

Attention: Aspiring online business beginners & cash flow respectors...

Presenting:

THE THEME PAGE PLAYBOOK

The easiest business model to make 6-figures with, take advantage of the crypto bull run, and continue generating cash flow for the next 5 years

Dear cash flow appreciator,

If you've been looking for an opening into the world of online business, I'm sure you've come across all the "typical" options...

- >> Sales
- >> Copywriting
- >> Lead gen
- >> Paid ads
- >> UGC

- >> SaaS
- >> Dropshipping
- >> Etc

These are the business models everyone recommends you get into as a beginner trying to cut your first slice of wifi money...

And I'll be honest - they all work.

The only problem?

Since the corona shutdown 3 years ago, the number of people flooding into the world of online business has grown exponentially.

Before that time, running an online business was still weird...

You'd tell people about your agency or freelance sales gig and they'd look at you like you're an alien that just crash-landed in their backyard.

Now, it's extremely common...

Meaning there's more competition than ever before.

And guess which business models every fresh college dropout with an internet connection is looking to get into?

The exact same ones that you know about.

The ones I mentioned above which are parroted all over social media and recommended in every "how to make your first $1 online" course.

And again - they all still work.

Even with the hordes of competition flooding in every month, you can still make money with any of them.

But what if there was an opportunity to fade the crowd?

To go with a business model that's still only talked about in tight, niche circles... even though it's 100% proven.

One that's so easy there are 14-year-olds printing 5-figures a month from it (I know one)...

One that you can scale to $100k+/mo without the organizational complexity of a client-facing business (I've done it)...

And one that can be 99% automated with VAs, essentially spitting out passive income month after month.

I'd imagine that sounds too good to be true.

I'd imagine you're wondering why this isn't the ONLY business model everyone is talking about.

And your skepticism is valid.

But keep reading...

Because in this training I'm going to reveal what it is, exactly how it works, how you can take advantage of it, and perhaps most excitingly - why it's the the perfect way to position yourself to make life-changing money in the 2024 crypto bull run.

STOP HERE: We're taking on 10 people to start, grow, & monetize your own Instagram theme page to $10k/mo in 2024. This is the absolute best business model for beginners to make money. No face, no sales calls, no clients. Just posting content & sending DMs. If you want to speak directly

Now, if you didn't already guess by the title of this training, I'm talking about...

INSTAGRAM THEME PAGES

For those of you who don't know, theme pages (aka faceless pages) are IG pages dedicated to curating content and/or news stories in a specific niche.

You might know some of the most famous ones like @rap, @ladbible, or @wealth...

Regardless, they all have a few things in common:

- They're faceless
- They're niched down
- They print $$$ (when done right)

Theme pages were the first successful business I ever started, and to this day I still operate a network of pages with millions of followers combined... alongside running Launch Socials full time (that should tell you something).

In a minute I'll tell you about the insane start I had when I launched my first page...

But first, it's important for you to understand the opportunity in front of you, and why NOW is the perfect time to get into this if you want to make 6 figures or more in 2024.

3 words:

Crypto. Bull. Run.

It's here.

You've probably been keeping somewhat of an eye on the markets, or at the very least glancing updates & predictions on social media.

Either way, we all know what's about to happen in 2024...

Because we all saw what happened in 2020/21.

If you were forced to watch from the sidelines back then because you didn't have the capital to invest...

Or you had some capital but burned it all with a couple of bad moves...

Then this is your chance for redemption.

With theme pages, you get to play both sides of the market.

Any online business model will provide you with the capital to make an investment...

But with theme pages, you can ALSO cash out selling shoutouts to crypto projects that want more exposure.

And i'm not talking about a little bit of money either.

In a crypto bull run, investors play extremely loose with their cash, throwing it at projects they believe have the potential for a 100x-500x.

Meaning there are 1000s of projects with pockets deeper than you can possibly imagine...

Ready & willing to hand over their newfound wealth to anyone with the audience that they want to be in front of.

This isn't speculation.

I witnessed it first hand in the last bull run - crypto, business, and money pages getting paid outrageous sums to promote NFT projects & new coins.

I know guys that walked away with over $5,000,000 profit... and that's CASH FLOW.

