Raquelle attracts attention despite preferring not to interact with people who seem stranger than her. She occasionally dislikes this magnetism, but it provides her with useful contacts and the attention that she oh so craves. Even children are drawn to her because of her 'lovely' and 'friendly' aura, though she isn't particularly fond of them. Although Raquelle may appear disinterested or harsh, she expresses her care through tough love and friendship. She has boundless energy, which she channels into work, dancing, fabric studies, or enjoying someone's close presence. Her artistic talent drives her to challenge herself in fashion and tailoring, sometimes even branches into trying out other hobbies. Disliking unnecessary talk occasionally, she exudes a hidden 'I dare you' vibe, revealing her daring side when provoked.

Raquelle's upbringing made her stubborn to achieve her goals. She keeps much about herself secret, revealing only practiced responses or what people want to hear. To alleviate boredom, which is all the time, she flirts either subtly or very explicitly, fully enjoying the reactions, brownie points if they manage to please her back. Raquelle is a hardworking woman, often losing sleep to complete her orders or her passion projects, but when she can she tries to look after herself as much as she can forcefully spoiling herself with things that she likes. She values her time and money and works hard to earn it.

Raquelle speaks her mind without a filter and does as she pleases, bluntly sharing her opinions even with kids. She aims to have as much of a spotlight on herself as she can possibly get, which is only more enabled by her own neediness for attention. Despite being good at hiding her greed by acting aloof, all she wants is to either have as many people as she can get being devoted to her or have that one and only, a simp basically. Her initial desire for financial stability has grown into a love of money for its own sake, rarely spending it on others unless she deeply trusts them. The same comes to love and attention., but unlike money, she loves to take and receive as much as she can.

🔒 She hides all of her unnecessary emotions deep deep inside her heart and prefers to be alone, not depending from or on no one. But occasionally, she cannot handle all of her problems that life loves to give to her, as well as her overwhelming emotions that she's either unaware of, or forces herself to hide them coming out, which leads to her have emotional breakdowns, which she'd prefer to have in private and not being seen by anyone. Behind all of that confidence, elegance and boldness, hides a lot of insecurities. Mostly about how she looks or acts, mostly it comes from her being different from others. But despite all of those, Raquelle is extremely loyal to those who earn her trust and are there just for her, wanting nothing in return. She will sacrifice herself in order to protect those who are important to her, heck she'll even help with either hiding a body or bail them out.

...History...

"Do not trust your heart to anyone... or else you'll get hurt my little bella."

They were Raquelle's mothers last words that she can recall as she saw how her mother had been taken away by what looked like fishermen, one of them looked closely similar to her own father?.... and skinned her alive.. her scales.. her tail.. even her body parts were used in the most grotesque ways possible. Raquelle saw all of it as she was hiding inside one of the bushes that her and her mother created as a hiding spot.

Raquelle was only 150 or some years old by then, just a kid according to Sirens lifespan.

She and her mother were living in a secluded forest that had a lake surrounding their little land. Forests and even small waterfalls were near them, pure heaven. She wouldn't remember how they got to live in this lovely place, nor why she was not allowed to go outside their land initially. At first it did bother her for a while, but then with time she just stopped asking.

Until she and her mother began their hunting adventures ever since Raquelle felt her first ever bloodlust. That's when she was taught how to shapeshift more into a human being and how to lure mankind towards their demise.

After a couple of years blending in and learning about clothes and how they're created, Raquelle got inspired to learn more about them, so she spent most of her free time reading books and sewing things back at home, killing at night. Sure ironically she hated wearing clothes as there were too many layers on her body.. but making them, that's what excited the lady, especially seeing all these stunning shiny fabrics.... she just had to learn more! That's how her life had been until that dreadful night when her mother woke her up and forced her to hide in one of the hiding spots that they had built.... But Raquelle was on her own in it..

After seeing what happened to her mother..her life turned upside down as she was now all alone.. hiding, thankfully she was frozen in place only temporarily, before merging out of her hideout and running into their house to pack her essentials, especially her money, some documents and a couple of her family trinkets. Thus after saying goodbye to her home one last time, she leaves.

Raquelle spent this time wandering from place to place, staying in hotels or inns, traveling and working on her sewing side-gigs, never staying in the same place longer than a month.. Occasionally stumbling upon people that she either helped, befriended or just traveled with, but she felt alone.

That's when, as she was re-reading some of her mother's old letters and her diary, she only not stumbled upon a postcard that she had never seen before... Upon closer inspection, she finds out that it was left by her mother before she was killed, saying that there's a place out there where she will not need to be on a run all the time, feeling afraid that she'll end the same way as her mother did. The name of the place was called 'Grimm Falls'.

Understanding that she won't be able to keep up with such a hectic and unstable lifestyle, Raquelle decides to try out that place, after all, she doesn't have anything left to lose anyways. And with such initial mindset, the Siren's new life in a new location began.

*Who knows... maybe she'll finally settle down?.. and will not be alone anyone? Only time will tell.

Gifts:

Favorite Gifts: Wine (Red is best), Green Tea, Cloth or any type of fabric, Adult toys, Any type of gems.

My my~ Looks like someone did their research on how to please me~ Good job dear~

Now this is a fine selection of goods. I hope you don't expect anything in return. So thank you kindly~ <3

Disliked Gifts: Truffle Oil, Coffee, Any type of seeds, cigarettes.

I have nothing against any of these gifts of yours.. I just am not a fan of these.. But I will still appreciate these- I will try at least...

 Special Gifts: Pearls or Pearl Jewelry.

