

SL: ... it's a toasted cigarette

That was my response to the chubby guy standing before me looking like he had seen a barking cow

We had a break at a work retreat I attended and I just found a nice private spot to get my nicotine fix when he walked in on me

I knew what that look meant, the age old prejudice against cigarettes

I didn't care, it was toasted!

With toasting, the pungent and harmful irritants in tobacco are removed from these new age cigarettes thus removing that bias against cigarette smoking

Toasted cigarettes are definitely safer

They do not taste harsh

They do not have the sticky and pungent smell

And they neatly packed

You can now smoke in peace, without discrimination