Invest that into the market and you come out the other side with an 8-figure net worth.

From ONE YEAR.

Now I'm not saying you can expect those kinds of results, they're extraordinary & were achieved by guys who'd been in the game for years.

And I am definitely NOT promising those kinds of returns at all

HOWEVER...

$100k?

$350k?

$700k?

These numbers are both real & possible if you take advantage of this opportunity right now, and work with the intensity this once-in-a-generation opportunity deserves.

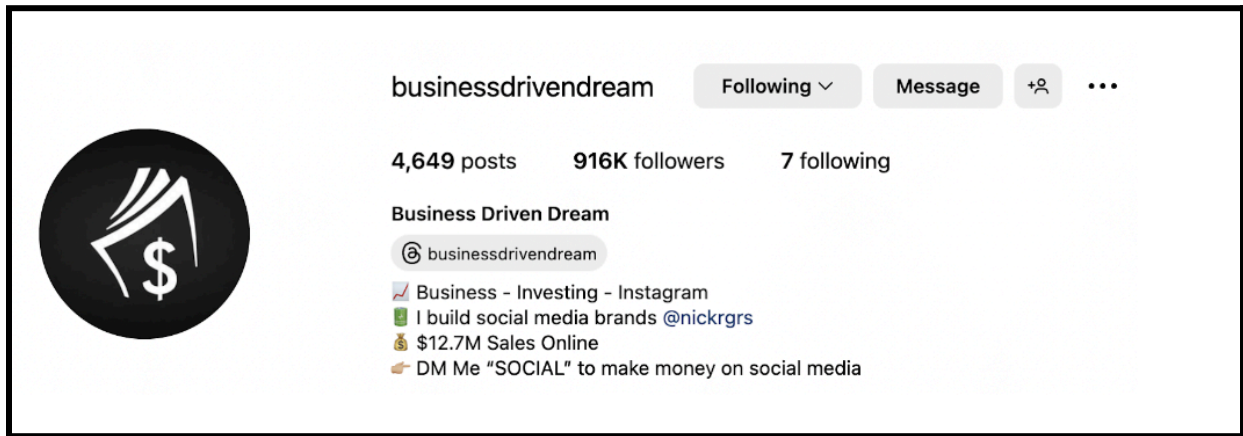

Now quickly, to prove I didn't just make all of this up in my head...

The Road To 1,000,000 Followers

Confession:

I don't have 1,000,000 followers on this account (many millions combined)

But I'm pretty damn close...

This is one of the many Instagram theme pages I own and at some point in the next month or two it'll cross the 1M mark.

A big achievement...

Even more so considering I started this page from scratch 5 years ago (and it has gone through countless ups and downs such as being banned multiple times, shadowbanned other times, top performing posts being taken down, copyright strikes, bombarded with bots and other spam etc)

For context: It's pretty common for people to buy established pages and build from there to avoid the pain of getting initial traction.

I've done it myself...

But not this one.

This was the first theme page I ever started, back before I had the capital required to buy a pre-established page.

At the time I was working at a car dealership in upstate New York. I didn't know ANYTHING about online business except that the people doing it were making outrageous sums of money and I wanted a slice of the pie.

Nothing could stop me from working back then.

Before work I was making content, during work I was posting content with my phone under my desk, after work I was making content, posting content, and learning as much about business as I possibly could.

Now, the page that freed me from my 9-5 and kickstarted my journey into online business is about to cross 1,000,000 followers...

But that's just the icing on the cake.

The REAL victory is the consistent & increasing cash flow this page has generated for the last 4 years (and continues to generate).

For the last 3 years this cash flow has been fully automated with VAs...

So essentially I've had 5-figures/mo coming in passively that I've been able to invest every month like clockwork into crypto/stock investments.

Now I'm 25 with almost a 7-figure net worth that may well become 8-figures in the next 2 years.

This is the goal.

Not just fast cars and high rise apartments... REAL WEALTH.

That's what I'm offering you in this training. Not fast cash, not some pump and dump scheme... but rather a source of sustainable & increasing cash flow that you can invest into assets in order to set yourself (and your family) up for life.

