Paid Part-Time Social Media Intern (In-Person – Brooklyn, NY)

Description

Based in New York City, lifestyle content creator @oliviaamcdowell shares a blend of fashion, beauty, hosting, and entertaining inspiration. Through thoughtful storytelling and timeless visuals, her work highlights the art of everyday living with a focus on style, creativity, and warmth.

About the Role

We're looking for a part-time Social Media Intern to support day-to-day content creation and studio operations. This is a hands-on, in-person role ideal for someone who is creative, proactive, and excited to be part of the behind-the-scenes work of building a lifestyle brand.

Responsibilities

- Assist with shooting photo and video content
- Support basic short-form video editing (Reels, TikTok, Shorts)
- Help organize and maintain a clean, efficient workspace
- Run occasional errands related to shoots and production
- Provide general support during content days and creative projects

Qualifications

- Positive, reliable, and proactive with a can-do attitude
- Interested in content creation, social media, and visual storytelling
- Comfortable working in a fast-paced and creative environment
- Detail-oriented and organized
- Able to commute to Downtown Brooklyn for in-person work

Schedule & Compensation

- Part-time: 10–20 hours per week
- Start date: ASAP
- Opportunity for growth into a full-time role

To Apply

Please email your resume and a brief note about yourself to info@oliviamcdowell.com