

The MAIN Foundation!

What I've realised after working with hundreds of business owners, is that everyone is attempting to build a profitable coaching business, but most of you are winging it... and let's be honest, completely overwhelmed.

- How do I attract new clients?
- How can I keep all these clients happy?
- I know I have another level I can step too, how do I get there?
- What software do I use?
- How do I get results?
- What do I do first?

You've probably asked one, if not all of these questions before...

So here is the deal...

- I am going to show you how to ramp up your marketing so you can consistently bring in new clients.
- I am going to show you how to build a coaching program that delivers on your promises, without you spending every single hour of every day to do so.
- Plus, I am going to show you how you can become the leader you know you can be.

First...

- We will find the breaks in the chain that is your marketing.
- Once we have those, we will fix them and ensure you have a marketing ecosystem set up that'll continually bring new leads into your community.

Then...

- We will adjust your offer and program delivery.
- The goal here is simple.
 - Increase profits.
 - Improve client experience.
 - Decrease your time to do so.

After that...

- We deep dive into the person you need to become to step up and into your best self.
- The behaviours, characteristics and actions you need to have to give yourself an opportunity at success.

The Investment?

Your investment for The MAIN Foundation is a one time fee of £100.

I should be charging 10x this, but instead I want to deliver 10x the value.

No refunds, because if you don't get the value you seek, you've not watched or implemented any of the content which could drastically change your business.

You can start your journey here.

Any questions, just let me know by sending me a DM on my socials.

Excited to see you build.

Appreciate you,
Samuel Main
