赤原十弥

Sekihara, Touya

Overview

"Hi hi~ Here is your photo, your smile here was irresistible- Oh wait no no, I won't be charging you! Let's be friends~"

A newly transferred student who was previously studying abroad in France. Quirky and energetic he is with his magical tailor-made polaroid camera to save any memories to be long lasting ones.

Dearly loves his siblings and they were the reason why he left his study in France to pursue finishing his final 'childish' education in his home country instead. That said, he doesn't have many friends despite being very friendly... Touya is bad at keeping up with relationships - he's not that close with his siblings either...

"BUT ALL THOSE HOPEFULLY WILL CHANGE... THIS FINAL SENIOR YEAR WILL BE BETTER!" - Touya's copium response to his brother, Kahore.

Personality

- ☆ Smart, well-mannered and polite but can be very cheeky whenever he gets excited
- ☆ Talkative but what are friends 🧐🧐🧐 ... being friendless doesn't bother him.... probably...
- ☆ Somewhat of a prankster but not really.
 - ◇ As long as the things he does might improve the mood (subjective), he would do it
 - ◇ For example, he uses his temporarily unconscious sister for a harmless act of ventriloquism (he dislikes moody thoughts/moments so this is common in their household daily and she's alright)
- ☆ Might talk too much if a certain topic is slightly mentioned (such as printing techniques, his siblings)
- ☆ Sometimes he pulls his headband/bandana down as a mask to cover his super excited grin/smile/flustered face whenever someone shows gratitude to his photos or is very nice to him
- ☆ His attendance won't be good as he may stay home to look after his sister
- ☆ He might flirt unintentionally => gets super embarrassed when he realized that

About magic and polaroids

- 🌿 Touya creates flowers and researches them mostly for the pigments so he's not a person you should ask about medications nor perfume
- 🌿 The polaroids with such technique have vibrant colors and are eco-friendly! Even though they attract bees quite sometimes...
- 🌿 He makes the films but the camera was made by his brother, Kahore

Reason for joining Azarashi High

- 👉 Mostly because of the location as the school is close to his family house and he finds sea animals very cute.

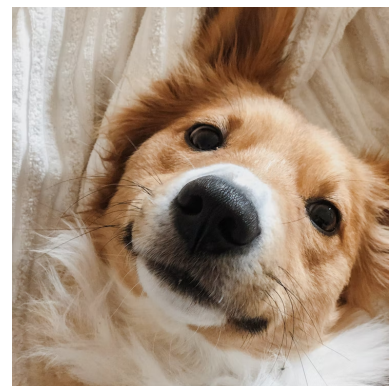

Please don't attack me

Habits

- ▷ Takes photos of anyone he deems to look happy that day (will give back them free of charge)
- ▷ Wears his trousers like that because he really likes sock garters (the only good thing he got while in France) and wants to flex it
- ▷ Even to students of same age, as long as they are taller, he would address them as -niisan/-neesan

Other skills

- 📄 Proficient in Japanese, English and French (refuses to speak this one)
- 📄 Recently learned about potion making... not good at it
- 📄 Joins Drama club than Media because he likes to act and as if he had friends
- 📄 He is skilled at air rifle shooting
- 📄 He might be smart at studying but totally not wise at all (easily gaslighted or scammed)

Backstory

The Sekihara family is known for having a place in the politician field, the medical field and as well as insurance. They have business branches across the globe and are proud of their wealth and of their talented children.

Touya is the youngest child of the Sekihara family of 6 siblings where the older 4 went to college thus leaving the 2nd youngest (currently being suspended from any education activities) and Touya to be the last 'non-adults' of the bunch. Traditionally each sibling was sent to study abroad to someday keep a business relation in the oversea branch of the family business, Touya went to France – right after he received his magic, the ability to create lovely and romantic flowers – yet while in this country of love, he didn't get along well with anyone!

The thing is the 2nd youngest sibling wasn't able to accept she was graduating like the other siblings and she committed arson on her outbursts, thus all the siblings were forced to return to Japan and study here as they can all look after each other. The 4 oldest ones go to college together, the 2nd youngest stays homeschooled and Touya enrolls at Azarashi High.

The flames were so scary as if they would stripe away everything. "Everything lost away?" Touya didn't like that at all. So his goal in his final childish year would be to collect as many memories of the ones surrounding him, making sure they will never age, never go away as they will always still in his album.

