

REY. [ from the movies. ] extreme / au based

"The force calls upon me. But the light and the dark seem blurry within my pupils." canon divergent.

 prev played on a [solo blog ]

note * i do not ship reylo, although rey will always try to turn him to the light. In addition i don't follow canon, i personally think they treated luke like shit and rey's lineage a poor tribute to the past movies.

VERSES. message me if you would like to create a private verse.

STORY ARC AU'S [ MAIN VERSE WILL TAKE PLACE IN THESE AU'S. ]

- A skywalker
- A kenobi

CROSSOVER AU'S [ CROSSOVERS WITH MARVEL, HUNGER GAMES, AND GREY'S ANATOMY. ]

- [MARVEL- CIVIL WAR BASED. ] years after tfa and the end of the republic and rise of the rebellion, jedi's are asked to come forward and be legally identified by the new government. many still fear war and the lurking members of the first order waiting to claim each jedi's life. others see it as a new age, the age of the jedi. two sides split, one led by captain america and rey, against government identification. the other side led by tony stark and ___(to be added.) pro identification. after two weeks of waiting the registration act is put into place, and any jedi/force sensitive

MOVIE CANON [ This will be used based on request This verse takes place in the movie force awakens. my headcanon and will remain canon in this verse, is that rey was apart of luke's jedi order and is a force baby like anakin..]

MODERN AU [ rey was left at the door of an orphanage with the promise that her family would return. as she grew older her heart grew colder yet in all her chances she didn't run away from foster care, still holding onto the hope that her family would return for her. throughout her teen years in her free-time she found herself stealing things through markets and stores, feeding herself while searching through trashes and dumps to find things to sell to a man across the street. taking her usual route through a forest back to foster care, she finds a small necklace with a chip inside it (the chip that holds the missing piece of the map to luke skywalker, a man who's been on the run for years from the government that wishes to capture him and experiment on him until they can use his powers as a weapon.) Her curiosity gets the best of her and she plugs the chip into the computer, but in doing so it alerts two different groups. The group of the government that wishes to capture luke and every last one like him and another group called the rebellion, which act as safe havens to people like luke and rey. later that night she hears a gun go off and is horrified to find the foster mom dead on the kitchen floor, but she remains silent against the wall as she sees two men in black suits. creeping her way up stairs, with the chip still in her pocket, she finds herself jumping out the window and on the run. ]

- person that does not come forward will be put under arrest. --- can also just be used in the normal marvel verse where rey is on team cap.
- [HUNGER GAMES AU. ] 19 years before the third Quarter Quell a young woman found her way to the top of the Capitol, meeting the slightly younger President Snow. Since their relationship was secret when she found out she was pregnant with his child, she feared what Snow would do, confiding in Cinna. He then told her to take shelter in district two, setting her up to stay with a family. Staying there the next months, while Snow secretly had men searching for her, fearing that she would tell 'tales'. Just after giving birth to a little girl named rey, the family providing her shelter could no longer bare the risk, and informed peacekeepers that they knew where the woman was. Although one of the members of the family let her know so she could get a running start, knowing that it wouldn't be long until she was found, Jinx was put on the nearest shuttle she could be found. Just as she laid rey on the shuttle and hoped off, she was shot down by a group of Peacekeepers, although no one knew about the baby so their was no reason to search the shuttle. Rey was found by a man named Cyke doing renovations on the shuttle in District 6 who was rarely around, causing rey to have to scavenge mechanical parts to get by. When Rey was about 17 and the quarter quell had just been announced, her caretaker shot by a peace-keeper and killed. Somehow one of the men he was working with had found out about rey's real father and was threatening to let the capitol know. In order to save rey, Cyke killed the worker, despite the Peacekeepers gun to his head. Moments later Cyke was shot and rey was left alone, still to this day unknown of his past. But it was that day that rey began to see the capitol in a new light, she grew hatred for it. Weeks later, days before the Quarter Quell was about to begin, rey volunteered to fix a broken shuttle in the Capitol, planning on rebelling the moment she got their. But the moment she arrived, Cinna recognized her face and and he knew that look all to well. Grabbing rey's hands and pulling her into a room. It was in that moment that Cinna told rey everything, about her father and mother. Cinna then informed rey of the rebellion, telling her to wait for the right time. Cinna then helped rey flee to District 13

- [ GREYS AU. ] rey was left at the door of an orphanage with the promise that her family would return. as she grew older her heart grew colder yet in all her chances she didn't run away from foster care, still holding onto the hope that her family would return for her. throughout her teen years in her free-time she found herself stealing things through markets and stores, feeding herself while searching through trashes and dumps to find things to sell to a man across the street. taking her usual route through a forest back to foster care, she finds a small necklace with a chip inside it (the chip that holds the missing piece of the map to luke skywalker, a man who's been on the run for years from the government that wishes to capture him and experiment on him until they can use his powers as a weapon.)
