

SC276: You thought the connection between Mykan Redux last week and the first riff of 2017 was tedious, get a load of this. The author of that fic was called TheGreatGodzilla, and this one... has Godzilla. That's literally it.

Ringmaster: At least there's a more structural connection between this one and last week's, making a weird sort of shit-triangle: Both of them are by authors that were submitted with fics too long/incomplete to ever run, luckily they had these other options in their library for us to tackle.

SC276: For certain black-and-white bear-shaped definitions of "luckily."

Ringmaster: This particular author was submitted for an incredibly odd, poorly-written fic where Twilight discovered that she was really the reincarnation of an elder god from Kirby.

SC276: Oh that just bodes well. I'm not sure whether or not us missing that crossover is lucky, I've been looking for a while on that front.

Ringmaster: Seeing that that fic was incomplete and that the author had entirely moved on from it, I checked their other work and quickly noticed something: 80% of their work involves Twilight discovering that she wasn't born a pony as she suddenly transforms into her real form. Take a look at the title of this week's riff, and jump to your own conclusions.

SC276: And I thought the spurt of "X was a changeling the entire time" fics was ridiculous. This guy feels like that movement personified. Time to get on the prison bus, because it's about to get radioactive.

Ringmaster: Without further ado, "Godzilla's Lost Child" by Cipher800.

SC276: Hopefully this goes down better than what the other 799 Ciphers wrote.

BittplexMutt: They were probably more interesting than whatever this is.

Crazy56U: Godzilla is spinning in his fucking grave. Also, I'm betting dollars to fucking donuts that the Author read "The Bridge" and decided "Fuck it, I can have Godzilla in MLP too!"

ThatUnknownPony: That title alone makes me tremble more than any Godzilla roar.

Calico: After reading a chapter of this author's aforementioned Kirby fic, I can safely say this is going to be quite a ride. Also, yeah, you can thank me for finding out about this author. Or hurl tomatoes at me, either-or.

Mono: Well, last time we did a fic involving kaiju everyone got cancer and Peppa Pig got beaten to death. Let's see if we can one-up that this time.

Prologue

Long, long ago, in an island near Hiroshima, Japan,

Crazy56U: oh dear god no don't do this

ThatUnknownPony: nervously tugs neck collar

BittplexMutt: No one make any you-know-what jokes, Ring is watching.

Calico: I have a few dark jokes swirling around in my head that honestly worry me. Not even a sentence into the first chapter and I'm already uncomfortable.

SC276: (Googles) OK, there's a few different islands those could be, but I couldn't get names.

CaptainPipsqueak: Heh. One sentence in and the story's already bombing...

a creature resides.

Crazy56U: Okay, thank God, we already have Godzilla, we're not redoing the bombing...

BittplexMutt: "-having just moved from the Black Lagoon."

Calico: Why yes, creatures do live in Japan! Thank you, author!

Mono: Really? I thought Japan was just an island filled with school girls and tentacle monster- fuck, those are creatures...

CaptainPipsqueak: And don't forget the two that spend their time shouting each others' names...

It was the last of the non-avian dinosaurs,

SC276: Oh so you're trying to take chickens out of the definition.

Crazy56U: Good. Fucking clucking assholes...

ThatUnknownPony: Because as we all know, Godzilla is apparently a dinosaur.

CaptainPipsqueak: LIES!

Crazy56U: (Googles) ...actually...

closely related to dinosaurs like Majungasaurus and Carnosaurus.

Crazy56U: But what about the Tannenosaurus?

BittplexMutt: Or the Giantasaurus?

Mono: Don't forget the Thatsabigfuckingdinosaursaurus

CaptainPipsqueak: Or the Firstweekofthenewyearasuarus?

This is a Godzillasaurus,

Crazy56U: "OI! All you paleontologists reading this story! STOP FUCKING SOBBING!"

ThatUnknownPony: "Truly a dinosaur ahead of its time, capable of firing atomic lasers from its mouth."

CaptainPipsqueak: The only dinosaur that can cook it's meal before it eats it.

BittplexMutt: Pretty sure this is something from the Godzilla lore.

tall, grey, and about the size of an elephant.

Crazy56U: ...no? I've seen at least one Godzilla movie, and he's a lot fucking biyou fucking son of a bitch, we ARE redoing the origin, aren't we?!

CaptainPipsqueak: At least it isn't Minilla...

BittplexMutt: It must have been a pretty big elephant.

SC276: Tall, grey... Are you sure this is Godzilla, and not an elephant that learned to walk on its hind legs? Probably to cheat in sports competitions to become captain of the guard?

ThatUnknownPony: Unless it has three sets of tusks, we can't know for sure.

Mono: As opposed to tall, dark and handsome.

CaptainPipsqueak: Tall and dark, anyway.

He was the top predator of the island, and the last of his kind on it.

BittplexMutt: Hence why you said it was the last non-avian dinosaur from earlier.

SC276: He has to die of old age eventually, right?

Crazy56U: If I'm familiar with my Godzilla lore, at one point he went into meltdown like a nuclear reactor and died. His son then absorbed all the radiation and became New Godzilla, so technically Godzilla will only die when the universe implodes.

SC276: ...As I said. Eventually.

Crazy56U: You're still wrong.

CaptainPipsqueak: Godzilla is immortal! Like mozzarella sticks!

Nearby, the detonation of a nuclear bomb occurred,

Crazy56U: DAMN IT

BittplexMutt: Crap, we're really doing this, aren't we?

ThatUnknownPony: we're going straight to hell for this

Calico: Stop tempting me to make dark jokes, author; I really don't need to feel any worse about myself.

CaptainPipsqueak: Oh come on; we all nuke this was going to happen.

Mono: Aaaand, there is the cancer!

obliterating Hiroshima and sending radiation all over the place,

Crazy56U: DAMNIT, WORLD WAR II DID NOT DESERVE TO BE DRAGGED INTO THIS

BittplexMutt: The innocent people who perished in Hiroshima don't deserve this.

ThatUnknownPony: just the beginning and we already hit rock bottom taking out the island as well.

SC276: That doesn't seem physically possible.

ThatUnknownPony: That's exactly what Jimmy kept screaming.

Crazy56U: And that, kiddies, is how Minecraft: The Island ended!

But somehow,

BittplexMutt: "-it got worse."

Crazy56U: "-the radiation stopped existing."

against all odds, the Godzillasaurus survived the explosion, and mutated into something big.

Crazy56U: Now he was the size of two elephants.

CaptainPipsqueak: You might think it's a long way to the chemist's but that's peanuts to Godzilla! Listen...

The Kaiju King was born.

BittplexMutt: ~It's the circle of life....~

Crazy56U: And it's really scary...

Calico: Hey, at least it's not the Dakari-King, am I right?

Mono: Then again, I can see Mykan being a deformity caused by radiation...

CaptainPipsqueak: "You see, kids? This is what happens if you don't use a condom!"

ThatUnknownPony: Mykan or Godzilla?

His brain couldn't handle the new intelligence,

ThatUnknownPony: "-and so his brain exploded and spread all over the ocean."

Crazy56U: "-and so Godzilla died. THE END"

Calico: [Godzilla] "OH GOD I DID NOT NEED TO KNOW THESE THINGS"
CaptainPipsqueak: "WHY? WHY WAS I BORN WITH THE INTERNET IN MY BRAIN?"

and had new feelings inside him, anger, revenge, and Crazy56U: "-sexual lust." (is immediately set on fire and killed)

ThatUnknownPony: "Boredom."
Mono: "Apathy."
CaptainPipsqueak: "...wanting to try out that new sushi restaurant that opened last week."

several other things

SC276: [the author] "-whatever the fuck they are-"
Crazy56U: "Mainly hunger."
ThatUnknownPony: "Mostly boredom."
CaptainPipsqueak: "Sexual lust." Ha. I got away wit CRUNCH collapses, blood streaming from ears and nose
Crazy56U: (having hit Pip with a shovel; pulls shovel back) Now, what did we learn?
(looks at shovel) ...oh, goddamnit, you dented it.
CaptainPipsqueak: ...not... ...'pologising...

have accumulated in his mind as he decided to destroy Tokyo.

Calico: As you do.
Crazy56U: Because why not turn the screws on Japan even more?
SC276: Um, World War II isn't over yet, could you maybe reschedule? Y'know, out of consideration?
BittplexMutt: "Instead of attacking the United States."
ThatUnknownPony: Trust me, you don't want Godzilla attacking the USA. The last time he did, we got a god awful movie.
CaptainPipsqueak: Besides, destroying Tokyo is Akira's job!

The Proto-Godzilla

SC276: What is this, Transformers?
Crazy56U: I. Fucking. Wish.
CaptainPipsqueak: Godzilla wages his battle to destroy the evil of bad fanfiction!

rampaged through Tokyo, destroying everything and everyone in sight.

BittplexMutt: There were no survivors.
ThatUnknownPony: He then decided to fuck off into the sea and nothing else happened. THE END.
Mono: Oh no, there goes Tokyo...
Crazy56U: Would you like to play a game of hide and seek now?

CaptainPipsqueak: Not so much "love" as "fear". Godzilla's not exactly the friend of children everywhere.

As soon as the King of the Monsters returned, he did not take any more chances.

Calico: Good on him for kicking the gambling habit!

BittplexMutt: It wasn't worth the risk anyway.

SC276: Oh come on, I was fleecing the brute but good!

CaptainPipsqueak: Hey, what happens in Vegas...

ThatUnknownPony: And soon got the fuck out of dodge before things got more messed up.

Crazy56U: "Within the hour, everyone would die."

He returned to Tokyo larger and more powerful than he ever was before.

Calico: And now he's as big as three elephants!

Mono: So where are the ponies supposed to be in all of this? Is Canterlot in Japan?

Crazy56U: No, Canterlot is (points in a nonspecific direction) over yonder.

Once again did he challenge mankind

Crazy56U: EPIC RAP BATTLES OF HISTORY! HUMANITY! VERSUS!

GODZILLLLLLLLLLLLA BEGIN!

CaptainPipsqueak: [Godzilla]

"EEEEERUUUUUUUNNNN!!!!" drops mic

[Announcer] "Godzilla wins!"

and once again did he wind up losing, this time being imprisoned inside a mountain.

BittplexMutt: How they managed to trap a monster in a mountain is anybody's guess.

ThatUnknownPony: Too bad said mountain only held him for about a day.

SC276: He was put in the cell next to Sun Wukong.

Crazy56U: But unfortunately, it was Mt. St. Helens, and the second it erupted, Godzilla's rampage started anew.

He got out, fought the giant plant monster known as Biollante.

Calico: ...Okay?

Mono: Gesuntiheit.

ThatUnknownPony: Honestly what giant monster hasn't he fought?

Crazy56U: (Googles) Oh, Jesus fucking Christ, this is using the '84 reboot continuity...

CaptainPipsqueak: 'kay.

After that catastrophe was over

SC276: I highly doubt that, as the story's still going.

Crazy56U: The Narrator just got drunk mid-story, fucking brace yourselves.

CaptainPipsqueak: Catastropher, brother of Christopher!

and Biollante's spores floated off into space, he eventually found a female Godzillasarus with the same mutations he had.

Calico: ...no

CaptainPipsqueak: I concur.

ThatUnknownPony: Completely contradicting the previous statement of him being the last of his kind.

Mono: Just what Godzilla always needed, lizard porn.

Crazy56U: Basically, it was literally just Godzilla but with a bow, a la Ms. Pac Man.

The two decided to mate

Crazy56U: If you've ever seen turtles hump, then you most likely already know how this played out.

Mono: Yep, thanks. Because I totally needed those mental images burned into my retinae...

and produce three offspring, two of which were boys, and one of which was a girl.

Crazy56U: Godzilla Jr., Godzilla Jr. Jr., and Godzilla Jr.♀

Mono: This is important because screw you.

SC276: That is the general sentiment I've inferred from pretty much every author we've riffed, yes.

ThatUnknownPony: I have a feeling this fact will come back to haunt us.

CaptainPipsqueak: tries to find a way to make an incest joke; fails

They were still unhatched, so there was no way for them to know their genders yet.

Calico: Which is why you just told us anyway.

Crazy56U: Their gender was currently "egg".

ThatUnknownPony: Nobody dare to make the "gender assumption" joke!

Mono: Did you just assume my sense of humor?!

Crazy56U: ... (quietly places hand on face)

The soon-to-be mother of the three hid her eggs away

Crazy56U: She buried them in a pile of dirt with a "NO EGGS" sign nearby.

CaptainPipsqueak: Flawless tactics!

not only from the humans, but also from the ferocious three-headed dragon that was King Ghidorah.

Crazy56U: Some say he was a king. Some say he was a God. They were both right.