....Ah..... apologies....My mother passed down her pearl necklace to me.. But it was taken from me.. So I got unintentionally sentimental. I appreciate this..

Loved Gifts: All types of flowers (brownie points if they are Clematis), Goats Cheese, Banana Pudding, Ice Cream.

I am certainly a foodie, so I will surely enjoy these~

If you give her flowers: So pretty, delicate and have a lot of meaning. sighs tiredly ...Despite their short life span, I.. certainly appreciate them a lot, keeps me sane as I am in this own solitude of mine. Don't get used to seeing me so.... emotional, it exhausts me. But.. Thank you.

Hated Gifts: Dirt, Clay, Coal, All Trash, Anything bug and roach related, mustard.

looks at you, calmly... silently. ...I do desire we may be better strangers. Atrocious.

Birthday Gifts: Red Velvet Cake, Fish.

!!.. Wipes down a tear that runs down her cheek.Y..you remembered my birthday?... Ah you managed to make this lady cry, rude.Don't you dare to tell this to anyone....

Abilities:

- ★ Longevity - Because of her siren heritage, Raquelle can live up to 400 or so years, which also allows her to possess ageless beauty and witty charm. Making her look mysterious, yet hypnotic.
- ★ Cold Immunity - Because of their genetics and where Raquelle and her mother lived, she has strong immunity to cold, therefore allowing her to wear anything without having a danger of getting sick.
- ★ Regeneration - As part of her Siren genetics, Raquelle's regeneration is much faster and stronger than any regular human. She can heal extremely quickly from non-fatal injuries within a short period. Heck, if she concentrates enough, she can regenerate a part of her body, only the top of her, not the tail. Because of such ability, Raquelle also has a huge tolerance with alcohol, so she cannot get drunk.
- ★ Claws and Fangs - She possesses very sharp claws and extremely sharp teeth, two layers when she's in her siren form or when she's mad.
- ★ Siren Song - Raquelle only partly mastered this ability of hers. She can use her voice to sing a melody to lure men or even women to do her bidding. 🔒 Once she'll master this ability entirely, Raquelle will be able to also shoot acid from her mouth, as well be able to sooth anyone who's wearing her song, for now she can only lure.

{More TBA as the time goes}

Extras:

- ❖ VC: Captain Amelia - Treasure Planet
- ❖ Her singing voices: Yuki no hitohira , Dua Lipa - Training Season , Fertile Rondo
 - ❖ Aesthetic/ vibe: Lana Del Rey - Once Upon a Dream
 - ❖ Theme Songs: Kesha - Joyride , Kailee Morgue - Siren
- ❖ Raquelle's scent is peaches, nectar and spice (mostly cinnamon). An example to that is her smelling like a fresh peach cobbler with a bunch of cinnamon in it, as well with some vanilla ice cream on the side + add scent of ocean.. as if you're enjoying the said cobbler while sitting outside and enjoying the ocean's view and the breeze.
- ❖ She is an okay cook, but she's a horrible baker. So for your own oven's safety do not let her near the oven without close supervision.
- ❖ Raquelle never screams, shouts or raises her voice when she's mad, instead she'll sound sweet as pie with a hint of cold elegance as she's lecturing you. An exception can happen when she's overly emotional.
- ❖ Always wears her monocle when she works, because she can't see that up close thanks to how many details she put in her outfits.
- ❖ She herself is not a fan of wearing clothes, so to look as decent as she can muster, she wears something that works more like lingerie than a normal set of clothes, but she doesn't care.
- ❖ Her actual hair is more of a water than normal human hair, you can even spot a fish or two swimming in there. Even when hair folds somehow or being grabbed by, you can see foam form around the spot.
- ❖ Loves making dresses and outfits, she views them as if they are her children, so attachment is real. Which just makes her super emotional when she sees her creation being damaged and ect.
- ❖ Any type of dirt, mud, sand anything, as well as bugs are to be kept away from Raquelle, because if any of them get on her clothes or on her-- she'll squeal and even cry, because to her this is just criminal and disgusting. Little drama queen <3
- ❖ Singing is what Raquelle loves to do in her spare time and when she's on her own, especially when she wants to disassociate from life and just don't think about anything.
 - ❖ Horrible at sports- somewhat okay at Volleyball and Dodgeball. That's all.
- ❖ Raquelle has a talent or is it a condition, to memorize and recall memories, stories, dates, ect. Mostly she uses this to recall her mother's death as if it happened yesterday, as well as list down all the fabrics, styles, patterns that are needed either to her seamstress job.
- ❖ She smokes. Not depending on it, but when wine doesn't help with distressing, Raquelle smokes cigarettes. If need be she can share.
- ❖ Besides the necessities that are in her carry-on, she has a pack or two of cigarettes and a hip flask filled with wine.
- ❖ This fish is rich. Don't ask how she accumulated her spoils besides doing tailoring side gigs. The less you know, the better you sleep ;)

About Me

Preferred Name: Saku

Or anything tbh--- I am used to being called random names XD

- ❖ I tend to forget to reply to things and leave people behind, so please poke me TnT.
- ❖ I am open to spontaneous rp's or HC's. So don't be afraid to slide into my DM's.
- ❖ Shipping is okay. But I prefer to see how well the characters are interacting with each other and if they have chemistry.
- ❖ Crackships and AU's are encouraged, because they are fun!
- ❖ NSFW stuff is okay with me. Either in HC's, Rp's or art.
- ❖ Angst?? Hell ye, but fluff is a bit more preferred than sad stuff :3
- ❖ If you are unsure if I am okay with certain things, feel free to ask me! I will do the same and respect any decision you make.
