The conclusion presents the expected statements as stated in the "Introduction" and finally gets the results in "Results and Discussion", so that there is a match between them. In addition, the prospects for further research development as well as application prospects that can be continued based on the "results and discussion" can be added. Avoid numbering (bullet and numbering) at the conclusion. If it is really needed, the numbering must be done horizontally as follows: 1) Fill in number one. 2) Fill in number two. 3) Fill in number three. There are no sub-chapters in the conclusion.