SC276: Who is suddenly a thing now.

Crazy56U: He was hiding behind the black.

ThatUnknownPony: Yeah, you kinda skipped a few details, author.

Mono: Wasn't he supposed to be killed by kaiju power rangers?

CaptainPipsqueak: That was his daughter, Princess Ghidorah.

Godzilla once again had to fight someone else and once again defeated another foe.

BittplexMutt: The foe that couldn't be bothered to have a name.

ThatUnknownPony: "-And then he had to fight someone else and then he defeated another foe. And then another one..."

Crazy56U: Godzilla vs. the Board of Education

CaptainPipsqueak: Godzilla vs. That Bastard Who Was Late Delivering His Pizza

After defeating his draconic foe, Godzilla decided that the next matter was to raise his children. He waited for months for them to hatch, and the humans were starting to get suspicious on what Godzilla was up to.

Crazy56U: "-solve global warming."

CaptainPipsqueak: "-become mascot for a group of teenagers that solve mysteries."

SC276: If he's not wandering into human-frequent areas, why do they care?

ThatUnknownPony: Geez, humans are masochists in this reality if they miss him already.

CaptainPipsqueak: Well, there's some buildings that need to be leveled to make way for new ones, and it's either pay for contractors or...

Crazy56U: He's just standing there... MENACINGLY!

They scoured the globe, looking for him with every piece of equipment that they could find SC276: You at some point managed to lose track of a fifty-story kaiju?

CaptainPipsqueak: He hunkers down behind skyscrapers. He used to give himself away by giggling, but he's learned his lesson well.

Crazy56U: ...well, it's not like there isn't precedent...

until one day,

Mono: "They found a frying pan they could use."

ThatUnknownPony: "Godzilla came back and killed everyone. THE END."

Crazy56U: "-they got bored, and decided to resume their search for Waldo."

they saw that Godzilla was apparently a father.

BittplexMutt: A monster becoming a dad? It's more likely than you think.

CaptainPipsqueak: ...so the created a wacky family-based sitcom about it!

Crazy56U: [Human A] "My god... ...it's '98 Godzilla all over again!"

[Human B] "NUKE HIM! NUKE HIM NOW!"

Two of the three children have already hatched by the time they have managed to find out about Godzilla's whereabouts.

BittplexMutt: It took them awhile to find them despite Godzilla being so huge.

ThatUnknownPony: Turns out they never bothered searching beyond Japan.

Crazy56U: And by then, those two children had wiped Australia off the face of the Earth.

They noticed the three and knew if there was more of Godzilla's kind, there would be even more trouble.

BittplexMutt: It's too late for that.

Crazy56U: After all, there's been, like, 60 Godzilla films. It's an epidemic, man.

CaptainPipsqueak: Yeah, do you honestly think he was in all of them? He's just one... atomic dinosaur... thing.

ThatUnknownPony: There's no stopping Godzilla now.

So, they decided to destroy the only unhatched egg left.

Crazy56U: "The search team had all collectively decided that continuing to live was stupid."

CaptainPipsqueak: There was a short period in which they considered boiling it and feeding it to the poor, but they thought it it was, and I quote: 'Gross'.

They invented a powerful weapon that was designed just for that purpose,

Mono: A giant metal spoon to crack open the egg.

ThatUnknownPony: A mallet.

SC276: [human scientist] "You know that gun from Sluggy Freelance that transports things to alternate dimensions? Basically that."

Crazy56U: A shoe.

BittplexMutt: A frying pan.

and intended to use it on the egg, not knowing what it was.

SC276: ...An egg? Pay attention?

Crazy56U: No, dummy. They had no idea if it was a fresh egg, or if it was a spoiled egg. They were risking a biohazard situation.

ThatUnknownPony: I don't think Godzilla is the kind of monster who would spoil his kids.

CaptainPipsqueak: No, they weren't sure what the weapon was. Their chief scientist had it written on a napkin, but then someone sneezed... .. They're not smart in Japan. Cut them some slack.

They did not want to risk interbreeding between Godzilla's offspring.

SC276: why are you jumping to incest

CaptainPipsqueak: Yeah, I tried going there and I couldn't come up with anything.

Crazy56U: ...I guess the search team was either from the South, or from Michigan.

And that was exactly what they did. But you should never bite the hand of the beast.

SC276: Unless properly sedated. You or it is up for debate.

CaptainPipsqueak: I'm now imagining Godzilla shaking his hand and shouting "OWIE OWIE OWIE!"

Crazy56U: Unless you want to make the best worst reboot of Jackass.

The weapon was successful in its mission just as the baby hatched, but not as successful as one would hope, only taking out the unhatched egg, and was destroyed by an angry .

Mono: And everyone should know that you should never fuck with angry spaces.

ThatUnknownPony: Spaces are dangerous when you try and mess up with them.

SC276: I warned you about those ninja spaces, dawg!

Crazy56U: THEY PISSED OFF THE GHOSTS!

CaptainPipsqueak: THE PERIODS ARE ENRAGED!

The mother died of "natural" causes and passed away before the boys hatched.

BittplexMutt: More like she just ditched him.

Crazy56U: Yeah, uh huh, sure, "natural" causes. She choked to death on a whale, don't lie to me.

CaptainPipsqueak: Hey, whales are tasty! Especially the blue ones! They taste like grapes.

ThatUnknownPony: Pretty sure "getting the fuck out" doesn't count as "dying".

The death of his child was what made the King of Monsters snap.

SC276: And not the wife?

Crazy56U: They were going through a rough patch; he just found out she was seeing Mothra behind his back.

CaptainPipsqueak: Huh. I always thought Mothra was gay. ... Y'know, with the fluttering and all.

ThatUnknownPony: They were already divorced when she died.

BittplexMutt: Well, he didn't care about her enough if he couldn't really remember her name.

He wast the last, then the first, and now, he was the last once again.

SC276: Let me get this straight. You're recapping an entire Godzilla continuity to establish the background of your pony fic. When no amount of explanation will be able to satisfy any questions pertaining to Twilight Sparkle's heritage being freakin' Godzilla, and you seem unable to grasp that fact. God, I'm honestly curious what the "explanation" for the Kirby one was now.

Crazy56U: So, basically:

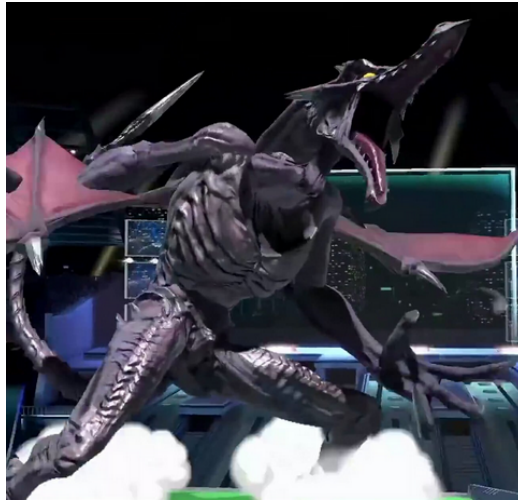

CaptainPipsqueak: ~He's the last then the first then the last then the first, he's a last first stack, a last first stack!~

Not long ago, his other two children were found and killed not by humans, but by a giant, insectoid kaiju known as Megagirus.

Mono: feverishly writing things down Okay, is this going to be on the test?

Crazy56U: Well, A) it's Megagirus, you idiot, and B) here's what he looks like.

ThatUnknownPony: ...I mean, he's a vicious killer, you got a point there.

He fought and defeated her in a matter of minutes in revenge, but now. NOW!

Crazy56U:

His only daughter was gone too.

SC276: Sounds like she was gone a while ago, actually.

BittplexMutt: Because screw those other children being killed.

Crazy56U: Not really, she's over there (points in a nonspecific direction).

The line was crossed, and the King's rage was finally coming out.

SC276:

BittplexMutt: And the fuse has been lit.

Crazy56U: ...so, nothing new, got it.

CaptainPipsqueak: Yeah, anger's basically Godzilla's defining trait.

All the rage he had in store all those years, he now used it on several of humankind's most powerful and sacred cities one by one. Great religious cities were utterly decimated.

ThatUnknownPony: I think the author confused Godzilla with Dracula.

SC276: ...I'm sorry, why does Godzilla hate God now?

CaptainPipsqueak: Because there can be only one God, and his name is Zilla!

Crazy56U: It's about the principle of the thing, damnit!

Mono: Excuse me, what the fuck did Detroit ever do to you?

Crazy56U: (dead-eyed stare) ... (ball drops in the background)

The called him a devil,

Crazy56U: Devil and God. Godzilla is the perfect being.

they were out to kill him in the name of their gods.

ThatUnknownPony: Again, Godzilla, not Dracula.

Crazy56U: "Specifically, in the name of Elvis."

But what god is there to save them from his rage?

Crazy56U: (scratches back of head in contemplation)does Bill Murray count?

Japan, the Koreas, Vatican City, and Luxembourg were all taken down,

SC276: ~Kropermann is a monster from Luxembourg / who's actually the size of Luxembourg / He crushed the whole country of Luxembourg / because he is the size of Luxembourg!~

Mono: Because... fuck the pope and the 1%?

Crazy56U: "Sorry about that. :\" and entire cultures lost thanks to the mad king.

CaptainPipsqueak: Well, if you'd stop shooting him with missiles he wouldn't be mad all the time.

The humans knew why Godzilla was mad at them, but they decided to do something about it.

SC276: They erased their memories.

ThatUnknownPony: They escaped to space.

CaptainPipsqueak: Anger-management classes.

They sent a squadron of planes to distract Godzilla from destroying them and diverted his attention.

Mono: Yes, tiny little things Godzilla can just swat away like that. That is going to help.

ThatUnknownPony: Ah yes, what a magnificent plan: throw missiles at the monster who's barely bothered by them. That clearly won't piss him further.

The King of the Kaiju was led into the polar regions of the world, and that's where they wanted him to be.

ThatUnknownPony: Because... He's weak to ice?

Once they decided that he was far enough in, they released their missiles, and in the next moment, their gargantuan enemy was finally gone.

SC276: Sounds like something you've could've done without him needing to be in... one of the two polar regions, which you've apparently haven't decided on.

Mono: Great, we're done here! gets up and walks off

But the tale of Godzilla was not done yet.

SC276: WHERE ARE THE FUCKING PONIES ALREADY

ThatUnknownPony: After all of this, you still want the ponies to show up?

CaptainPipsqueak: They're kind of the point to us being here, so...

Crazy56U: And outbursts like that are why they are taking their time to show up, young man. What have you learned?

SC276: That you're terrible at answering questions.

BittplexMutt: Even though it should have ended by now.

His body remained intact year after year. The continents drifted ever so slightly here and there, but nothing budged him.

Mono: Until global warming happened. And this is why caring for the environment is a good thing. Otherwise Godzilla will fuck your shit up.

Millions of years passed, and then, he finally escaped from his frosty prison. He did not know how long he was trapped, he had no way of telling.

SC276: Nor how the fuck he got loose again in the first place.

CaptainPipsqueak: Magic.

ThatUnknownPony: Mostly because he didn't give a crap about the concept of time.

BittplexMutt: [Godzilla] "What year is this?"

But he did have one thing left inside him: rage. He was still mad at the humans at the facts that they took his daughter and sealed him twice.

SC276: Never mind what happened to his sons. Whatever that was.

BittplexMutt: That was like a page ago, we've completely forgot about them.

ThatUnknownPony: And so has Godzilla, apparently.
CaptainPipsqueak: Godzilla don't give a shit.

The King of Monsters swam through the cold, murky waters lit by a now purple night. The night was now purple, not black? Well, more light was provided, but it seemed off somehow.

SC276: Well it was blue back before all that light pollution...
CaptainPipsqueak: Damn light pollution!
BittplexMutt: It's all darkish grey from here.
ThatUnknownPony: Almost like it was purple just for aesthetic reasons.

Godzilla shook his head and returned to the task at hand. The King of Monsters swam across the sea, looking at the various islands around the area. Godzilla peaked his head and mountains in the distance.

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Hey, it's the mountain where I was trapped long ago!"

There's land up close, he could sense it. Godzilla swam closer to the continent or the large island, whatever it is, and saw lights out there in the distance. When he came closer, he took notice of fireworks shooting from the sky.

Mono: The people were celebrating their annual, "let's not lure a kaiju" party.
CaptainPipsqueak: Are you sure it's not the "Thank God a Giant Monster Hasn't Eaten Us All" celebration?

So not only are they still around, but they are also celebrating his demise? Well, they'll be in for a big surprise once they see him.

SC276: Such comeback.
BittplexMutt: I think they'll be seeing you very quickly given you're Godzilla.
CaptainPipsqueak: Well, they lost Godzilla once before...

Ducking back into the water, Godzilla swam until his spines became clearly visible. He then went into an upright position and walked the rest of the way, causing a tsunami to destroy the coastal areas. Godzilla smirked.

CaptainPipsqueak: Or he would have, if he had lips or his face were capable of showing emotion.

He was back and fired up. The fireworks, weren't so much. As the inhabitants looked towards the mighty beast, they panicked. As Godzilla trekked further inland, the inhabitants became more clear to him. They were not human, but were apparently some type of equine creature.

SC276: God fucking hell, Godzilla exists in Conversion Bureau.
BittplexMutt: So it became a triple threat crossover all of a sudden.
ThatUnknownPony: I don't know if that's dumber or better than ponies naturally evolving into the dominant race.
Mono: ...Okay, so ponies shoot off fireworks on a regular basis now?

CaptainPipsqueak: Some idiot voted Pinkie Pie into public office and she made it a law before someone realised what a horrible mistake they had made.

Some had wings, some had horns, others had neither of any.

Mono: And others had wings and horns, but we don't talk about those.

Either he was trapped in the ice for too long or he was so hungry that he was starting to hallucinate. He did not feel hungry, though.

SC276: That would require him to gasp kill the cute ponies!

ThatUnknownPony: Well, he already caused a tsunami upon them, I'm sure he already drowned a couple dozens.

BittplexMutt: Despite being trapped in ice for many years.

Shrugging it off, he proceeded to rampage through the city,

Mono: Because... Godzilla's gotta Godzilla, I guess.

fixating on the biggest and explosive things he could find.

ThatUnknownPony: This story.

He wanted to do it to a human city, but they were replaced, he did not know how, by weird horse creature things.

Mono: Are we sure this is not co-written by Chat?

His rage was still inside him, and he needed to take it out.

SC276: So he signed up for an online forum.

BittplexMutt: He decided to take some boxing lessons.

Mono: And thus he became a YouTube troll.

They mimicked the long-past humans of yesterday quite well, only without advanced artillery and technology, but it was fair enough.

SC276: Granted, there's no evidence Godzilla would even be aware of technology prior to the creation of nukes, so why should we take his opinion on it?

ThatUnknownPony: You just wait until they call the princess to zap you into stone.

BittplexMutt: Godzilla really needs to get with the times.

Godzilla roared out into space and resumed his rampage to dampen his fury. The King of Monsters didn't expect HORSES to become dominant.

Mono: How do you even know what horses are?

No matter, he's still very mad, and he needs to do something, just something that's able to quell his rage.

SC276: Then why the fuck are you still here? This just incites rage.

Crazy56U: (singing poorly) DESPITE ALL HIS RAGE, HE'S STILL JUST A RAT IN A CAGE!

BittplexMutt: And that's the story of how Godzilla attacked Equestria.

Author's Notes:

Alright, so, this is a reboot to my old story: Daughter of Godzilla.

Crazy56U: The plot twist was that she was actually the Daughter of Mothra.

SC276: Was Twilight covered in alien starfish in that fic?

BittplexMutt: I hesitate to know what happened in the original.

I struck a major plot hole

Crazy56U: Because writing fanfiction is like mining now.

Mono: So what is riffing fanfiction, then? Polishing raw material?

BittplexMutt: "-instead of striking gold like what miners do."

and this guy noted it out,

Crazy56U: "Uh, hey, Author, where's Japan? You didn't mention Japan once in this Godzilla fanfic?" "... ..Japan's real?"

so, with that user's advice, I'm remaking it anew. The beginning is a little rushed, SC276: You call summarizing an entire continuity RUSHED?!

Crazy56U:

ThatUnknownPony: Oh lord, if this is rushed, then we're in for a long ride.

but oh well, when I'm done, I intend to complete this story.

SC276: I wish you didn't.

The Beast Continues

BittplexMutt: "-to rethink his life choices."

ThatUnknownPony: "-to regret everything."

Mono: "-after this commercial break."

When Godzilla defeated Biollante, her spores went into the sky for one final time. A human girl's face could be seen by at least one man before he was shot.

SC276:

BittplexMutt: Granted it was just a face but still.

ThatUnknownPony: Not like they could miss him.

Crazy56U: Specifically, this human girl.

But that wasn't about the man. Some of Biollante's spores were unknowingly carried to the sky by Mothra and were sucked into a black hole, with the cells of the three merging with crystalline organisms and energy from supernovae, slowly evolving over thousands of years into a new creature.

Mono: And a pinch of Chemical X.

ThatUnknownPony: Its name was... Ridley.

It was similar to Godzilla, but was blue, had a crown on its head, and had two large crystals on its shoulders. A new creature was born and emerged from a white hole somewhere in the galaxy.

SC276: So... Deoxys.

ThatUnknownPony: (Googles) ...Oh right, SpaceGodzilla was a thing.

Mono: Now that I know that I instantly wish it wasn't a thing.

BittplexMutt: That makes so much sense.

The new mind its first goal: to take over a world that it never knew about.

SC276: [Deoxys] "The same thing we do every night, Pinkie."

BittplexMutt: How can you take over a world if you don't even know where it is?

ThatUnknownPony: DNA memory or some crap like that.

Its crystals enlarged and propelled it into space, causing it to fly towards a set location. It will take thousands of years for it to get there, and it will get there, at least it thought it.

SC276: Author, you're crossing over with Godzilla, not the works of H.P. Lovecraft.
BittplexMutt: Probably a good thing, because we would have to be dealing with Cthulhu.

ThatUnknownPony: Well, good news: This is still Godzilla lore. Bad news? This is completely fucking up with the actual Godzilla continuity.

--<Present Day>--

SC276: You did like a million year time skip, you're gonna have to be more specific.
BittplexMutt: So... 2015?
Mono: Nope, January 10th, 2019.
Crazy56U: Nope, February 26th, 1995.
CaptainPipsqueak: Nope, AD 2101.

A small, purple alicorn walked into the library and began to read one of her books in front of a fireplace.

SC276: Y'know, ya'd think if Godzilla showed up in Equestria, Celestia would have every available princess on the front lines.
ThatUnknownPony: Or she would be already rallying Twilight and friends to do the hard work for them.
Mono: "Upon realizing she was reading Starfleet, she then promptly chucked the book in the fireplace."

Twilight wasn't born an alicorn to begin with.

Crazy56U: "Once upon a time, Hasbro decided to throw a live grenade into their cartoon just to see how the fanbase reacted."
CaptainPipsqueak: "Which is at best irony, seeing as roughly every third fanfic at that point involved her becoming one."

She was born as a unicorn up in Canterlot to Twilight Velvet and Nightlight, and got her cutie mark and unlocked her raw magical potential thanks to the sonic rainboom that Rainbow Dash preformed a long time ago.

BittplexMutt: "See guys, I DID watch the show."
Crazy56U: "She also perfected the moonshine still and is technically legally dead from alcohol poisoning several times over."
CaptainPipsqueak: Fortunately, she also perfected a spell that would regrow her liver.

She is still in her teens

Mono: Not according to Faust she isn't.

Crazy56U: "Twilight has been on the sauce for so many years now, she legitimately has forgotten when she was born. This has not affected her life in the slightest."

and she is already so successful, even ascending to alicornhood and becoming the Princess of Friendship.

SC276: So, you're claiming that Rarity is running at least one successful boutique... as a teen.

Mono: And Applejack is co-running a farm as a teen?

ThatUnknownPony: Are you guessing their ages based on the fact they're teens in Equestria Girls?

Crazy56U: Okay, Rarity lying about her age, I get, but the others?

CaptainPipsqueak: Magic.

So many challenges were beat, so many obstacles were overcome,

Mono: "So many AA meetings were postponed."

Crazy56U: "So many, many angry letters after the airing of 'Fame and Misfortune' and its lack of an actual point."

and now, she even has her own castle.

Mono: For better or worse, but whatever.

Crazy56U: The Crystal Death Place, in all of its horrifying glory.

CaptainPipsqueak: I prefer 'Castle Fuck You'.

It was a long ride and look where she is now.

SC276: I'm trying, but all I'm seeing is text.

ThatUnknownPony: Visual writer, everyone.

Crazy56U: "Setting Spike's latest corpse on fire to try and speed up the clean up."

CaptainPipsqueak: You'd think a dragon would be naturally impossible to burn, but Twilight found a way.

But suddenly, a there was a knock on the door.

Mono: Let me guess, Ed Sheeran?

Crazy56U: There needs to be two more knocks, you dummy.

CaptainPipsqueak: Wait for them to ring the bell and let 'em in.

Twilight opened it to see a couple of Royal Guards standing outside. They bore expressions of tiredness and of fear.

BittplexMutt: Hey, that's just like us.

ThatUnknownPony: Except we aren't near as useless as the Royal Guards.

Crazy56U: [Royal Guard A] "We just got fired."

[Royal Guard Timmy] "Can we live here?"

[Twilight Sparkle] "... (slowly shuts the door)"

"Princess Twilight, we have bad news from Manehattan. It was destroyed..." one of the guards said.

BittplexMutt: It better not be what I think it is...

Crazy56U: The main suspected culprit has many aliases, but you know them as "Gummy".

Twilight dropped the book and stood up.

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "You. Are not. The pizza guy. (slams the door shut) I ORDERED PIZZA TEN MINUTES AGO, EITHER PRODUCE PIZZA OR FUCK OFF"

She was afraid, yet spoke.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "If something that big was threatening Equestria, why wouldn't Celestia just send me a letter- oh right, Spike hasn't respawned yet after I shivved him ten minutes ago."

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight Sparkle] "Please tell me Celestia is already taken care of it and that I don't have to deal with yet another ancient evil."

Mono: [Twilight] "Oh my God, is it Saturday already? Look, can you please ask Starlight to sort this shit out for me?"

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "...sorry, wrong number. (slams the door shut)"

CaptainPipsqueak: [Twilight Sparkle] "Is it asking too much that Celestia for once get off of her cake-padded ass and actually do something?!"

"What was it destroyed by?" Twilight asked.

"Well, for starters, it was bigger than the largest Ursa Major.

BittplexMutt: "Which is odd because there's only one Ursa Major that we know about."

Crazy56U: "By our records, it's about the size of four elephants."

CaptainPipsqueak: [Twilight Sparkle] "Vertically, or horizontally?"

[Royal Guard " God, you're stupid."

It was a giant, bipedal, wingless dragon with grey scales and abnormally large spines on its back.

SC276: It occurs to me that I really don't watch Godzilla movies.

ThatUnknownPony: And it now dawned on me that the author fucked up royally when he decided to make Twilight Godzilla's child... And not Spike.

Crazy56U: But then that would be semi-ripping off another fanfic; best keep the plagiarism down to a minimum.

The thing tanked our magic like it was nothing." another one of the guards said.

"Where is it heading?" Twilight asked.

Mono: [Royal Guard] "Ponyville- *gets squashed by Godzilla's foot."

CaptainPipsqueak: Royal Guards are batting a thousand I see. They're about as useless as Worf in a fight.

Crazy56U: [Royal Guard Timmy] "Sources are indicating that it's heading for Canterlo--"

[Twilight Sparkle] "(relieved) Okay, cool, no danger. (slams the door shut)"

Godzilla marched through the plains, thinking about what he had seen. These new insects, BittplexMutt: You call them insects despite the fact that you clearly knew that they are equines.

ThatUnknownPony: Unless he saw the changelings, in which case he's not wrong.

they threw everything they could at him, yet they were even less suited to deal with stuff like him than the humans. Technology-wise, they lacked electronics and cars, SC276: How do you know it's called a car?

ThatUnknownPony: And how do you know they lack electronics?

CaptainPipsqueak: They haven't launched missiles and/or zapped him with a laser.

'Zill ain't bright, but he ain't that dumb.

and trains are the only automated source of transportation.

BittplexMutt: Not technically true, I mean they do still have carriages that they themselves sometimes pull.

ThatUnknownPony: Don't forget about hot air balloons and that one helicopter in "Testing, Testing, 1, 2, 3".

Mono: And don't forget those carts they built in "The Cart Before the Ponies."

Crazy56U: Also the zeppelin from "Iron Will Should Be Burned At The Stake", aka. "Once Upon a Zeppelin".

Planes weren't invented,

Crazy56U: After all, with pegasi existing, it would be redundant.

CaptainPipsqueak: Also, there wouldn't be a point. ... Wait.

and Zeppelins were the dominant air transport.

Mono: Or, as Unknown already brought up, hot air balloons. Did you even watch the intro, author?

Such a backwater land when compared to what he had seen, mainly because of their dependence on magic.

SC276: Great, not only are we in Conversion Bureau, but Godzilla is pro-human.

ThatUnknownPony: So, we're dealing with an Anti-Chatoyance here?

CaptainPipsqueak: No. Mainly because that consists of effectively everyone but her.

Sure, Godzilla knew very well of magic but he thought it was just an old fairy tale.

BittplexMutt: Says the gigantic monster that can shoot beams from his mouth.

ThatUnknownPony: But that's atomic breath, therefore it's science and not magic.

CaptainPipsqueak: Also he kills anyone who tries to argue otherwise.

Nonetheless, he was impressed by the fact that it turned out to be real, even though he was immune to it.

Mono: Because... radiation gives you immunity to magic?

Crazy56U: I think I read a Spider-Man comic that confirmed that; I believe it involved Peter beating David Copperfield to death.

But what he was unimpressed by was what these insects used it to do. They rigged nature itself. He saw them bump into clouds, zapping lightning at him. He hoped that it was nothing more than a form of security used against giants like him.

SC276: Well the way that aside from that explosion of snow in season like 5 or so, that whole "nature has to be done manually" is like completely dropped... kinda?

ThatUnknownPony: I believe they still bring it back from time to time, but does it even matter?

BittplexMutt: Too bad that kind of security sucked.

The electricity had no effect on him, nor did rain nor wind.

SC276: -nor snow nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.

BittplexMutt: It's not very effective.

Pitiful. To him, it was just pitiful.

SC276: This story? I agree!

ThatUnknownPony: Godzilla, you're pitiful.

This race probably didn't face anything like him.

SC276: Neither did humans the first time around, and yet.

ThatUnknownPony: Well, let's see: Discord, Nightmare Moon, Queen Chrysalis, King Sombra, Storm King, Pony of Shadows, giant dragons, Tirek... Nope, totally haven't faced anything like him.

Crazy56U: Well, to be fair, Godzilla is a dinosaur, and the closest the show has gotten to showing dinosaurs was in the form of fossils, so the Narrator has a point.

As he marched forward, he stepped on something that almost made him scream.

ThatUnknownPony: A LEGO brick.

Crazy56U: It was a spider.

CaptainPipsqueak: A lego spider.

He lifted his foot to see what remained of a small town and some blood. Gross, insect remains.

Crazy56U: ...I was close.

ThatUnknownPony: Poor Chrysalis will be missed.

Mono: Thorax's funeral was three days later.

Crazy56U: Ocellus, shockingly, managed to avoid dying and opted to live out the rest of her days in the Pony Bahamas.

Ignoring the remains of the insects and the town, he marched forward and decided to march alongside a mountain range.

SC276: ...Did you just flatten and kill everyone in Our Town?

Crazy56U: Since when was Our Town populated by Changelings? (ball drops in the background)

SC276: (catches ball) It's obvious lizard-boy is referring to ponies as "insects" to squish from earlier context. (beans the fourth wall with it)

ThatUnknownPony: ~You can't have a nightmare/If you're fucking killed!~

Some time later, he came across a giant bear with purple starry fur.

Crazy56U: Let us take a brief moment to weep over the fact that the Ursa Major is about to fucking die.

Sure, it was big when compared to the bears he saw, but it only came up to his chest, even when in bipedal position. He had to admit, he was kinda hungry. So he pounced upon his kill without a second thought. It fought him, but it was no match for the King of Monsters.

SC276: This feels like the kaiju equivalent of "the OC completely outclassing human!Rainbow Dash in sports."

ThatUnknownPony: I see it more like the "OC turns out to be more evil than Discord and Sombra combined that the Elements can't defeat."

Mono: Let's split the difference. "Evil Sports Star." The part of Godzilla will be played by Lightning Dust.

SC276: Or Mykan!Flash Sentry.

Crazy56U: oh goody that means it's "my friend, not yours" all over again, and fucking hate how i remember the name of that Even without his atomic breath, Godzilla could still take on and beat this giant bear. He normally ate fish, but this thing really filled his belly.

ThatUnknownPony: Somewhere, Frederick is shuddering at the thought of Godzilla enjoying bear meat. And only Calico will get what I'm talking about.

Crazy56U: You ain't special for referencing Man vs. Wild, Unknown.

BittplexMutt: Seeing how big the bear is, I can't imagine why.

Godzilla continued moving forward, marching along the mountains until he sees another settlement to take his anger out on.

SC276: Can't you take it out on fanfic like at least some of us?

ThatUnknownPony: Can't be worse than commenters on a Mykan riff, at least.

Mono: So the entire fic is just going to be Godzilla moving around and destroying random shit. Call me insane, but this might be the most riveting fic we ever rified.

"Oh dear." Twilight said. She knew exactly where it was heading. If it continued across the Crystal Mountains, then the Crystal Empire is its next stomping grounds.

ThatUnknownPony: "-And yet still nopony gave a fuck about the Crystal Empire."
SC276: Why the fuck would an Ursa Major be that far north? Are there polar Ursa Majors?

If her brother and sister-in-law were to be killed by that monster, she would not know what she would be able to do.

SC276: That is not the expression.

It has to be stopped, but it cannot be stopped, it just can't.

SC276: CAN'T STOP WON'T STOP DON'T STOP JUST GO

But then she remembered something.

Crazy56U: "There was something that could stop Godzilla. Something that equalled Godzilla in unbridled anger and fury. Something even Godzilla feared..."

When her magic was stolen by Tirek, she thought it was over, but then, she remembered everything she went through. She had her friends with her, and together, they unlocked the secrets of the Rainbow Power and defeated their magic-stealing foe, gaining her castle in the process. Friendship helped her revert Nightmare Moon back to Luna, defeat and reform Discord, stop King Sombra from taking over the Crystal Empire, and it gave her the means to defeat Tirek and return all the magic that he stole from the ponies. She reformed Starlight Glimmer, who is now her student.

Crazy56U: And is now currently overdosing on Mike and Ikes due to believing she caused Godzilla to be here due to her fucking with the timeline.

ThatUnknownPony: Ok, so this happens post-Season 5, and Starlight wasn't squashed at least... Which means Godzilla is about to stomp on Flurry Heart.

Crazy56U: Bold of you to assume Flurry Heart won't kill him first.

SC276: Y'know, in case you look up a crossover between MLP and Godzilla before watching the show.

BittplexMutt: Bold of you to assume the author watched the show.

If it worked on all these foes, then it must work on this new one.

SC276: Just waiting for Mykan to spit in your face at this point.

ThatUnknownPony: Please don't tempt fate, we're already dealing with enough wannabe Mykans at this point.

"Call the girls. Whatever odds we face, we beat them together, and I'm certain that we'll be able to beat whatever that thing is." Twilight said. The Rainbow of Light is the only option that she could think of.

SC276: Because you've... totally been able to use Rainbow Power after Tirek.

ThatUnknownPony: Blame that on the show for entirely forgetting about that certain power.

Crazy56U: I seriously legitimately think the writers forgot that it wasn't a one-off thing.

SC276: The logic I got was all the magic for that went into the box to make the castle, but moving on.

"Shining, Cadence, Flurry Heart, please be okay. We're coming to save you..."

SC276: Author, stop trying to write an anime.

ThatUnknownPony: I'm just done with Persona 3, I think I can take a break from anime for a while.

Twilight said as she walked towards the throne with her friends.

BittplexMutt: [Applejack] "Twilight, who are you talking to?"

If they can't defeat it, then Equestria shall be lost, but they have not lost before, and she was confident that they will not lose against the newest threat to Equestria.

SC276: Well that was a section that took literally three times as long as it needed to.

Author's Notes:

Next chapter, Twilight will meet and subsequently fight her own father, Godzilla.

SC276: Dude, spoilers!

ThatUnknownPony: Thanks for casually revealing the twist, dumbass!

Just wait and see and you'll get the idea. Not quite a family reunion it would be, would it?

SC276: [the author] "I speak hypothetically. All my family has restraining orders on me. I blame my being a brony."

Attack on the Crystal Empire

Location: Crystal Palace, Crystal Empire

SC276: -, Crystal Plains, Crystal Continent, Crystal Planet, CrystalVerse.

"Alright, we've heard the news, Twilight." Celestia said as she walked along with her sister, Luna.

BittplexMutt: [Celestia] "And boy, is it a doozy."

The two were quick to react and teleported everyone there in time. Twilight nodded in agreement. "Flurry's still a little 'un, and with that beast on its way, what is the plan?" Applejack said.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "First of all, sticking with one sentence per topic."

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight Sparkle] "Second, try speaking like a damn normal pony for once!"

"Well, we're glad you asked..." Luna said.

"We will distract the creature and lead it from the Crystal Empire, just enough for you to activate your Rainbow Power and defeat it.

BittplexMutt: "Hopefully, we won't be killed."

If that fails, we'll order a mass-evacuation of the Crystal Empire if it destroys it." Celestia said.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "You're going to evacuate it... after it's destroyed?"

She looked out the window to see smoke rising from the outside.

ThatUnknownPony: [Celestia] "Why did this have to happen on April 20th?"

SKREEEOONK!!!

A roar was heard as the silhouette of the monster was visible through the smoke.

SC276: Stop thinking you can hide Godzilla!

Crazy56U: Seriously, have you or have you not seen the 1998 Godzilla movie?

"If that thing destroys the Crystal Empire, then our plan is for naught." Luna said.

ThatUnknownPony: Well you're sure doing a dandy job stopping it from destroying the Empire, Princess.

The two sisters flew out to meet the beast,

Crazy56U: [Princess Celestia and Princess Luna] "(while charging towards Godzilla in a suicide-run)

AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHH!

which was none other than Godzilla, the long-lost King of Monsters, Crazy56U: Second only to the King of Games.

who has been frozen for millions of years in the ice, waiting to have a great comeback.

SC276: WE KNOW, we read the first chapter!

ThatUnknownPony: [Celestia] "...Who the fuck is this beast?"

[Luna] "I don't know, never seen it in my life."

And now, he will incinerate this city, he still has a lot of rage pent up that needs to be... well.

ThatUnknownPony: He has a fever, and the only cure is more destruction.
SC276: To be fair, I feel like destroying something every time I hear a cowbell.

As he marched towards the Crystal Empire, a beam of golden energy hit him in the cheek. He growled as he saw the culprit, a white pony with both a horn AND wings.

ThatUnknownPony: "He then proceeded to grab her and bite her head off." ...and now I'm going to hell for making that reference.
Crazy56U: ...why are you going to Hell for referencing Ozzy Osbourne?

He attempted to swat it down with his claws before a blue bolt hit him and saw another pony with both horn and wings, this time blue.

BittplexMutt: Because blue is awesome.

Godzilla roared as he attempted to shoot them down with his atomic breath, only for them to dodge at blazing speeds.

ThatUnknownPony: Their evasiveness is higher than his accuracy.

Godzilla growled, and once the blue one was off-guard,

SC276: For some reason.

he clasped his hands around her,

Crazy56U: The DK Maneuver causing her to black out.

ThatUnknownPony: "-And also for her horn to break... again."
Crazy56U: Fuckin' Hell, she died twice now... ...I mean, compared to Spike, it's fucking nothing, but still...

The white one sensed this and flew to the blue one's aid with a look of terror in her face.

BittplexMutt: And a look of anger.

"Luna!" Twilight said. The beast walked towards the Crystal Empire, ready for its kill.

SC276: And then it ran into the energy shield that surrounds the place.

"Girls, we need to activate our Rainbow Power, stat!" Twilight said as she looked at her friends, who nodded.

BittplexMutt: "Now.. how does this work again?"

The six heroines enveloped themselves in lights of their respective coloring and activated their Rainbow Power.

ThatUnknownPony: "-Turning them into a mix of a Super Saiyan and a Glam Rockstar."

Godzilla was about to march towards the Crystal Empire when he saw a ball of light with six ponies inside it. He growled at them and snorted, wanting to be through with their shenanigans.

SC276: Then why are you still writing this?

Crazy56U: Because it was either abandoning the Godzilla fic, or resuming work on the "Twilight discovers she was actually Keyser Soze" story he's trying to plan.

"Why would we let you past when you were destroying the city?

BittplexMutt: "Because I have a pass."

And why can I understand you?" Twilight asked before shaking her head.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight Sparkle] "I think I made a mistake drinking before fighting a giant monster."

"You were destroying cities, causing so many ponies to lose their families, their homes, and worse, their lives. I'm afraid that has to be stopped.

Crazy56U: And so, the girls collectively pulled out a gun-

You may not think this is true, but we carry magic that resides in our hearts, the magic, of friendship." Twilight said as she and her friends activated the light.

ThatUnknownPony: A.k.a. They turned their flashlights on and aimed them at Godzilla.

First a white bolt hit, then five other bolts, which joined together in one Rainbow of Light. When it cleared, however, Godzilla stood, completely unscathed and laughed.

SC276: (deadpan) Oh no, I am so surprised by this development.

ThatUnknownPony: (deadpan) Oh my god, the magic of friendship failed, this wasn't coming from a mile away.

He let out a faint atomic fireball, vaporizing the sphere of magic Crazy56U: You may be wondering why this worked. Simple: Clarke's Third Law, bitches.

and cancelling out the Mane Six's Rainbow Power and causing them to fall to the ground. "Impossible, nothing can defeat the magic of friendship...

Crazy56U: Except words.

how?" Twilight said

SC276: Because you're wielding it like a fucking idiot?

ThatUnknownPony: Because the author is pulling a Mykan?

as she looked at herself, with blood coming out on several spots. She looked to see her friends unconscious, with the exception of Pinkie, who was still awake.

SC276: [Pinkie Pie] "I dodged it."

ThatUnknownPony: [Pinkie Pie] "I can look death into the face and laugh at it!"

They aren't going to die, but they are in very serious comas. She failed. She really failed.

SC276: Yeah, you're going to have a hard time selling me on the death of Twilight Sparkle in chapter 3. After the author note blatantly broadcasted her survival.

ThatUnknownPony: And I guess Equestria is doomed to be destroyed by Godzilla...

Are we sure this wasn't ghostwritten by Mykan?

Crazy56U: ...you know, I don't remember The Assassination of Twilight Sparkle being this fucked up...

<Really, friendship is magic? Please, from what I've seen, there's nothing magical about friendship.

Crazy56U: [Godzilla] "Seriously, I've seen Rollergator. The 'friendship' in that was the least of that fucking thing's problems."

Sure, some may think of it as a magical thing, but that's just it.

It's just a mentality, a product of your kind's instinct, if you will.>

SC276: [Godzilla] "That shit's for Gamera."

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Compared to the humans, you are insignificant. Humanity all the way!"

Crazy56U: I fucking hate this verbose bastard, USE LESS WORDS, YOU ONLY KNOW RAGE YOU FUCKER, STOP BEING PROFESSOR HULK!

"You're lying. Friendship is magic! The most powerful magic of all!" Twilight said as she got up.

<Then why didn't it kill me? Face it, friendship cannot get you through everything.

SC276: SHUT THE FUCK UP, MYKAN

ThatUnknownPony: Tell that to... Pretty much every single non-nihilistic anime/RPG protagonist.

CaptainPipsqueak: You'll need to narrow that the hell down.

BittplexMutt: Godzilla, you barely even have friends.

You tried to use your little rainbow on me, and look where you are right now. It's pointless to focus on friendship alone.

SC276: She didn't, that's why she has magic, fuck's sakes...

ThatUnknownPony: Author, do you really watch the show?

Look at me. I was the last of my kind, and the humans turned me into the first.

SC276: [Twilight] "...The fuck does that mean?!"

Crazy56U: [Godzilla] "...nukes mutated me into what I am, you fucking idiot. (ball drops in the background)"

I never thought I could be any lonelier, and I had to face my dangers with brute force. I have toppled monsters, a whole pantheon of Hellenic gods, and even escaped from Hell itself, SC276: None of which was in that detailed history the entire first chapter was.

ThatUnknownPony: ...anyone who can confirm that actually happens in Godzilla's lore?

and all of it was by my lonesome.>

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "Boo. Fucking. Hoo. WE ALL GOT PROBLEMS!"

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight Sparkle] "And you're seen as a monster for so. You're only putting the blame on others for your "misfortune"!" BittplexMutt: This is so sad. Not.

"LIAR!" Twilight yelled, firing whatever magic she had left from her horn, Crazy56U: "-despite the fact that Twilight was just shooting blanks."

even though she knew it would have no effect. It didn't strike him, and instead dissipated before it could go even half-way. Her stress and injuries were getting to her, and her legs gave in and caused her to fall to the ground, but instead of blacking out, a transformation happened.

SC276: More like just one really really big injury, really.

ThatUnknownPony: Specifically located inside her cranium.

SC276: Not exactly the situation one would expect would birth a Power Ranger.

ThatUnknownPony: Honestly, I wish it was a Sentai situation.

Patches of her fur fell off, leaving room for black scales to grow. Her mere stump of a tailbone began to lengthen dramatically, making way for a long tail covered in black scales. Her tail hairs didn't fall off, but instead whitened, save for her purple and pink strips.

SC276: You realize a pony tail at the end of a giant lizard tail is absolutely ridiculous, right?

ThatUnknownPony: SC, this is Twilight transforming into Godzilla's spawn. Pony tail or not, this is already beyond ridiculous.

By that point, her entire body began growing as her mane whitened as well. She looked at her front hooves to see fingers spouting out and palms forming. Pretty soon, her newly-formed hands gave way to the black scales.

"No, no, no! It can't end like this!" Twilight said

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "I am NOT becoming an anime lizard girl!"

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight Sparkle] "I refuse to be adopted by this giant monster!"

as her legs shifted, her back hooves giving way to toes, yet oddly enough, she still had her cutie mark.

SC276: [the author] "Because how the fuck else is anyone going to be able to identify her?"

ThatUnknownPony: I'm not if to laugh or cry at the mental image.

Godzilla was equally shocked.

SC276: [Godzilla] "This is fucking bullshit!"

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "...That's it, killing everyone. Death is the only way out of this shit."

BittplexMutt: [Godzilla] "Why do you have a star on your butt?"

It can't be true. Could she really have been his daughter?

SC276: How is that the conclusion you draw?

Crazy56U: (matter-of-factly) It's this story.

The feathers on Twilight's wings merged with her flesh, growing black scales and a singular claw on each of them as her horn vanished.

SC276: Kinda useless as wings then, ain't they.

ThatUnknownPony: [author] "BUT THEY LOOK COOL! REALLY, SHE'S COOL NOW!"

Crazy56U: It was still there, mind you, it just had a Post-It note on it now that read "No".

It isn't true, it just cannot be true.

SC276: Hey, leave the denial to your audience.

ThatUnknownPony: Yeah, that's kinda our job.

Twilight's teeth sharpened as her changes came to a close. Pretty soon, she was what Godzilla is,

SC276: [the author] "-whatever the fuck that is-"

but she still had wings, pony-like ears, and a cutie mark.

SC276: [the author] "Why yes, I am new to Photoshop. How could you tell?"

Crazy56U: Photoshop, eh? I'm on it!

...Photoshop took too long to open, so I got mad and opened MS Paint instead. Also, I gave it a horn to make it look less stupid.

Mono: That... is actually better than anything I would've made. few drops of blood leak out of eyes

ThatUnknownPony: sheds a tear It's so beautiful!

BittplexMutt: This is a masterpiece!

She breathed in and out as she processed everything that happened.

SC276: [Twilight] "WHAT THE FUCKITY FUCK FUCK FUCK"

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight] "...Booze. I need booze, NOW!"

BittplexMutt: And then she started screaming.

"What did you do to me!?" she said. The beast merely walked up to her and suddenly, grabbed her in his embrace, pulling her into a hug.

SC276: Reminder that Twilight did not change size. She is simply a pony-scaled mini-kaiju right now. Godzilla doing this would probably squish her.

ThatUnknownPony: Sorry to say it, but... pulls out a tape recorder

Tape Recorder: By that point, her entire body began growing as her mane whitened as well.

All the rage was gone, and now he's finally with his long-lost daughter.

Crazy56U:

"Hold on a second!" Pinkie Pie said before grabbing a glass of water,

Crazy56U: OH FUCK YOU, THAT JOKE WAS BAD ENOUGH TO BEGIN WITH IN "MAGICAL MYSTERY CURE" drinking it and spitting it out.

"WHAT!"

SC276: you kept pinkie alive just for this shit joke, didn't you

ThatUnknownPony: Now Pinkie wishes she was dead.

BittplexMutt: To the author:

"Pinkie, please tell me what happened!?" Twilight said.

"I don't know Twilight, but he's taking you somewhere, is he?"

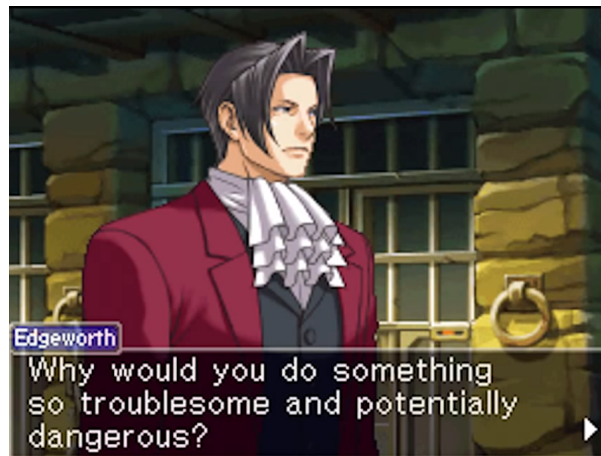

"Wait, what the-" Twilight was grabbed by her own father, who walked toward the ocean with her.

SC276: [Godzilla] "You remember how to breathe underwater, right?"

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "DO I LOOK LIKE I BREATH UNDERWATER, GIANT LIZARD?!"

BittplexMutt: And then Twilight drowned.

He couldn't believe what just happened there. His own daughter was killed, but she was there, but how?

SC276: Better question:

ThatUnknownPony: I guess the answer to both questions is fart noise of derision

Nonetheless, he was unaware of it, and so was she. They're now both monsters externally, but in her eyes he could see a smart, kind, and beautiful soul behind them.

SC276: Yeah, sure, now that her outside is a monster. I think that's racist.

ThatUnknownPony: Never expected that from Godzilla. Granted, after all his comments on how ponies were inferior to humans...

He wanted to destroy, now, all he wants is to be with his long lost daughter.

SC276: Cool story, bro.

ThatUnknownPony: Meanwhile, everyone who lost their beloved ones in Godzilla's attacks are flipping their shit.

Uncharted Lands

"Spike, what time is it?" a weary Twilight said,

Crazy56U: (checks clock) 11:29 PM.

BittplexMutt: 6:17 PM.

trying to block the sun out with her right hoof. That was one freaky dream she had.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight Sparkle] "I've said it many times, but this time I mean it: I'm never drinking myself to sleep again."

Crazy56U: "It was worse than last time: The penguins had gotten to Celestia... Within the hour, there was nothing left of her but bones... ...and then the seagulls arrived..."

Twilight's body felt numb all over, almost as if her body was going through some changes.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "I already went through puberty, why...?"

Crazy56U: Twilight's in withdrawal; she hasn't had moonshine in 24 hours.

However, when she regained her sight, she found that her hoof was not a hoof at all, but a black-scaled hand. She began to get the feeling that it wasn't a dream.

ThatUnknownPony: Just the slightest sensation.

She inspected every inch of her new body. It wasn't that of her familiar equine form, but a bipedal lizard covered in black scales.

SC276: I don't give a shit if any balls are dropped, when the fuck was Godzilla black?

Not good.

"No no no. This cannot be true." Twilight said as her wings fluttered subconsciously. She attempted to feel her head for a horn, but she felt only her now white mane. This is bad.

SC276: Yes, this concept is fucking terrible.

She's stuck as whatever she is currently wherever she is. Speaking of where she is, she looked around to see that she was in a formation that acted kind of like the mattress of a bed.

SC276: ...what?

Crazy56U: The Narrator is saying she's about to be eaten.

ThatUnknownPony: At least that would be a quick way to end this.

BittplexMutt: Suddenly, vore.

She tried to get up, but she felt that her body was still in pain, and lay back down, breathing in and out.

SC276: She was making horse noises all the way down.

Crazy56U: "And then she went into labor- wait"

ThatUnknownPony: Aaand now I need booze to forget that.

Twilight looked around to see that the fauna was still familiar, yet completely alien at the same time. Weird birds with four wings were flying around with giant bats and flying fish as giant turtles lumbered about.

SC276: So, basically animals but big.

Crazy56U: But how big were they compared to elephants?!

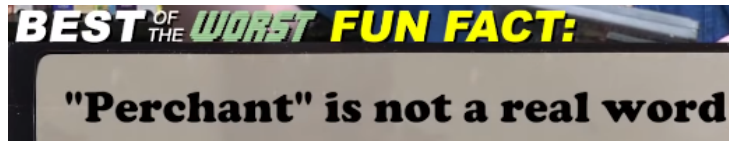

In the trees, there were not only monkeys, but these strange octopi-looking creatures. This place was bizarre, she must admit that. But the sound of someone walking made Twilight freeze. She saw the beast that has been terrorizing Equestria sit right next to her 'bed'.

SC276: Lovely, there's incest now.

ThatUnknownPony: Can't we riff something entirely different, Ring? I'm this might be breaking certain guidelines now.

