

American Collegiate Go Association

Last updated on June 28, 2024 by Julia Zhang

About ACGA

Co-founded in Fall 2023 by Hank Guo, Yihan Guo, Manny Jauregui, Jamie Tang, and Julia Zhang, the American Collegiate Go Association (ACGA) seeks to empower young adults in North America to promote the ancient mind game Go and bring collegiate Go to new heights. We strive to provide an inclusive and intellectual environment to connect the North American Go community. See the website here.

Leadership

In Summer 2024, ACGA will open its official 2024-25 leadership team application. All students enrolled in high school (11th-12th grade), college, or university in North America for the 2024-25 school year are eligible to apply. See the full list of ACGA leadership positions offered here.

ACGA will operate on a three-strike policy. Any ACGA leadership team members who miss an executive board meeting without a 48-hour notice or the equivalent offense will automatically receive one strike. At Strike 2, they face a vote for termination at the next meeting, where the board shall discuss the matter in a civil and respectful manner. At Strike 3, they face immediate termination. Terminated ACGA leadership team members shall be permanently removed from all ACGA records, emails, and titles.

The ACGA leadership team will function in a similar model to the high school-led American Go Honor Society (see the AGHS website and AGHS Instagram). While the AGHS focuses on grades K-12 Go players, the ACGA focuses on college-age Go players.

Volunteering for the ACGA

There are countless ways you can volunteer for the ACGA, with or without formally committing to the official leadership team, including but not limited to:

- Promoting ACGA events to your college Go club
- Offering your ideas and skills in the ACGA Discord
- Participating in polls or discussions hosted by ACGA

ACGA 2024 - 2025 Timeline

- Fall 2024: launch monthly online Collegiate Go League
- Future: executing larger-scale projects such as a Collegiate Regional Championship

Contact Us

Email: acga.organizer@gmail.com, Instagram: @the.acga.official