

We open on the top of a skyscraper that towers high over many other skyscrapers. A bright orange, muscular humanoid cat. He walks forward and claims a ruby colored katana.

HURRICANE

Heh. It's like taking candy from a kitten.

FROST

That may be true. But a responsible parent keeps their kitten close.

A white cat with blue eyes is standing behind Hurricane, along with several other black cats dressed in ninja outfits.

FROST

That katana belongs to the Calico Clan. A stray like you isn't worthy enough to wield it.

HURRICANE

Whos fault is it that I'm a stray now?

FROST

Certainly not mine. The Siamese clan hired me to keep that sword safe. They will think you are working for the Bengal clan, and attack. If you leave here, you could end up starting an all out war between clans. So put the sword back, before you destroy us all.

HURRICANE

Lord Smokey isn't that stupid, besides, he couldn't order an attack like that without the approval of the clan elders. But what is gonna happen is this; They're gonna fire the mercenary they hired to protect that katana, and that means you. I consider it revenge, after you got me kicked out of my Clan.

FROST

That may be true, but there's a problem with your plan. My men and I aren't going to let you leave this place alive.

All the other cats draw their swords in unison. Hurricane takes out a rusty looking katana, and wields it along with the ruby one. Hurricane charges and cuts down one of the ninja cats, then blocks the strike of another one before countering.

HURRICANE

Is that the best you- HISSSSS!

Hurricane leaps out of the way of a blue colored chain with a cucumber on the end.

FROST

I have mastered the art of the toxic plant known as the cucumber. Give it up now Hurricane.

Hurricane leaps downward and slashes at Frost. Frost pulls the sword out of the way with the chain and kicks Hurricane in the face.

HURRICANE

Hiiss!

FROST

Your pitiful cries for help will not save you now.

Hurricane sheaths the ruby sword and uses the rusty looking one. As the other cats come at him, he fights them off, having a much easier time of it then before. He manages to take out all the cats except for Frost.

HURRICANE

Not too bad if I do- WHAT!?

Frost is holding the ruby katana. He stole it during the battle without Hurricane noticing.

FROST

Until we meet again, Hurricane. I pray that day never comes.

Frost leaps over the edge of the building, and Hurricane quickly follows suit. Frost grabs a hold of a nearby window and pulls himself inside. Hurricane sees this and jams the rusted Katana into the building and uses it to stop his fall. He cuts through the same window on the way down. He then goes inside and goes to catch Frost.

HURRICANE

Come back here and fight me like a Tom!

Frost sends the chain at Hurricane, who dodges it and cuts the cucumber off at the end. He catches up to Frost and tackles him to the ground. He and Frost wrestle over the Ruby Katana.

FROST

Let go of that blade you idiot! You don't know the kind of power it has!

HURRICANE

As a matter of fact, I know exactly what it does! This!

Hurricane presses a button near the handle of a Katana. He shuts his eyes as a red dot appears on the floor.

FROST

N-no. Must resist...

HURRICANE

That's the power of the ruby blade. A mind control weapon, banned millions of years ago.

FROST

You idiot, turn this off before you kill us both!

HURRICANE

You killed my family. Apologize and maybe I won't send you out the window.

FROST

They got what they deserved. If I could do it all over again, I would send flying out that window all over again.

HURRICANE

Wrong answer!

Hurricane presses a few more buttons, and four red light dots are shone onto a window.

FROST

N-no. I can't... AAAHHH!

Frost charges at the red lights and crashes through the window to try and get them. He leaps out of the building, falling to his death. Hurricane turns the lights off and puts the Ruby Katana away.

HURRICANE

Right then. That's one member of the Blackwell gang down. Five to go.

Hurricane crosses Frosts name off a crumpled up list, and then stuffs it into his pocket. Hurricane walks over to the elevator, then takes it to the ground floor.

END SCENE.