<Good, you're awake now. I've been waiting for too long to finally reunite with you.>

Though it spoke in roars and grunts to most, Twilight can completely understand the creature's words as if they were English.

Crazy56U:

SC276: How "convenient" for the audience.

ThatUnknownPony: She can understand him, sure... Too bad she can't make sense of what he's talking about.

BittplexMutt: Instead of Fluttershy who can understand animals.

She recognized him very well and glared angrily at him.

BittplexMutt: "Really? You kidnap me and you didn't bring moonshine?"

"What do you want with me, huh? Did you already destroy Equestria while I was out?"

SC276: Are you kidding, Twilight? This is a fanfic antagonist. They're not smart.

Crazy56U: [Godzilla] "... ..FUCK, I knew I forgot something."

BittplexMutt: [Godzilla] "No, I only destroyed half of Equestria."

Did you turn me into this? Answer me!" Twilight said as tears came out of her eyes.

BittplexMutt: "I probably won't understand it, but still!"

He gave her a confused look before speaking again.

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Look, all I care is that you're now my daughter and only my happiness matters."

<I did nothing of the sort. When you transformed back, I realize that I have found someone that I thought was long dead. Sure, you still have your wings and thigh stars, but that is good enough for me.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "I'm also a lesbian."

[Godzilla] "We'll see about that."

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "... ..that's not how that works."

[Godzilla] "... ..huh."

The stress of the fight must've taken too much out of you, so I lay you here. Not quite as cozy as your bed back at your former home, SC276: Which you somehow know or could remotely have the knowledge to estimate.

but this is good enough for now.>

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "GOOD ENOUGH!? HOW CAN YOU COMPARE SLEEPING ON TOP OF A MOUNTAIN TO A SOFT MATTRESS!"

"What do you mean! Why should I listen to you? You destroyed Equestria, SC276: Given the Crystal Empire is in the far north, a fact I'm pretty sure was well-known after the end of season 5, how much of Equestria he was actually in is kind of up for debate. I mean, how much settled land is even between the Crystal Empire and Manehattan?

Crazy56U: Yes.

probably wiping out the ponies in the process, turned me into what I am now, and blamed me for transforming myself?

BittplexMutt: [Twilight] "What kind of a father even does that?"

What's next, making me forget Equestria!?"

Crazy56U: [Godzilla] "Well, fuck, you just ruined the surprise."

BittplexMutt: [Godzilla] "Uh.. maybe?"

Twilight said as she began to cry once again.

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Why, my daughter knows me too well!"
[Twilightzilla] "Somepony kill me."

A hand touched her shoulder. Something about him almost felt right to her.

BittplexMutt: Nope nope nope so much nope.

<No, no, no. I would never do anything of the sort.

Crazy56U: [Godzilla] "Brainwashing is icky."

I didn't wipe them out,

SC276: [Godzilla] "-despite my best efforts-" nor did I transform you, well, not on purpose. Why you would think I'd want you to forget Equestria, well, I guess you don't remember me, don't you?>

ThatUnknownPony: If I recall correctly (and I wish I didn't), wasn't she just coming out of her egg when she got blasted into the future?

"What are you talking about! Of course I do not know you! Are you insane? How am I, a pony by birth, supposed to believe you when you destroyed Equestria, and for what?" Twilight said.

<Again, I did not destroy Equestria, how do you even say that?

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Because you fucking destroyed Manehattan! That's part of Equestria!"

And two, you are not a pony by birth, you are my long lost daughter, and now, I finally found you. I thought you were->

"LIAR! I am in no way related to you!"

<If you weren't, I would have left you to die!>

SC276: No, you would've stepped on her, or dropped a building on her, or something that would be more active than "letting" her die.

ThatUnknownPony: Sure, keep digging yourself further down, Godzilla. That sure makes for a "healthy" family relationship.

"AT LEAST I'D DIE AS MYSELF!

BittplexMutt: [Twilight] " "

WHAT DID I DO TO DESERVE THIS!?" Twilight said before she started to cry again.

ThatUnknownPony: She's got a point. What did she do to deserve being in this story?

SC276: Be the target for an idea the author apparently thought was so cool it makes up 80% of his gallery. Keep up.

Crazy56U: Not an actual answer. Remove the Author's bibliography from the argument: what did Twilight do to deserve being in this specific story?

SC276: You didn't ask the initial question, I don't have to answer you.

Godzilla sighed. He had finally reunited with his long-lost daughter, only to find that she does not remember him. To be fair, she was merely a baby when she was supposedly killed, so that can be given a pass.

ThatUnknownPony: What can't be given a pass is your parenting skills.

<You didn't deserve anything bad, but what I deserve to have you, Kira...>

"I'M TWILIGHT SPARKLE!" Twilight said.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "WHO THE FUCK IS THIS KIRA AND WHY DO I FEEL LIKE THAT NAME IS RELATED TO HANDS?"

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "WELCOME TO DIE! (blasts Godzilla to death)"

<Kira, Twilight, whatever you want me to call you...

Crazy56U: The Fucking Alcoholic, got it.

BittplexMutt: [Godzilla] "I don't even know how naming works."

I have put Equestria behind me,

SC276: [Godzilla] "I have strapped Equestria to my back."

and now, all I want to have some father-daughter time with you.

BittplexMutt: [Twilight] "I'd rather not."

You must be hungry, aren't you? I'll be back from my hunt in no time, my sweet little star.>

SC276: Why is Godzilla doing baby talk?!

And with that, Godzilla walked out into the woods, leaving Twilight to her thoughts.

ThatUnknownPony: And giving her the perfect chance to run like hell.

"What am I supposed to do? He holds all the cards, I'm stranded in a place that I do not even know about, and he claims that I, out of everyone, is his daughter! Why me?

SC276: What, not going to complain about not having your magic?

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Why not Spike?! I mean, that guy sorta looks like a dragon, they would've been related at least!"

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "Seriously, that makes no goddamn sense!"

What will my friends think if they arrive too late? Am I unable to change back? Will I have to abandon harmony?

SC276:

Crazy56U: "Why did Pushing Daisies get cancelled?! TOO MANY QUESTIONS!"

I don't know what to do!" Twilight thought as she closed her eyes, waiting for her food.
She wanted to run away,

SC276: That would be the sane part of your brain.

Crazy56U: (singing poorly) I WANT TO GET AWAY! I WANT TO FLLLLLLLLLLLLLY AWAY!

but for some reason, she felt like she needed to be with the beast that claimed to be her father, almost like he was her real father.

ThatUnknownPony: Stockholm Syndrome has kicked in at full force.

As she pondered, she thought of what was going on back at Equestria.

BittplexMutt: It was up in flames.

She missed her friends near and dear.

SC276: Well not so much "near" given you're clearly on some island that was drastically time-displaced to be just like 'Zilla-boy's place after a million years.

ThatUnknownPony: Meanwhile, her friends were struggling between life and death in a hospital.

BittplexMutt: [Twilight] "I hope they're not dead."

Pinkie Pie sat eagerly, waiting for her friends to wake up.

BittplexMutt: "Even though it had been 3 months now."

Celestia was checking on her sister, and as for Starlight and Spike, they were hoping that Twilight is okay.

SC276: Instead of doing everything they can to find her, fuck's sakes, we're talking about SEASON 6 STARLIGHT here, there's no way she hasn't tried to find a magical solution to this.

Crazy56U: Yeah, but then again, this is Season 6 Starlight. Chances are she'd make things 10x worse by accident.

"They're waking up, they're waking up!" the doctor said.

Crazy56U: [Pinkie Pie] "Thanks for stating the blatantly obvious, Doc, I have eyes."

Pinkie Pie would've pounced upon them, but she knew that her friends were still in not at their fullest. Applejack was the first to open her eyes.

"Pinkie, Starlight? What am I doing here?" the orange farm pony said.

ThatUnknownPony: [Pinkie Pie] "Oh for the love of... Don't tell me you got amnesia?"

"Don't you remember, the beast was immune and knocked us out cold." Pinkie Pie said.

"Then how are we alive and here in a completely intact hospital?" Applejack asked.

ThatUnknownPony: [Pinkie Pie] "Because we pulled you away from it and brought you somewhere safe? Duh!"

"Well I'm just as curious as any of you, darling, but why didn't it destroy Equestria and kill us when we were in comas?" Rarity asked as the other three opened their eyes.

ThatUnknownPony: Amazing how you just woke up and immediately know you were in a coma and not simply unconscious for a while.

"Well, it might sound a little crazy, but it took Twilight.

BittplexMutt: Well if it didn't, she would've been at the hospital with Pinkie.

And no, she's not dead, it took her alive for some reason and they are who knows where on the world they are!"

BittplexMutt: Probably up north.

Pinkie Pie said as she shook Rarity violently out of control.

SC276: Sure, you don't pounce people just recovering from unconscious-but-that-word's-too-long-for-this-author, but shaking is fine.

BittplexMutt: And then Rarity breaks her neck.

Normally, someone would've been called crazy when they said it, but this is Pinkie, so she had to be honest.

ThatUnknownPony: There are so many things wrong with that statement.

"Then we must find her and find a way to change her back, and fast!" Spike said as he walked into the room with Starlight.

SC276: Having somehow managed to get her transformation out of that.

They both knew Twilight very well, and cared about her very so.

ThatUnknownPony: "Besides, neither of them would survive without her help."

SC276: English, motherfucker, do you speak it?

They wanted to find where she is and save her from the beast. Hopefully, their friend is doing just fine by the time they finally find her again.

ThatUnknownPony: Meanwhile, Twilight is hoping for the sweet embrace of death.

As they got up from the beds, Spike wrote a letter to Celestia, telling them that they'll be looking for Twilight,

SC276: [Princess Celestia] "No shit, Sherlock."

Crazy56U: [Letter] "Our current plan is to look to the western sky."

and through every source in Equestria, they'll find her.

ThatUnknownPony: [Celestia] "You realize I'm also at the hospital checking on my sister, right?"

Sharing Stories

It has been two days since Twilight woke up recovering in a bed-like formation.

SC276: [the author] "That's what birds live in, right?"

ThatUnknownPony: "Her mental state continues deteriorating. If she doesn't get booze soon, it will be the end of life as we know it."

She never thought that she could be dependent on the beast that terrorized Equestria, let alone claimed to be her own biological father.

ThatUnknownPony: And yet, here we are.

And what, she's estimating, that he turned her into whatever he is, only that she still retained her now white mane, her wings, and her cutie mark.

SC276: No, you were pretty clearly described without having it. If you're going to repeat the same information to us each chapter, the least you could do is make it accurate.

Oh, and the only food that she ever was feed, was in fact, meat from those giant turtles.

BittplexMutt: I can't believe Godzilla killed the TMNT.

She needed to eat several of them per day just to get full.

ThatUnknownPony: Not because she ate that much, but because she continued throwing them up. Turns out she still hasn't developed a taste for meat.

"Why does he keep feeding me those turtles?"

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "There are other animals on this freakin' island."

If only I can have one nice, juicy whale every once in a while." Twilight said, smacking her lips before her eyes widened when she heard her own words.

ThatUnknownPony: Yup, her brain is regressing into that of a monster.

She put her hand over her mouth in shock at what she had said and what she had wanted. She wanted to eat meat? She's a pony, she eats vegetables and fruit, not meat!

SC276: And the Moron comparisons just keep on trucking, I swear to god...

Her new instincts had led her to actually eat meat, but she only did it because the beast was around, but this time, she actually wanted to eat a whale now!

ThatUnknownPony: That's what happens when you end up kidnapped by a beast: Your brain acondionates to the new environment.

"Stay calm, Twilight. Hopefully, this will all turn out to be a night- ow!" Twilight yelped in pain as she tried to get up, falling accidentally on her tail.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Who the fuck thought it was a good idea to have me keep my ponytail at the end of my lizard tail!?"

Twilight pulled herself up as she shook all the pain off.

BittplexMutt: Because that's how you cure painfulness.

She preferred to walk on all fours, but it became painful after a very short period of time, and she was forced to move bipedally like she had done in the human world.

ThatUnknownPony: "Yet she still felt like she was walking inside a bad rubber suit."

BittplexMutt: "It's not like she had a choice to begin with."

"Ugh! How does he do this? How the beast walks upright despite his weight is against all the knowledge I have!" Twilight said as she tottered about.

SC276: I'm pretty sure if you asked that of a Godzilla fan, they'd shove you to the ground.

Crazy56U: Or spit in your face, let's not split hairs.

BittplexMutt: Why not do both at the same time?

She was about to scout the area when she heard an all too familiar voice.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Is that God?"