*I have heard chatters about my family such as "Oh you guys are that family of crayon heads!", seriously I think they are just jealous of our lustrous strikes a jojo pose vampiric scarlet eyes! Heheh, I'm just joking, of course~. ♪*

Introduction

Call me Touya, I just transferred from oversea but I really hope to be friends and make some memories with you! If you don't mind of course, ehe~ Oh right, do you want a free polaroid? The lighting and your face look very cute~ Ah, I'm sorry, don't mind me at all!

About magic...

I remember when I was small, I always just wanted to have magic just like my brothers and sisters and wanted it to be Electricity. I thought it'd be cool to have similar magic as Raiha-oniisan but I guess I can't be too picky about being able to miraculously grow flowers in mid-air. Here, have a rose.

About Azarashi High...

A school where cute cuddly seals being the main mascots and origin story is too cute! I can definitely tell that this would be a very fitting environment to find cute people for my photo album, really!!

About polaroids...

Bummers... I just saw a very handsome student pass by and wanted to take a photo of them but the bees attacked me due to the pigments of floral nectar... sighs It's not easy to find a hot person walking by at the right opportunity to take photos of them if insects are simp for both humans and my polaroids.

About Kahore...

(The 2nd oldest sibling)

Kahore-nii made my camera! He is very talented at crafting stuff despite being the only one without magic in our family. He's a very nice person and I'd say is also very cute. Although... I'm much cuter.

About Nayuta...

(The 3rd oldest sibling)

Nayuta-niisan and Kahore-nii are twin brothers but they look and act so different? It's like comparing an airhead puppy to a prideful hot-blooded hound? That being said, he's very cool-looking and awesome.

About Kurou...

(The oldest sibling)

Kurou-nee is the oldest of us Sekihara siblings... and is also the shortest yet the scariest! Cold and aloof, what a wolf. She and Nayuta-niisan always fight, that's just basically a bitch fight, isn't it? Eh, I am not allowed to use inappropriate vocabulary at school?

About Raiha...

(The 3rd youngest sibling and I imagine him in the most Midorikawa Hikaru voice

Raiha-oniisan is super cool, super ikemen and super prince-like, if I dare say so myself! Whenever I prank someone, he'd say "Touya, I know you want to feel more excited but why don't we both go playing pranks on our siblings instead of scheming against your European classmates?" To be honest, pranking my siblings is not the same as to those annoying classmates of mine but there's something about his soothing voice that really convinced me otherwise... Ikemen voice ahhhhh...

About Miku...

(The 2nd youngest sibling)

Miku-nee-chan is very very cute but I wish she wouldn't be that emo? Fire is scary...

About parents...

You won't ever get to see them since they are very busy people. I'd say it's almost as if it's intentional to never see them in public? So much like faceless NPCs, ahahahaha!

About France...

Even seeing the colors of the flag of that place gives me shivers ew. I do admit they have amazing and aesthetic sightings but the language?! Oh, don't get me started on how my classmates picked on me for failing to say any sentences correctly?! stereotypical French accent "Oui oui, Monsieur Toujour too petit, il can't parler en français comme tout le monde, guys!" First off, I can speak French fine, they just really had to mock me just because I speak English or Japanese to the other exchange students, don't they?! Secondly, Monsieur Toujour... the tou isn't pronounced like that!

* Touya十弥, Kahore, Nayuta七詩, Kurou六狼, Raiha雷八 and Miku望九 are all expy/AU versions of my current existent OCs, they mostly go by code numbers rather than names.

This part exists because slandering the French language is fun

Miscellaneous

-  Touya is an expy chara from my own world-building where red is an important lore factor therefore his surname 赤原 Sekihara is Original Red or Red's Origin and why I drew roses but whatever flower is fine
-  If he's not the shortest male of all 3rd year males then why live (but will be :blurryeyes: if he's shortest of all 3rd years in general)
-  He is strawberry blond, Kahore is negi leek hair color, Nayuta is ash brown, Kurou is pastel blue, Raiha is green and Miku is pink... therefore a whole crayon box of a family.
-  Can't swim but likes waterparks
-  Regularly kidnaps borrows his brother's dog to the park because the doggo is his only other friend :cryge:
-  Watched bee movie because he thought he would learn how to prevent bees from attacking his polaroids
-  To be updated...