Saturated? Impossible...

At this point you might be thinking...

"You got into the game 5 years ago and are now riding the momentum, it's not the same today, there's more competition"

And here's the thing:

You're RIGHT.

There is more competition.

Not as much as other, more "typical" business models... but there's still a LOT more theme pages today than there were when I first started.

However, you can't look at this metric in isolation and get an accurate picture.

In any market, there are 2 key variables at play:

Supply & Demand.

In the case of theme pages, supply has gone up... yes.

But DEMAND has gone through the f*cking roof, far outpacing the increase in supply.

People have a voracious appetite for content, and every year the total userbase of Instagram is increasing.

Right now it's at 2,350,000,000 users.

The average time spent on Instagram as of 2023 is 29 minutes per day. In 2019 the average time was 15 minutes so usage has basically doubled in only 4 years.

And remember: this is the AVERAGE time across all age groups.

If the average was calculated for 18-38 year olds - the people who consume the most theme page content - it'd be much, much higher.

This is the kind of data you want to see when evaluating a business model...

And any businessman worth their salt will tell you that markets where growth in demand is far outpacing growth in supply are RIFE with opportunity.

Opportunity which you now hold in the palm of your hand.

To recap:

- Theme pages are still relatively unknown and there's almost no one talking about this business model
- There's no income ceiling, you can scale them to $100k/mo and much further
- Once you have traction & are making money, you can automate 99% of the business very easily with cheap VAs (basically passive income)

- Starting now means profiting 2x from the crypto bull run (if you're in the right niche) - (1) selling ads to new projects & (2) investing in the market
- Consistently investing cash flow from theme pages into assets is a proven path to real wealth (I've done it)
- Growth in demand for theme page content is far outpacing growth in supply, so even though there's more pages than ever, there's also more opportunity than ever

How Theme Pages Work

Now you understand what theme pages are, you know this is an opportunity to make life-changing money by profiting from both sides of the crypto bull run, and you realize there's a gap in supply waiting to be filled...

What now?

Well, now I'm going to give you my entire playbook.

The playbook that I've developed over the last 5 years of building, buying, and monetizing Instagram theme pages.

Acquiring millions of followers and generating multiple 6-figures in PROFIT every year almost passively.

For the first time ever, I'm giving it all away.

And before I get into the actionable information - understand that this might not be for you.

This opportunity is perfect for someone who:

- >> Is younger
- >> Newer to online business
- >> Not a professional yet
- >> Doesn't have any high value skills to sell

 (or you are an established business owner who wants to build an organic network of traffic that you own - very rare but i wanted to include this)*

Why?

1. Theme pages are as simple as it gets - no clients, no fulfillment, no sales calls, very few moving parts
2. You can be 100% anonymous
3. It doesn't take a ton of time, so you can build your network alongside school/work

That's not to say theme pages aren't valuable to someone more experienced.

If you sell a physical product or want to grow your personal brand... theme pages are one of the best ways to acquire niche traffic.

(Traffic that you can redirect wherever you please.)

But, if you're already making 5-figures a month from a different business, you'll get better returns doubling down on that vs. splitting your focus.

Let's get into it:

The Theme Page Playbook

Contents:

- Picking your niche
- Branding & page creation
- Content research
- Content curation vs. creation
- Posting schedule
- How to iterate based on feedback
- Boosting growth with shoutout ads
- Monetization
- Automation

My goal is to keep this section as concise as possible. Zero fluff, just the information you need to get started today and build massive momentum over the next 30 days.

1. Picking your niche

There are a million different niches you could build a theme page around... but if your goal here is to make MONEY, there are only 3:

- Health
- Wealth
- Relationships

These are by far the most profitable niches and they're all equally monetizable...

But in this training I'll be focusing on wealth because out of those 3, the wealth niche provides the opportunity to take advantage of the upcoming crypto bull run and it's the niche I've been building in for years now.

So now you have your overall niche, you can go a little further.

Within "wealth", you can create pages about:

- Business
- Investing
- Crypto
- Stocks
- Personal finance
- Etc

I would go with either business or investing as they have the largest audiences. And always mixing in some broad motivation/mindset helps for virality.

There's a large audience for crypto, but interest is largely cyclical, and you don't want to have a page that's only making you $$$ when there's a bull run.

2. Branding & page creation

Within the world of theme pages, you have 2 types:

There are faceless accounts with names like 'hustlemindset', 'funnymemes' & 'beautysupply'.

Filled with pictures of quotes, clips of speeches, and any other related content.

And there are more “branded” theme pages like ‘hoodville’ or ‘foreverwillin’ that have extremely loyal audiences.

These kinds of pages work a lot better at creating a real brand.

Most of their content is original, they’ve curated their own unique aesthetic, they have a message behind the brand, running jokes/themes with their audience and a genuine feeling of community between the followers.

Both are very effective.

Branded pages take more work & skill to achieve their goal, so I’d recommend starting with the first kind to learn the game...

Then once you have experience growing & monetizing effectively, use the traffic to build a more branded page or even turn your general page into something more branded overtime.

3. Content research

As with any business, it’s important to do your own market research so you understand what’s working and what you’re up against.

Now you’ve decided a niche and the type of page you’re going to build...

Look at what else is out there:

- Who are the big players?
- What makes their page work so well?
- What kind of content do they post?
- Who’s smaller but growing fast?
- What are they posting?
- Why are they doing so well?
- What does a winning theme page look like?

You want to find out as much as possible.

Make notes about anything that sticks out to you & think about how you can apply it to your own page and do it even better.

Note: Research shouldn't take a long time, only a couple of hours in the beginning. However, this isn't something you should only do once. It's important to have your finger on the pulse at all times, which means spending a little time every day/every other day having a look at other pages, seeing what content is working, even scrolling through the algo to see what pops up.

4. Content curation vs. creation

When it comes to what you're actually gonna post on the page, you have 2 options:

- Curate content that's already proven on other platforms
- Create your own original content

Either way, we're going to be focusing on SHORT FORM VIDEO.

When I started in 2018, the name of the game was themed picture posts.

However, the game has changed.

The algorithm doesn't push normal pictures like it used to.

In 2024 (and beyond) the name of the game is REELS.

Reels are what the algorithm likes, they're what users want and they're your ticket to explosive theme page growth.

We still post many non reel pieces of content. But at least 70% of posts going up are REELS.

In my experience, the ideal length is 15-45 seconds long.

Highly engaging, entertaining, inspiring, motivating, relatable, it doesn't matter...

As long as the EMOTIONAL reaction is strong, your reels will crush.

Curating content

Main benefit: Takes a lot less time

Best for: General, faceless theme pages

To execute:

1. Consume content on TikTok/IG within your niche to get into that particular algorithm so it feeds you more of that content
2. Find viral videos within your niche
3. Download them with either snaptik.app or snapinsta.app depending on the platform
4. Post them on your page with your own caption (either something funny, a question, or hook - teasing the end of the video)
5. Overlay your own text on the video if you want (e.g. "wait till the end 🤔🤔") - the point of this is to keep their attention, there's a lot of nuance to doing this effectively depending on the video content but that's all you need to know for now

That's it.

Extremely simple.

TIP: Do all your content curation for the week in one go & make an album for each day. Put the videos you're going to post each day in the corresponding album so everything is organized & you don't have to fumble around later looking through your camera roll.

Creating content

Main benefit: Ability to create your own unique aesthetic & style (also learning the skill of content creation)

Best for: Branded theme pages

To execute:

- Watch podcasts & interviews from business leaders looking for 15-45 second value bombs
- Clip those segments
- Add a filter/trending sound that fits the video
- Overlay text if you want (same as above example)
- Post as original content

NOTE: You've probably seen those short form videos where it's a podcast clip on the bottom with some gaming footage on top. With the way people's brains are deteriorating so much, this has proven to be an effective way to hold people's attention. You can do this with your own videos, but if you're going to the effort of actually making your own videos, why not try something different? The point of making your own stuff is to create a unique aesthetic/feel, and you might just stumble across something that works even better than that style of video.

