Important Note: *To ensure academic integrity and facilitate future correspondence, authors must provide a verifiable institutional affiliation with an official organizational email for publication, and a separate personal email address for contact in case of institutional changes.

 Contribution to the field statement:

-50 words (maximum one paragraph).

Note: How your work contributes, complicates or thwarts other work. Overall, what is your contribution to academia? Contribution to the field statement (originality/value/findings). In this part, it is required the authors briefly summarize in 50 words (maximum one paragraph) the manuscript's contribution to, and position in, the existing literature in the field. "Contribution to the field statement" should offer new knowledge and research findings. It is the extent to which the journal makes a unique contribution compared with existing literature/ research evidence in the field. The contribution to the field might even be a new methodology and/or approach to writing the article. Contribution to the field must be parallel with the main scope of the journal which is to assess the social and economic consequences of contemporary urbanisation. For more information in this regard please see:

 Highlights:

- Provide three to five short statements that include dependent and independent variables.

Note: "Highlights" consist of a short collection of bullet points (normally 3-5 short statements) that capture the novel results of your research as well as new methods that were used during the study (if any). Highlighted words should be informative about the hypothesis, approach and statement with considering the stated keywords in the article.

-Please ensure that the following sections are included before the References section of your full paper: Acknowledgements, Funding, Conflicts of Interest, Data Availability Statement, Institutional Review Board Statement, and CRediT Author Statement.

 Acknowledgements:

Note: Collate acknowledgements in a separate section at the end of the article before the references and do not, therefore, include them on the title page, as a footnote to the title or otherwise. List in this section those individuals who provided help during the research (e.g., providing language help, writing assistance or proofreading the article, etc.).

 Funding:

Note: A “funding statement” is a way for authors to claim ownership of any potential biases, announce financial affiliations, and promote maximum transparency in their work. A funding statement indicates whether or not the authors received funding (institutional, private and/or corporate financial support) for the work reported in their manuscript. For the Funding statement, if no specific funding was received for the research, please write: “This research received no external funding.” For more information in this regard please see: https://www.ijcua.com/index.php/ijcua/information/authors#:~:text=the%20article%2C%20etc.\)-Funding%3A-A%20%E2%80%9Cfunding%20statement-Funding%3A-A%20%E2%80%9Cfunding%20statement)

 Conflict of interests:
