-----Psychical Opinion-----

Mr. Travis Westland shows great intelligence and cleverness, no defects related to thinking have been detected. However, he was recognised as a tendency to be addicted, mainly smoking. As the chief psychologist, I suspect the patient has chronic complaints related to the ease of falling into addictions, as of the moment the absence of any addictions. It is recommended to observe and control the presence of any harmful addiction that may affect the life or health of the patient.
