

Howdy Konstantin!

I came across your website recently while researching jewelry businesses because I became interested in learning about the massive investment returns that people can get from jewelry.

I like the reviews you have on your rolex service page on your website, they truly show how much you care about your craft, especially from Tim S, you've left an amazing impression on him!

Besides your reviews, I noticed something that is affecting your website traffic and online exposure.

I'll let you in on a secret, the attention spans of the masses are low, so the days of people actually reading entire front pages or articles are gone.

Luckily for you, I've spent the last month developing a new mechanism that won't make people say "I'm bored already" or "I've already tried something like this".

I've coined it C.I.D (Curiosity Intrigue Desire)

You are missing one of, if not THE most crucial part of this mechanism, social media consistency. The last post on your Instagram was in 2020, and you don't have a Facebook.

I understand why you haven't been maintaining social media, as doing that is very difficult, especially when you have other things to do within your business.

I've included an example of an Instagram caption down below.

Let me know what you think about what I wrote, because I have a lot more insight in mind.

How does that sound to you?

Andrew

Example down below:

Jewelry is STATUS.

It shows people your importance.

Not because they're flashy, or sparkling.

But because it is LUXURY.

We show your value with jewelry.