<You actually got up. I was wondering when you'd finally do it. And yes, before you ask, I did hear the whale part when I was about to go back.>

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "I SAID GOD, NOT GODZILLA!"

Twilight looked to see Godzilla standing behind her.

BittplexMutt: "Oh right, we're still doing this."

Even when Twilight was at her full height, she was about two thirds his size.

SC276: How big is this freakin' nest?!

"Why are you here, now? I just wanted some time alone." Twilight asked before the King of Monsters walked right beside her.

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Well fuck you, you'll have no privacy with me."

<You need your space, and I can respect that, but all I want is to spend some time with you.

SC276: [Godzilla] "And my needs are obviously more important than yours."

I thought I lost you all those years ago, so what father can handle it?> he said.

ThatUnknownPony: I'm sure any sane parent can handle it better than you do, Mr. "I forgot about my other two sons."

Twilight was about to protest when she realized that he is not breaking.

BittplexMutt: "-bad."

"Why do you claim that I'm your daughter.

BittplexMutt: Because the author insists this.

I'm Twilight Sparkle, the Princess of Friendship. I was born a pony and a pony I am. I was a truly excellent magician, and a friend to five other ponies, a dragon, and now, a teacher to a unicorn named Starlight Glimmer. So why should I believe you, when I have records by my side?" Twilight asked.

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Because the author wants you to be my daughter despite not making any lick of sense."

BittplexMutt: "Because reasons."

<Maybe it's because you haven't looked at my records, my side of the story.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Do you keep records?"
[Godzilla] "...Yes?"

I might as well tell you from the beginning. Here, come sit beside your papa, since your too big to sit in my lap.>

ThatUnknownPony: Also because that would've been too creepy.

As Godzilla sat onto the formation, he began to speak.

<I wasn't always the mighty titan you see before yourself.

SC276: If you're going to recap the entire first chapter, I SWEAR TO GOD
Crazy56U: Friend? You already know the answer to that. Swear to him.

Originally, I was just another mindless animal who fed on other mindless animals for substance.> As he talked, Twilight felt the odd need to sit right beside him, but fought and hid it quite well. For some reason, she felt right when around him.

SC276: That would be the mind control, not all feelings are like falling in love in lukewarm anime.

ThatUnknownPony: Either mind control, or she seriously got a bad case of Stockholm Syndrome. Either way, that's beyond creepy.

During her childhood, she felt awkward and out of place. Now, she felt absolutely safe and complete and safe around Godzilla, likely a side effect of her new form.

ThatUnknownPony: Now that's mind control, alright.

<I thought I was the last of my kind, and then came that fateful day when the United States bombed Hiroshima, not that you remember any of this, since you weren't around way back when.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "OK, uh, what are Hiroshima and-?"

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilight Sparkle] "Maybe not, but I still feel like you're insulting those who died in a real life tragedy."

My new sentence had given me feelings beyond what I had ever felt before in my life.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Oh OK you ain't gonna explain shit, got it."

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "It also made me a giant prick."

One such feeling was anger at the humans.

BittplexMutt: Instead of disgust.

I thought I was the last of my kind, and then I thought that I was the first of my kind.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "That line's getting old, by the way."

I never felt any lonelier than I was before. But then, a miracle happened. I saw a female with the same mutations that I had and all.

SC276: From outta nowhere.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Wait a second, so you thought you were the last and first of your kind... but there was still a female alive."

[Godzilla] "Your point?"

And we did whatever the last two members of a species would: mate.>

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "i'm listening to a giant lizard talk about his sex life. god why have you forsaken me?"

Twilight didn't believe what she heard, but she let him continue as he stood back up.

<She laid a clutch of eggs in a mountain range, two of them were boys, and there was one daughter.

SC276: why did we even have the first chapter

ThatUnknownPony: Because the author thinks everyone is a goldfish like him.

You were only a baby at that fateful day I lost you. The humans have invented a powerful weapon that I thought you do you out,

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "...what?"

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "English, motherfucker, do you speak it?!"

but it didn't. My mate and my two sons weren't so lucky, however. They wound up being killed by some weird cross between me and a dragonfly. I never thought I could be any angrier at the humans at what they did. They took you away... they took...>

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "...And you weren't angry at that dragonfly thing after it killed my supposed brothers because?"
[Godzilla] "They weren't female, therefore fuck them."

Godzilla caught himself and breathed deeply, flushing away all those painful memories.

BittplexMutt: Just wash away the horror.

<As I was about to say, I quickly got mad and destroyed entire cultures, cities and even nations in the blink of an eye.

SC276: Sounds boring.
BittplexMutt: Riveting even.

The humans got rid of me by freezing me in the ice for who knows how long.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "I wonder why."

I first thought that your cities were those of humans, and then it went from there.

SC276: [Godzilla] "In retrospect, I should've questioned why all the humans looked like tiny horses."

You confronted me and reverted back to your original self.

BittplexMutt: For some reason.

Sure, you still had wings and that star, but it was close enough of a resemblance to me.>

ThatUnknownPony: Except looking completely ridiculous.

As Godzilla finished his story, Twilight thought about what she would think.

ThatUnknownPony: Making sure if she was still capable of thinking after hearing those insane ramblings.

Everything that he told her was extremely detailed and complex, SC276: No? Not really? Like, what the fuck was the deal with the dragonfly thing? And what happened to the sons, was that explained again?

and he said it like he really meant it? Twilight thought about the humans that Godzilla had encountered. Were they like the humans at Canterlot High, or were they something else entirely. She would be more than happy to burn a civilization of sentient quesadillas away. Those things are pure evil in the form of food.

Crazy56U: I don't need to wait for the sentence to finish to tell you to go to the deepest level of fucking Hell, Author.

SC276: (eye twitch)
Crazy56U: PICTURE. NOW.
ThatUnknownPony:

FUCK YOU AND YOUR MEMES

"Well, it may have killed your daughter, but I'm not her." Twilight said.

BittplexMutt: [Twilight] "Seriously, it's not even possible."

Well, she hoped it was true. But what if he was telling the truth about her? What would she do? He held all the cards, and she had none.

ThatUnknownPony: How about the fact you were born a pony, that you have pony parents, a pony body, and all your life prior to meeting this dumbass you were always a pony?

SC276: I'm waiting for the point where it actually bothers to explain how Godzilla's daughter turned into a pony in the first fucking place, but I don't have high hopes.

BittplexMutt: He had the winning deck.

Twilight sat down on a hill just the right size

SC276: why does that matter, this is a TEXT medium

BittplexMutt: And you're both giant monsters.

and began to think about what she should do.

ThatUnknownPony: Here's one idea: RUN LIKE HELL AWAY FROM HIM!

Searching for Twilight

SC276: I'd rather wait for Godot.

Twilight sat on a mountain, looking out into the eternal dusk/dawn.

SC276: What is this, Twilight Town?

It has been ten days since the moment her ponyhood has been taken away from her. She no longer had her horn, and in turn, she cannot use her magic, even though she still had her cutie mark.

SC276: Author, just because you reasonably guessed no one would want to remember your story doesn't mean you should act like it. That's just depressing.

Her wings were there as well, but she is too heavy to fly. Godzilla is still with her, and she doesn't know what to do.

ThatUnknownPony: How about strangling him and escaping his clutches?

"Applejack, Fluttershy, Pinkie Pie, Rarity, Rainbow Dash, Starlight, Spike, all of you, I want you to be safe..." Twilight said to no one. A lone tear dropped down from her eye as she took a deep breath. She exhaled before speaking again.

"Please be safe. Wherever you are, if you are... PLEASE STILL BE ALIVE!"

Crazy56U: Well, Spike is a given; he has no say in the matter, he's effectively immortal.

Twilight turned her head to the sea.

"If you happen to have lived through it, I know that you are probably trying to find me and free me from my forced exile. Please don't die out there! I'd never forgive myself if you do."

SC276: OK, cool you want them still alive and all, how about hoping they find you. BittplexMutt: And rescue you?

With that final sentence, Twilight began to close her eyes and breathe in one more time.

SC276: Before shivving herself.

With all her heart, she hoped that her friends are okay wherever they are.

Twilight thought that her friends were safe, and fortunately, they are.

ThatUnknownPony: (deadpan) Huzzah, I was so worried about them being in danger.

Currently, their boat has landed on an island. There was a large castle on it, and they decided that if the locals were friendly, they would ask for directions.

ThatUnknownPony: "And if they weren't, they would leave no survivors."

"Ya sure they're friendly, aren't ya?" Applejack asked.

"I have my doubts. We never went this far from Equestria. But first, we should set up camp." Spike said. Thankfully, they brought tents in case they had to stay overnight, SC276: Even though they have a boat.

and yes, it technically was day at Equestria, but better safe than sorry. Hay Gel was the one who proved the world was a sphere, SC276: What is that supposed to be a pun of?

but even though Celestia said it was a fact, the vast majority of the ponies still believed that the world was flat, no matter how much she tried to tell them otherwise.

SC276: what the fuck does that have to do with anything
ThatUnknownPony: Damn you, Flat Earth Society!

Soon enough, they set up the tents and were ready in just mere moments. The Mane Five, Starlight, and Spike weren't the only ones who went in on this adventure. Some of their old friends and family have come along the ride, some to save a Princess of Equestria or some to save an old or new friend of theirs.

SC276: But mostly because fanfic authors don't know what cast economy is.

Daring Do and Rainbow Dash were close friends ever since the two met, and since Rainbow was already a fan, she gave Daring Do the idea to use this as an idea for her story.

SC276: I don't think the whole "secretly the adventures are real" thing works when the cause of the adventure literally destroyed a major city.

ThatUnknownPony: Considering how some of the ponies don't even know about the Mane 6 even after saving Equestria several times, I think nopony will notice.

BittplexMutt: Or simply put, the author looked up her wiki page.

Twilight's older brother, Shining Armor, wanted to tag along to save his sister, and Princess Luna was also coming along in this adventure.

SC276: [Princess Luna] "Someone has to buck the trend of us not doing stuff."
ThatUnknownPony: [Princess Luna] "By the way, I'm fine again. My horn heals fast."

Twilight was the one who freed her from a mental parasite, which would have driven her further into madness if she failed.

SC276: Literally not how Nightmare Moon worked, thank you for broadcasting that you didn't actually understand what the tantabus was.

A few other background ponies have also joined the adventure.

SC276: If you're ACTUALLY CALLING THEM BACKGROUND PONIES, why the fuck are you even including them?!

ThatUnknownPony: Because the author probably needs them to make more awful gags.

Pinkie Pie and Luna were alone, wanting to talk about the Godzilla/Twilight incident. Pinkie had told Luna everything, how Twilight transformed into a Godzilla-like creature and how Godzilla took Twilight away.

SC276: I would hope that she also told everyone else in the expedition, that's KINDA IMPORTANT.

ThatUnknownPony: Then again if she told everyone what happened, they'd be dropping them like a bad habit.

"Luna, how's it going? Are you still trying to find Twilight?" Pinkie said.

"Yes, Pinkie, but her dream door has... disappeared. The beast is fully sentient, but it lacks a dream door of its own. My guess is that he does dream, but it is naught but a figment of his mind. Due to this, I cannot enter his dreams." Luna said.

SC276: And... the dreams of ponies aren't just figments of their minds?

ThatUnknownpony: I don't think the author knows how dreams work, both in-universe and for real.

"And since Twilight transformed into whatever he is..." Pinkie said. Luna stayed silent.

"Is..."

Luna's eyes widened as she put the pieces together. As a pony, Twilight was connected into the magical dream web. Godzilla's dreams were, according to her theory, a figment of his mind.

"So that's why." Luna realized. Twilight's transformation may not have just affected her body, but also affected the way she dreams as well.

SC276: Great work solving a problem in your own specialization, Princess.

ThatUnknownPony: So the transformation is also affecting her psyche. No duh she's becoming more stupid and trusting the monster that calls himself his father.

Well, so much for searching through the dream world. It may have slowed them down, but it won't stop them.

SC276: Much as we wish they would, as it would end the story faster.

BittplexMutt: And we can't have nice things here.

"Meet you back at camp." Pinkie said as she zipped back. Luna laughed and began to explore the new island.

SC276: Alone?

ThatUnknownPony: Luna, that's just asking for you to get captured or worse.

Being the Lunar Princess has its perks in the dead of night. As she walked across, she did not see a figure pop his head from the castle.

The figure wasn't a pony, or any known creature.

SC276: Not even the author knew.

The closest thing he resembled was the humans from the mirror, only that he was beige-skinned and his proportions were slightly different.

SC276: why do all these authors insist on pissing me off

ThatUnknownPony: we are seriously doing this aren't we

He was covered in armor, save for his face, which bore a sweet mustache and goatee.

SC276: Gee, I wonder that this guy's role in the story will be.

