AUTHOR GUIDELINES OF MOZAIK HUMANIORA

A. Submission Requirements and Guidelines

Editors receive article submissions with the following requirements:

1. The article has never been published by other media.
2. The article is about the study of humanities, literatures, linguistics, history, philosophy, philology and cultural studies.
3. Article is typed in Times New Roman font in 12 size, 1.0 line spacing, and A4 size with 2,5 cm left, right, upper and lower margins. The length of the article must be between 5000-7000 words, including images, graphics, tables, and references.
4. Titles, abstracts, and key words must be written both in Indonesian and English.
5. Article is written in Indonesian or English.
6. Article written in English can use British English or American English spelling and must be consistent throughout the article.
7. The article writing system is arranged in the following order:
 - a) Title: Comprehensive, clear and concise. The title is no more than 15 words. Article title, section title, and subsection title are bold. Capital letters are used to start each word in the title except the preposition;
 - b) Name and institution of the author: the name is written completely without a title. The institution's name is written under the author's name, along with the institution's full address, institution's telephone number, and the author's e-mail address;
 - c) Abstract: abstract is the core of the article, consisting of 150-250 words, and written in one paragraph; both articles written in Indonesian and English must provide abstracts in Indonesian and English;
 - d) Keywords: keywords are written under the abstract in a maximum of five words listed in alphabetical order. Key words must reflect the important concepts contained in the article;
 - e) Introduction (without subsection): introduction contains the contains the background of the problem, purpose, literature review, and the significance of the article (if any);
 - f) Methods;
 - g) Results and discussion: It is presented in subsections;
 - h) Referral or quotation: It is written using an author-date referencing system and recommended to include page numbers;
 - i) Pictures, graphics, and tables: They must be numbered, given a title and description, and quoted in the text. Referencing or quoting images, graphics, and tables must use numbering, not with the words "below", "as follows", or "the following".

Example: The structure of writing a headline in the Kompas daily economic rubric is presented in Table 4. For pictures and graphics, the number and title are placed below it. Meanwhile for the table, the number and title are placed on it. Images, graphics, and tables are processed data. Inclusion of tables or images that are too long (more than 1 page) should be avoided. Tables must be presented without vertical lines;

- j) Conclusion: It is not the summary or repetition of results;
- k) Acknowledgements: Personal acknowledgements are restricted to particular professional contributors to the paper whose assistance was of a technical, financial, or material kind. Appreciation for the overall assistance from the department chair can be recognized.
- l) References (not bibliography): It contains the literatures referred to in the article, written alphabetically and chronologically according to the author's name without including the title(s). All in-text citations must be mentioned in the references, and vice versa, the references must be cited in the body of the article.

If an author writes more than one article / book in the same year, behind the year both in the text and in the references are affixed with lowercase letters (a, b, and c). In the references, the author's first name can be written in full or abbreviated, for example Storey, John or Storey, J.

- 8. Article submission must be done through Open Journal System (OJS) at <https://e-journal.unair.ac.id/MOZAIK/>.
- 9. The author must be willing to make article revisions if they are needed. Notices regarding revisions request of the article will be notified through OJS by email notification to the author.
- 10. Articles that are accepted cannot be withdrawn.
- 11. Notices regarding acceptance of the article will be notified through OJS by email notification and in writing by Letter of Acceptance to the author.
- 12. The author with the accepted article by Mozaik Humaniora is free of article processing charge (IDR 0).
- 13. Language used in writing References follows the language of the article.
- 14. Authors are recommended to apply Reference Manager by Microsoft Words or use a reference management application (e.g. Mendeley, Endnote, Zotero, etc.) to write citation and references and choose the Turabian Style (author-date style).