Software

Video curation - TikTok, Instagram

Video downloading - snaptik.app or snapinsta.app

Basic video editing - Instagram editor

*Advanced video editing - Premiere Pro or even Capcut
50/50 split w/ clip on bottom & gaming clip on top - Capcut*

Content buckets

There are 3 main content buckets:

- a) Education
- b) Entertainment
- c) Inspiration

Regardless of whether you're curating content that's already proven or creating your own original content - you want to hit all 3.

Why?

Because these are the 3 main things people log on to social media for...

And having EVERYTHING someone wants will always produce better results than having just one of things they want.

5. Posting schedule

How many pieces of content should you post?

Bare minimum = 3/day

Ideally you want to be shooting for 6-10 (especially if you're curating content, there's no reason not to be hitting this.)

What times should you post?

People drastically overestimate the importance of posting times - if a piece of content is gonna hit, it's gonna hit.

As long as it's day time wherever you're posting from & you space your posts out evenly throughout the day, you're good.

6. How to iterate based on feedback

Before I get into this section, a little on mindset:

Social media is largely a game of who can keep posting consistently the longest without significant positive feedback. The reason why most people FAIL is that they can't handle this...

And usually, the root of the problem is their expectations.

Maybe they've seen someone blow up overnight with similar content, maybe they've been sold the dream by a guru that it's gonna be easy, that results will come quick, and that this is the case for most people.

Understand: Fast & easy results are an extreme abnormality.

They are NOT the "norm".

If you can't handle the idea of posting 5x a day for 30 days without any significant follower growth, this is not for you.

Not because that's what's gonna happen... but rather because it tells me you have a short-term mindset and can't work without reward.

This is very common amongst people who transition from a 9-5 to online business.

They're used to a set formula:

Work = Money

Online business doesn't work like that.

In fact I'd argue that every successful business owner you can think of had to go through a period of months or even years where the formula was:

Work = Nothing

And when I say nothing, I'm talking specifically about financial rewards.

The work you do in the beginning without getting paid is laying the foundation for your growth and adding to the compound effect that will inevitably send your income soaring.

Nothing you do is wasted... you just can't tangibly SEE the effects immediately.

Iterating based on feedback

The simplest way to think about this:

- Double down on winners
- Cut losers

Once you've posted 100 videos, you'll have a sense of what "average" performance looks like for your page.

From there, you can separate your content into 3 performance buckets:

- Below average
- Average
- Above average

When something performs below average, avoid posting similar videos in the future.

When something performs above average, think about WHY it performed so well & post more videos with similar components.

Factors to consider:

- Content topic
- Style of video
- Length
- Primary emotion it evoked
- Hook
- Audio
- Overlay text
- Filter
- Etc

In the beginning, it'll be hard to tell which of these components was the primary driver of success... that's fine.

All you're trying to do is find similar videos & post more of them.

As you repeat this process over and over, you'll get a clearer picture about what exactly makes a video perform above average and even go viral on your page specifically.

Through this process, you'll develop pattern recognition which will allow you to create/curate content more effectively.

Remember: This is a PROCESS. It takes time to master, and it takes time to gain initial traction. This is true for every single business. You either want the end result enough to go through the initial period of "suck" or you don't. That's not something I can teach, only you know the answer.

7. Accelerating growth

This section is only applicable once:

- You're posting consistently
- You're growing consistently
- You have a few big "winners" (viral videos)
- You have a small amount of capital available to invest in the business

Once you check all those boxes, it's time to put growth on TURBO mode.

We do this with shoutout ads.

Shoutout ads = paying bigger theme pages in your niche to post your video with a CTA in the caption to go follow you

To execute:

1. Find bigger pages in your niche who have the audience you want ranging from 30k-1M+ followers (the bigger the page, the more expensive the shoutout)
2. DM them saying "looking to buy promos, do you sell them?"
3. If yes, ask to see their engagement metrics (you want at least 20-25% first world audience and audience reach that makes sense given their following)
4. If everything looks good, negotiate a price (you'll get cheaper prices if you buy in batches of 10/20/etc, but it's always better to start with one as a test)

5. Once paid, send them the content you want them to post & the caption (ideally something that's already gone viral/performed above average on your page)

6. Watch number go up

NOTE: Out of everything I've mentioned so far, this is the stage with the most nuance and the most experience required to execute effectively.

