INTRODUCTION

The manuscripts is 4.500-7.000 words (maximum) including abstract and references. The introduction contains a brief description of the background of the problem to be researched accompanied by a gap between das solen (description of provisions, principles, principles, applicable legal doctrine) and das sein (description of empirical facts) and also contains a description of why the research what needs to be done (goals), and/or what is unique about this research compared to previous research (recent research results/state of the art) through descriptions of research studies compared to previous research studies published in Accredited National Journals and International Journals. The introduction ends with a brief description of the research contribution.

Written in Indonesian, English and Arabic, Garamond, font 12, justify, 1.5 spacing, writing sentences between paragraphs with no spaces (no before and after space). Uses the American Psychological Association 7th Edition citation style. For example (Khairuddin, 2021: 20) to reference single-author journal articles; (Suteki & Taufani, 2018: 34) for references to journal articles of two authors; (Benuf et al., 2019) for references to journal articles by more than two authors; (World Health Organization, 2020: 18) For book reference; (www.kompas.com, 2022) for website reference; (Muslim, Interview, 5 January 2022) for interview reference.

RESEARCH METHOD

The research method contains a description of the approach method, data collection techniques, research specifications, and data analysis methods used in the research. The research method is written descriptively. Garamond, font 12, justify 1.5 spacing, writing sentences between paragraphs with no spaces (no before and after space).

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Sub-Chapter 1 (First Results and Discussion)

The results of the research (scientific findings) and discussion are explained in a scientific, analytical, and critical descriptive manner. The description of the discussion is adjusted to the order of the problems which consist of sub-chapters with reference to the research objectives.

In the Subchapter, avoid using points, devotion, or numbering as follows:

- a.
- b.
- c.

It is better to write the following sentences as follows: a).; b)., and c). etc. The results and discussion are written in essay form, so there is no numeric or alphabetic format to separate chapters/sections or to mark new chapters/sections. Tables and pictures/graphics are included in the discussion.

Writing subtitles using Garamond, 12pt, bold, writing Capitalize Each Word, except for the word "connection". The description of the subtitles of the Results and Discussion is written using Garamond, 12pt, and space 1.15

Table and Figure Writing

Tables and figures are placed in separate rows and centers. Make sure that the tables and figures are well understood. So, make sure that the font size on the table or figure as well as the image resolution are high enough. The image caption is placed below the image. Table captions are placed on top of the table. Individual figures and tables are numbered (e.g. Figure 1, Figure 2, etc. or Table 1, Table 2, etc.).

Writing Tables and Figures using Garamond 12, Table Contents using Garamond 12, single spacing.

The writing of Tables and Figures can be seen in the following example:

Table 1:Table Headings

NO	Name	Sum
1.	Jurnal Mediasas : Media Ilmu Syari'ah and Ahwal Al-Syakhsiyyah	1
2.	Dan seterusnya

Written in Indonesian or English, Garamond, font 12, justify, 1.5 spaces, writing sentences between paragraphs with (no before and after space).

Sub-Chapter 2 (Results and Second Discussion).

Refer to the explanation of Subchapter 1

CONCLUSION

Please provide your remarks as a closing statement. It could be a final conclusion from your discussion and analysis, as well as your recommendations for further research projects. In this section as well, you may give your acknowledgement to people and parties whose support makes your research possible.
