Overview

The Console is constantly carrying out background processes, and sending or checking information in its memory while it is on.

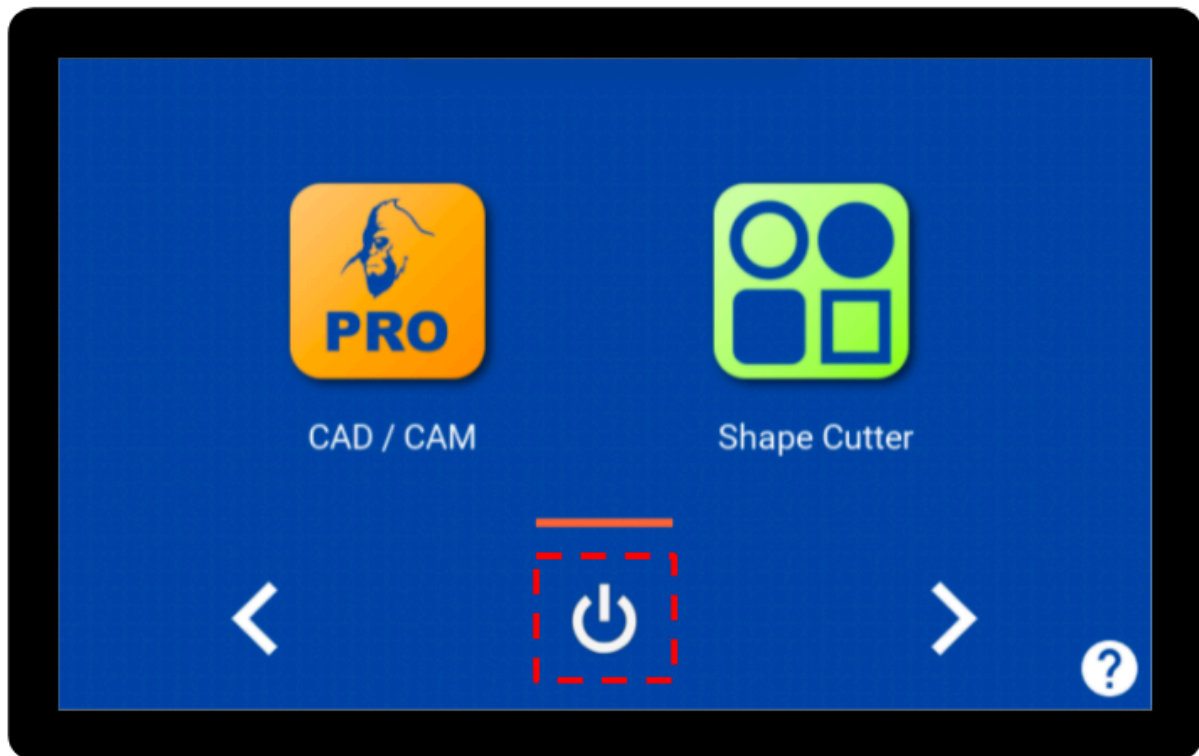

It is therefore important to shutdown the Console properly prior to switching the main power off, to avoid unexpected problems with operation.

How to shutdown the Console

Return to the lobby from any active screen currently displayed on the Console by tapping the exit button.

Tap on the shutdown button located at the bottom of the lobby screen.

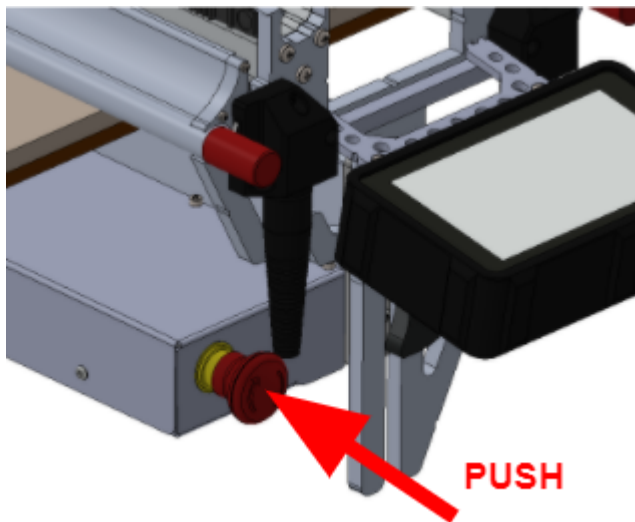

Tap on the “Shutdown now” button on the warning pop up message.

Wait 30 seconds while the console fully shuts down.

It is now safe to power off SmartBench by pushing the power button.