There are things to do with...

>> What solid engagement metrics actually look like depending on page size

>> How much you should pay depending on size & reach

>> What exactly you should say in your caption for the highest conversion

... And more that are impossible to cover in a training like this.

You can learn them the hard way (like I did) and make a few expensive mistakes, or you can read the following:

=====

STOP HERE: We're taking on 10 people to start, grow, & monetize your own Instagram theme page to $10k/mo in 2024. This is the absolute best business model for beginners to make money. =====

8. Monetization

There are 3 main ways to make money from your theme page:

1. Your own offer
2. Someone else's offer (affiliate)
3. Selling ads

If you already have an offer - like a low ticket course/e-book or a physical product - you'll find the most success selling that because you make 100% of the profit.

If you don't, the easiest way to make money is by selling a combination of affiliate offers and ads.

Affiliate offers = you get a special promo code or link for someone else's product that your audience can use - usually this means they get a discount & you get a commission.

Ads = the same shoutout process I detailed in the section above, except instead of you paying bigger pages, smaller pages are paying you.

How much can you make:

100k followers - $3k-$7k/mo

1M followers - $10k-$20k/mo

10M followers - $75k-$120k/mo

Those are rough numbers based on my personal experience and they can change.

(If you're selling your own product where you make 100% of the money & have strong LTV, you can make a lot more)

It's also worth noting that it took me 3 months to hit 100k followers with my first theme page... and I made $8.5k the following month selling my own mini course.

These kinds of results aren't typical, but with the right support & guidance they're very possible, even for a beginner starting from scratch.

9. Automation

This is perhaps the best and most exciting part of building theme pages - they're extremely easy to automate with VA's.

The process to find & hire a quality VA:

1. As you're building, document how you do everything making the instructions as easy to follow as possible (imagine you were writing them for an 11-year-old)
2. Go to onlinejobs.ph and create a job with detailed instructions for how to apply
3. Anyone who follows the instructions - ask them about their skills, preferred pay, and get them to complete a reading comprehension
4. Anyone who passes and seems like a good candidate - invite them to an interview (basically just to see if they speak good english)
5. Start the best candidate on a week trial period to see if they can complete the work on time and to a high standard
6. If they're doing well, give them a month trial
7. If they're still doing well hire them full time
8. If at any point in this process they fail, cut them and start testing out the next best candidate

You can get an incredible full time VA for $5/hr.

For the amount of work it takes to fully automate a theme page (content curation/creation, shoutout management & posting), this should cost about $800-$1000 per month.

Worth noting that if you're getting them to CREATE content, not just curate from IG/TT, it'll cost you more.

You also don't have to automate everything at once.

You can start by automating the posting, then the curation, then shoutout management... until you have a page that's operating 100% on autopilot.

You'll still want to check it daily to make sure everything's running smoothly and there's no major f*ck up or dip in performance, but that's 10 minutes a day of work.

Building an empire

You now have everything you need to start, grow, and monetize your first Instagram theme page.

Not everyone who reads this will take advantage of the opportunity in front of them... but if you're serious and willing to commit, you can build this business into much more than just one Instagram page.

You can build an EMPIRE of theme pages.

And even better, an empire of BRANDED theme pages.

Here's how it works:

You grow the first page, then you start a new page with a theme that runs adjacent to the first page, use the first page to grow the second page... now you have TWO successful pages.

At this point you can start 2 more pages, and use the first two successful pages to build those.

And so on & so forth until you have a giant network.

This is how you make tens of thousands in PROFIT every single month from an Instagram theme page.

Then, if you're running or decide to eventually start a BRANDED page, the opportunities become endless.

You could launch a clothing brand or physical product, a business with REAL LEVERAGE that has the potential to hit hundreds of thousands a month or even millions a month and much more.

That's all within the reach of anyone who takes this seriously & is willing to play the long game.

It could be years before you have a strong network and are pulling those kind of numbers...

But even if it takes 10 years, ask yourself:

"Am I willing to work on this one business for 10 years in return for $1,000,000/mo income?"

Should be a no-brainer.

Now that's all well and good, but it's too far in the future to really motivate anyone.

