

Global Book Bag

Title: Sometimes People March

Author: Tessa Allen

Global Competence: Act and reflect individually and collaboratively

SDG 11 - Sustainable Cities and Communities

Sometimes people march to resist injustice, to stand in solidarity, to inspire hope. Throughout American history, one thing remains true: no matter how or why people march, they are powerful because they march together.

Virtual Library Shelf

<https://bit.ly/3gIXAUV>

Bag Contents:

- Notebook
- Pencil
- Crayons

Directions:

- With an adult in your home, read the book or watch the read aloud.
- Open the notebook to the next blank page.
- Write your name and the date on the top.

What is something that you care about in your community? How might you share this with the world? Sometimes people make signs. You can make a sign! Signs can be big or small. In your notebook, write or draw something about what you are celebrating or want to change. Use lots of colors, and make your letters big so that the world can see them. You could also create a chant or a song or a speech or a series of questions or a dance to go along with your sign.

Keep Learning! (optional)

1. Check out the book trailer for the related title The Youngest Marcher.
<https://bit.ly/3xKMQeK>
2. Write a book review to recommend the story!

3. Discuss what it means to act and reflect individually and collaboratively.

