Violet oftentimes being the peacemaker around the house.

Tessie is the younger twin to Violet, and the overall youngest of Phineas Flynn's three children. She pretty much is a social butterfly, very sweet and sharing much of her father's optimistic spirit, always looking at the face of disaster with a smile on her face. Not only that, but she also inherited her father's imagination and love for inventing. There's not a day that goes by without her thinking up some Big Idea to occupy her time, and often she drags her sister and cousin to help her around with turning these ideas into reality.

One thing that does work against her though, is her impulsiveness, hyperactivity, and oftentimes her naïveté. Being sheltered by a mother who can be slightly overprotective has made her a tad impulsive when it comes to making mistakes (with often humorous/disastrous results), and her curiosity often leads her (and sometimes Violet, to her dismay) to her father's workshop, even when she's not allowed to. Not to mention, her obliviousness (coupled with the fact that her easygoing nature makes her one of the most popular girls in school) often leads her to hang around with some "questionable" picks (though it's more from her lack of understanding the word "no" and her mindset that everyone has some good no matter what).

Despite this, she dotes on her twin sister, and will do anything to help her. In fact, quite possibly the only way to immediately wind yourself on the list of people she comes to despise (a list that's vanishingly small, by the way) is to insult and belittle Violet.

Name: Violet Amanda Flynn

Gender: Female

Age: 10

CV: Kari Wahlgren

Nicknames: Vi, Lil' Rose (Phineas), Glasses (PJ)

Parents: Phineas and Isabella Flynn

Fun Facts: Violet is the only person in the Flynn-Fletcher family on the autism spectrum (something which she feels more burdened by, due to her difficulties with social interaction contributing to her lack of friends). She's also the only one Perry will willingly cuddle up with on the couch.

Violet is the elder twin to Tessie, and they couldn't be more apart. While Tessie is more outgoing, optimistic, and an all-around social butterfly, Violet is pretty much a virtual wallflower, a pessimistic, perpetually shy, introverted, and insecure girl who is sometimes on the verge of a nervous breakdown. Basically, she inherited more than her mother's good looks - namely, the more withdrawn parts of her personality. It is of course due to this that Violet is a virtual outcast, with very few friends outside of her family (and especially Tessie, who often drags Violet into her misadventures). But deep down, she is perhaps the kindest girl you would ever meet, with a big heart to boot.

When she's not getting caught up in one of Tessie's Big Ideas, Violet is more often found drawing manga in her many sketchbooks. It is one of her greatest passions, introduced by her mother as a way to calm her down, and she takes pride in the characters she created (especially "Magical Fighter Violetta*", a magical girl who resembles Violet and whom she patterned on her own life). Due to this, she's also pretty much a nerd when it comes to Japanese manga/animé (mostly magical girl-related), and she'll even cosplay as some of them herself (to Tessie and Ashleigh's amusement).

*魔法戦士ヴァイオレッタ

Name: Ashleigh Fletcher

Gender: Female

Age: 11

CV: Jessica DiCicco

Nicknames: Ash, Cabbage Head (PJ), Lee (Melodie), Wiz (Tessie), the Queen of Knowledge (Isabella and most of Ashleigh and Mitzi's class)

Parents: Ferb and Amanda Fletcher

Fun Facts: Ashleigh never gets by without her trusty clipboard (which she calls "Clippy"), which she always carries with her and uses to organize her life around. To her, it is practically her life, and she freaks out when it's not around (often going into great lengths just to search for it)

If Tessie is the brainstorming inventor and Vi the socially-withdrawn artist, Ashleigh is basically the voice of reason for the whole trio. A smart "by the book" girl whose intelligence is unmatched by people within her grade (or the entire school for that matter), she is practically the whole class's go-to gal when it comes to their homework (though more often, she hangs around her fellow cousins). As the voice of reason to the Summer Vacation gang, she is rather independent and often will speak her mind when some of Tessie's Big Ideas seem a bit... unreasonable.

Of the trio, Ashleigh comes off as calm and analytical, taking great pride in her organizational skills (like putting everything on a checklist because she likes to control the situation) and her ability to strategize and come up with solutions to whatever problem she faces. However, these often lead her to become an unstable control freak at times, coming off as forceful and/or downright scary when things often don't go the way she planned or sees something that violates her sensibilities (i.e. other people's laziness or lack of concern). Despite this, she can bring herself back to being calm and rational in the end.

Name: Phineas Benjamin Flynn Jr.

Gender: Male

Age: 13

CV: Greg Cipes

Nicknames: PJ, Junior (Ferb), Champ (Phineas)

Parents: Phineas and Isabella Flynn

Fun Facts: Whereas Isabella and Amanda were the only girls in an otherwise-boy's club, PJ is practically the only boy in a group of girls.

PJ is the first of the Flynn-Fletcher children, and is pretty much a gigantic sports freak. Any sport conceivable, he knows from the back of his mind (lacrosse and soccer are his favorites). This of course, has also made him extremely competitive to boot, making PJ a formidable player on every team he plays for, especially his school's soccer team. Although he didn't inherit much of his father's intelligence (at least when it comes to non-sports-related topics), he has practically made up for it with his sheer athleticism.

However, as much as PJ loves the lacrosse field and soccer pitch, he especially loves his family (and especially his younger twins) a lot more, even if he doesn't participate in Tessie's Big Ideas (or share an interest in inventing) preferring to watch his sister build things. And while he does seem proud and boastful at times (especially of his many accomplishments), his heart is generally in the right place (despite coming off as chill and aloof to most of his friends), and he would especially try to help a friend - or sibling - in need be.