Let's talk about how much you can realistically make in the next year from an Instagram theme page if you start today:

$0 To $1,000,000

There are certain milestones that everyone has in their heads when they first get into online business.

$10k/mo

$100k/mo

$100k net worth

$1,000,000 net worth

Something about our innate programming makes us drawn to these big, round numbers.

But here's the thing:

For most people, they will only ever be a dream.

If you work a 9-5, the probability of you hitting ANY of these milestones is extremely low, at least not until you're too old to really enjoy it.

If you start an online business, the probability of you hitting any of these milestones is higher, for sure...

But it is not guaranteed by any means.

It's easy to think that everyone who starts an online business succeeds and becomes a millionaire by the time they're 30...

This is simply not the case.

It only SEEMS that way because the only people who show their results on social media are the ones achieving above average results.

You know who NEVER posts about how their business is going on social media?

People who failed.

People who quit.

People who've spent 2 years in the game and still haven't achieved any meaningful success.

People who succeeded initially but it all went to shit because they made one mistake.

People who - despite their best effort - just couldn't make it work and were FORCED to eventually throw in the towel.

None of these people post about their LACK of success on social media...

And yet it happens all the time.

There are more "entrepreneurs" who fail at online business than there are ones who succeed.

Why am I telling you all this?

Because the path to succeeding in this game is hard. It takes a lot of work, pain tolerance, stamina, stress, frustration, persistence, discipline, and courage.

And even after all of that, you might still fail.

This is what people mean when they say business is “risky”.

It means you might actually fail.

If you're going to walk this path, this is something you should understand & be aware of from the very beginning.

It's not for everyone...

And if it's not for you, you can save yourself a lot of pain by choosing a route that's more suited to who you are.

Armed with that information, you now get to decide if you want to move forward.

If you do, you need to go all in.

No half measures.

You're entering a world filled with competitors who want to eat your lunch.

You either outperform them or you die.

With all that said, here's a rough estimate of what you could make from an IG theme page in 2024: (NO PROMISES AT ALL)

Month 1-3: $0-$2k/mo

Month 4-6: $3k-$8k/mo

Month 7-9: $8k-12k/mo

Month 9-12: $12k-$15k/mo

Overall, that would be somewhere between $65k and $100k for the year.

These numbers are based on my 5 years experience building IG theme pages and being in the space, watching/talking to other people growing theirs.

That's a lot of money.

Especially if this is your first year in online business.

But wait... there's more.

The 2024 Crypto Bull Run

With the 2024/25 crypto bull run, you stand to make a lot more money than listed above if you play your cards right.

Especially with theme pages, because you get to profit on both sides:

1. You make money by selling ads to new coins & projects (way more than you'd usually make from a normal shoutout - these businesses have deep pockets)
2. You make money by investing intelligently into the crypto markets to multiply your cash flow

With this being considered...

There's potential to quite comfortably come out the other side of 2024/mid-2025 with multiple 6 figures in your bank account.

Like I said, this is a life changing opportunity.

HOWEVER...

Right now you have no theme page, no experience building theme pages, and a mountain of work before you can start making any real money.

So what next?

Right now you have 3 options in front of you:

Option 1: Ignore everything in this training & keep doing what you've done up until now, working on a business that doesn't excite you or procrastinating on even starting to make money online.

Option 2: You can follow the exact process laid out for you in this training...

If you follow it to a T you'll inevitably see success but it will probably still take you longer to do so.

There's a ton of variables & nuance that we couldn't cover here, as well as unique things for your situation that you'll have to figure out by yourself through trial & error.

Or...

Option 3: You can work directly with us, we'll show you exactly how to launch, grow & monetize your theme page as fast as possible. All you have to do is follow the step-by-step instructions we give you, and you'll:

- a) Grow your page fast enough to really take advantage of the crypto bull run (if it takes too long, it might be too late)
- b) Be as close to guaranteed as possible to hitting $10k/mo in 2024 & your first 6 figures in the bank by 2025

We're limiting this to 10 people so we can work with you closely to make sure you get results.

If you're ready to make this a reality & and speak directly with me (Nick) about building your own theme page to $10k/mo in 2024...