Name: Melodie Isabella Fletcher

Gender: Female

Age: 4

CV: Grey Griffin

Nicknames: Mel, Gummybear (Ferb)

Parents: Ferb and Amanda Fletcher

Fun Facts: Melodie really does love animals, whether it's the creatures of the petting zoo or the squirrels that hang out in the backyard. Aside from the family's pet chameleon (Steve Jr.), she has a hamster named Henry (who happens to be an OWCA agent) and a flying squirrel named Doc (who isn't).

Of all of Phineas and Ferb's progeny, Melodie is perhaps the least energetic of the bunch, not one to mind when she get left out from whatever fun the others have. That isn't necessarily to say that she doesn't join at all however, mostly following her older sister around. Her calm disposition of course, makes her a favorite among her grandparents (especially her Grandma Vivian [1] and Grandpa Lawrence). Of course, she does notice the fact that her father doesn't speak much and will do anything and everything to get him to talk (or shout in dismay).

She is the kind of sister that looks up to Ashleigh, who would sometimes take her around to whatever she's doing at the moment, and she loves to be held up high by Ferb due to his height.

Any fear or phobia has yet to be discovered by her, though she does have nightmares from time to time and she'll cuddle around her teddy bear [2] or occasionally sleep with Ashleigh.

[1] Amanda of course, never told Melodie about her birth parents and her home life before Isabella and the García-Shapiros adopted her, thinking it would be too sad and depressing for her to digest. Of course, she (along with Isabella) eventually told Ashleigh and Violet when they found out on their own though, with Amanda ultimately deciding to just share the same fact to Melodie when she gets older.

[2] Melodie was given Amanda's prized teddy bear, who in turn, got it from her deceased birth grandmother (i.e. Melodie's birth great-grandmother).

Name: Jasmine Tjinder

Gender: Female

Age: 10

CV: Karen Fukuhara

Nicknames: Jazz, Jazzie (Mitzi and Ginger), Lil' Ninja (Tessie and PJ)

Parents: Baljeet and Ginger Tjinder

Fun Facts: Jasmine is extremely good at keeping secrets, a fact which practically makes her the gang's unofficial secret-keeper, able to keep some of the Flynn-Fletcher girls' deepest secrets (like Ashleigh's secret crush, which even the twins don't know). She's also a big eater to keep up with her massive energy (her favorite foods are chicken nuggets and cheesecake)

Jasmine is the youngest of Baljeet and Ginger's three children (they were the first in the gang to jump to the train of parenthood*) and is by far the most headstrong and adventurous of the bunch, let alone the Summer Vacation Gang. Music is by far, her forte (especially new-age rock), and she sometimes likes to practice her electric violin whenever she can. She's just as passionate of course when it comes to martial arts, being an expert black-belt judoka (something which she also takes pride of). That, alongside the fact that she's the most physical of the whole gang (aside from PJ), means she's basically the muscles of the Summer Vacation Gang.

Like Ashleigh and her sister Mitzi, Jasmine is extremely independent, not afraid to speak her mind on almost anything (and being blunt when doing so). However, she is also a tad light-hearted as well, cracking some incredibly corny jokes that her father sometimes tells to her (which no one, not least her sister seems to get).

*their 16-old son Jay is a university student at Tri-State State (one of the youngest to graduate), where Baljeet teaches as a math professor.

Name: Mitsuki Tjinder

Gender: Female

Age: 11

CV: Brenda Song

Nicknames: Mitzi, Mitts (Ashleigh, Jasmine, and Tessie), Mittens (Ashleigh), the Princess of Knowledge (most of Ashleigh and Mitzi's class)

Parents: Baljeet and Ginger Tjinder

Fun Facts: In addition to magic, mythology is also one of Mitzi's interests. One of her prized possessions in fact, are a collection of books about Japanese and (East) Indian folktales that Baljeet gave to her on her birthday.

Of Baljeet and Ginger's two daughters, Mitzi is one who resembles her father and two older brothers: a straight-A student, highly studious (sometimes to the point of boring everyone surrounding her with pointless trivia), and even a polyglot [1] to boot. She can also be a tad literal-minded, with most jokes and sarcastic flings flying past her. When she's not getting involved in her many extracurricular activities, or hanging out with her friends (the Summer Vacation gang in particular), she's mostly found at the Danville public library feeding her curiosity and interest in magic and the supernatural, among other things.

One of her most defining aspects of course is her deep, intense rivalry with one Ashleigh Fletcher. As the two smartest, brightest, and most intelligent girls in the school (at the very least, their class), Ashleigh and Mitzi are deeply at odds with each other over who is the smartest of them all. It tends to get rather heated real fast, even when they're hanging with the Flynn twins, which often necessitates Violet and Jasmine to try and separate them both before it gets ugly. Despite this, they both try as much to get on Tessie's good side (she after all, doesn't like two of her best friends fighting each other).

[1] In addition to English (her mother tongue), she's fluent in Japanese, Latin, Greek, Old Norse, and Sanskrit, and is conversational in Akkadian, Pali, Syriac, and even Valyrian (High, Astapori, and Meereenese) and Dovahzul. Ironically though, Ashleigh could speak all of these (save Japanese), something which fuels their intense rivalry.

Name:

Gender: Female

Age:

CV:

Nicknames:

Parents:

Fun Facts: h

(description)

Name:

Gender: Female

Age:

CV:

Nicknames:

Parents:

Fun Facts: h

(description)

Name:

Gender: Female

Age:

CV:

Nicknames:

Parents:

Fun Facts: h

(description)