"Sentient horse, dead ahead. Man your stations, boys. We'll give them a warm welcome once they arrive at the scene." the being said in an unknown language (to the ponies) before ducking his head into the castle.

SC276: Stop thinking you're writing a cartoon.

ThatUnknownPony: What is with these authors thinking they're actually writing an episode?

Luna didn't even notice the being's voice.

SC276: More like she cared less than we do.

Meanwhile, a strange batch of white crystals has just entered the solar system.

SC276: Oh right, that irrelevant detail.

ThatUnknownPony: Forgot that this story suddenly has a big bad.

Beware, SpaceGodzilla's coming to town.

SC276: Too bad, he double-booked with Santa.

Author's Notes:

Hey everyone! This has been a pretty short chapter when compared to other parts, but this reveals some big stuff, like how the dreams of Equestrian and Human Era beings work.

SC276: Y'know, stuff that doesn't matter in the fucking slightest anymore.

ThatUnknownPony: And again, that's not how dreams work, either in Equestria or in real life!

And yes, Luna's theory is true in this universe. Godzilla dreams tend to lack story and are more abstract than pony dreams, and they dream a lot like us real-worlders.

SC276: Have you ever actually dreamed, author?

ThatUnknownPony: So you don't even know what dreaming is... That explains a lot about the author.

Oh, and the humans in the castle are not Homo Equestrian, but are the original Homo Sapiens.

SC276: [the author] "Because fuck you, humankind will not become a new species over the course of a million years even though the fossil record patterns otherwise!"

ThatUnknownPony: [author] "After all, Humans are superior to ponies!"

Who they are will be revealed in a later chapter.

Fun Fact: G1 and G2 also are in this timeline.

Crazy56U: Because why not!

Don't let its fairy-tale exterior fool you, because it took place in the exact same post-apocalyptic Earth, though much earlier, before Starswirl was born.

ThatUnknownPony: [author] "I mean, stories like Pony POV did it, that means I can do that too!"

Crazy56U: Aw, man, that means the story's gonna last, like, half a decade and the Author is going to get into stupid fights.

However, it won't be featured for the foreseeable future.

SC276: THEN WHY FUCKING BRING IT UP?!

ThatUnknownPony: Because this story hasn't have enough pointless information.

Twilight's Story

It has been three weeks solid since she was taken by Godzilla. Well, at least the place was beautiful in its eternal sunset/sunrise, which flips every twelve hours or so.

SC276: Are you sure you're not stranded in the Twilight Realm? Have you tried getting in contact with Midna?

ThatUnknownPony: That would actually be a better explanation for her sudden transformation.

Again, world's round, Hay Gel, and all that stuff here and there.

SC276: You are actively infuriating.

ThatUnknownPony: Enough with the fucking horse puns!

She walked across the beach with her hands behind her back, smiling happily at the sunset/sunrise. Sure, she got stuck in this place with Godzilla, but in all honesty, it feels so right being here with him.

ThatUnknownPony: Being stuck with a monster for nearly a month really changes your psyche.

She had been too obsessed with her friends to tell him HER story, but there's too much time to go to waste.

SC276: As indicated by the fact that the author is writing this.

As on cue, a familiar rustling has come into the ocean as a familiar creature rose from the depths. Godzilla carried two blue whales in his hands, right in time for dinner. Twilight took one of the whales and took her first bite on it. She lived off turtle and whale meat for three weeks solid.

SC276: Is there really nothing else to hunt on this fucking island?

ThatUnknownPony: Sadly that would require for the author to have creativity, and unfortunately it's obvious he doesn't.

At first, she wasn't too hesitant, but her new body has different needs.

SC276: "Like constant validation- no wait, that's mine."

<You don't look so good. Every time I asked you, you would just keep talking about your friends and ignoring me.> Godzilla said.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Perhaps because I miss them and they didn't turn me into this and basically kidnapped me?!"

"I'm still worried very sick about my friends." Twilight said before a black-scaled hand touched her back.

<Friends? Tell me more about them.> Godzilla said.

"Well, I have many friends, I'm the Princess of Friendship after all." Twilight said. "Former Princess of Friendship" she reminded herself.

SC276: Screw that, you earned the fucking crown and wings, being turned into a fucking monster doesn't change that.

ThatUnknownPony: But see, that would collide with the title of "Princess of Monsters" his "father" gave her.

Godzilla tried to suppress a nonexistent giggle.

"What's so funny?" Twilight said, tilting her head a bit.

<Princess of Friendship. Good one, Twilight.> Godzilla said, electing a glare from Twilight.

SC276: Aren't you such a good parent.

ThatUnknownPony: You say parent, I only see kidnapper.

But then, he breathed slowly and regained his composure before talking again.

<Now, please tell me more about how you became this "Princess of Friendship" you are now.>

Godzilla said as Twilight took a bite off her whale.

SC276: [Godzilla] "The author feels the drastic need to prove he's watched the show in any capacity, even though he clearly hasn't."

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "And please tell me in excruciating detail, like if I had no idea of your own life."

"Well, I wasn't born an alicorn. I was born as a unicorn in Canterlot. I loved the Summer Sun Celebration, where Princess Celestia raises the sun into the sky in front of the whole crowd. My idol is Starswirl the Bearded, who was a truly great magician.

ThatUnknownPony: And an ever bigger piece of shit.

I studied magic so that I could be just like him." Twilight said before taking another bite on her whale.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "-Then I actually met him, and said 'Fuck that' to wanting to be like him."

"Eventually, I was enrolled in Celestia's School for Gifted Unicorns, and I had to do this exam and hatch an egg with my magic. I was not able to do it at first, but with help from someone I know now, whom I did not know at the time,

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "-and who I won't state the identity of even though I probably know-"

I let out a huge surge of magic, flying all over the place, and that's how I earned my cutie mark." Twilight said.

"I still have it, though, even if I do not have any magic. I can understand my wings remaining, but my cutie mark staying is... quite mysterious."

SC276: Almost like nothing about this makes sense.

ThatUnknownPony: Almost like you were a regular pony forced to become a giant lizard.

Twilight continued telling her story.

"Anyways. I wasn't that good of a friend before I was set to supervise the Summer Sun Celebration in Ponyville. Nightmare Moon interrupted the event and me and my newfound friends had to stop her with the Elements of Harmony, which we used to take down gods!

ThatUnknownPony: Who knew Nightmare Moon was a goddess? I mean, besides Chat of course.

We were sure that these powerful artifacts could defeat any foe! That is, until that day we faced you." <Yes, I remember that.

SC276: Even though they use basically the same power source, the Elements of Harmony is not equivalent to Rainbow Power.

ThatUnknownPony: The biggest difference is that everyone keeps bringing up the Elements while the Rainbow Power fades into obscurity.

It didn't even feel the slightest bit bothersome. To me, it was just a bunch of rainbow light. But what enemies did you fight?> Godzilla said.

"After facing Nightmare Moon and reverting her back to Luna, the Elements were no longer connected to the sisters, allowing Discord to be freed. Queen Chrysalis was stopped, twice, and Spike used the Crystal Heart to defeat Sombra.

SC276: So wait, we're at the end of season 6 now?

SC276: [Godzilla] "OK, you're just making up names now."

[Twilight Sparkle] "And YOU weren't, you bloody kettle?"

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "I don't know what a Sombra is, but it sounds disappointing."

With all this done for, I ascended to alicornhood and became a princess of Equestria. The wings came with the job." Twilight said, noting the black wings on her back.

<I want to know why you still have all of those extra parts of yours.> Godzilla said as he pointed his hand to Twilight's mane, wings, and her cutie mark.

Crazy56U: Shouldn't you know? Isn't this your dickspawn?

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Motherfucker, you turned me into this! How would I know how I just randomly still have pony parts?!"

"I don't know. I thought that they might be gone, too. But I guess that they're a side effect of my ascension to alicornhood." Twilight said.

SC276: As I said. You earned the fucking title. You keep the fucking title.

ThatUnknownPony: Or they're still there because otherwise the author would have no way to differentiate you from Godzilla.

"All my time, I depended on my friends. They kept me going through all these tough times, even in the most dire of conditions. Whether it be a chaos god on the loose, a mad centaur draining magic, or even just plain old something, they were there for me." Twilight said with a sad smile.

<I must admit, they did a good job of raising my daughter for me->

"I'M NOT THEIR- I MEAN YOUR- I MEAN..."

<As I was saying, you, Twilight, have grown up to be smart, inquisitive, and quite frankly, a beautiful young lady.

SC276: why are you hitting on your daughter

ThatUnknownPony: oh god don't bring incest into this

I never had any of these luxuries you had, back in this "Equestria" nation as you called it. When you are a thousand-foot tall mutant reptile like me, you don't get to rest.> Godzilla said before chuckling.

SC276: And yet right now you are currently...?

ThatUnknownPony: How about everytime you weren't destroying Tokyo or any other city?

<I think I know who you get your stubbornness from, Twilight.>

SC276: [Godzilla] "Your mother, the bitch."

Twilight did not open her mouth. There's obviously no turning this guy around at all. Is he crazy or is this some sort of mental game.

SC276: You speak as though those are mutually exclusive.

ThatUnknownPony: We all know the answer is "Yes".

Either way, he holds all the cards. Twilight looked into the sea and began to take a deep breath. All this time, for three weeks solid, she's been waiting there for her friends. But why isn't she searching for them?

SC276: Because you don't know if Godzillasauruses can breathe underwater or just have really high lung capacity.

ThatUnknownPony: Because again, he kidnapped you, and fear of your kidnapper is a perfectly normal reaction.

Does she really want to leave this place? Of course she does, but something from inside her wants her to stay near Godzilla. At least he was kind to her like a father... to his... daughter, kinda like that.

SC276: I'm still not entirely past the idea that you're in the Twilight Realm and this Godzilla thing is just what happens to you in particular under the effect of Twilight.

ThatUnknownPony: Well she better get out of there fast before her brain becomes irreversible corrupted.

Meeting the Group

SC276: I'd rather Meet the Pyro. Or the Spy. Or the Cores.

ThatUnknownPony: Just never Meet the Spartans. Fuck them with a hot iron.

As the Princess of Friendship went through her exile, she thought about her friends, her family, and Equestria.

SC276: In case you were worried about something happening.

Godzilla was there along side her, and he was trying to make her happy. He keeps telling her that she's his daughter, and she's starting to wonder who she should side with.

SC276: Well let's see. On one side, five very supportive best friends, your mentor your entire life, the friendliest dragon friend that's arguably immortal, your own student whose presence is a glowing advocate for the power of friendship, and dozens of other people of all species all with good wishes for you. On the other side, a fifty-story monster that killed hundreds if not thousands of innocent people over a temper tantrum. Gee, such a hard choice.

ThatUnknownPony: Twilight, I know he's trying to manipulate you, but even you're smarter than this.

As she walks further inland, she begins to wonder why she wants to stay. She wants to be with her friends, but she just can't leave this strange new world.

ThatUnknownPony: Yes, you can... I think. Either way, anything's better than staying there.

She knows her friends well, and she knows that they'll go to the ends of the earth to find her. But, she wondered, how are they gonna react? She knew Pinkie was the only one conscious and not in a coma.

SC276: And is apparently also terrible at explaining things to people.

Well, she's Pinkie, yet her friends were another story. She was worried that her friends died from the fall and were buried. She was worried that she would never ever be able to see anything even remotely Equestrian again.

SC276: Your head can't turn enough for you to see your wings?

ThatUnknownPony: How about the cutie mark you still have?

Twilight was about to sit and cry it out until a familiar voice came in.
<You're still sad, aren't you, Twilight? I must admit, that is a good name for you, but that's besides the point.

SC276: Just like every other point this author tries to make.

Please don't cry. Tell me more about those friends of yours.> Godzilla said as he sat beside her.
"You... really wanna know?" Twilight asked.
<Yes. I barely knew them but now my interest is peaked.>

SC276: Funny, so is mine.

ThatUnknownPony: Curious, mine is still low.

"Alright. Who to start with. I might as well arrange them in the order I first met them. Pinkie, full name: Pinkamena Diane Pie, SC276: Why would you feel the need to include that.

ThatUnknownPony: Because... Cupcakes?

is a strange mare. She is hyper, happy, and very fun to be around. However, she is very bizzare, and seemingly breaks physics. Did you pay any attention to her when you took me away?" Twilight asked.

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Yes I did, and no, I didn't care."

<I heard your conversation, that's for sure, and yes, I did notice her, but I was focusing on other matters.> Godzilla said. Twilight knew that those other matters had changed her life forever.

SC276: [the author] "All readers don't pay attention to the story they're reading, right? It can't be just me."

She then continued to speak.

"I met Applejack when I was checking the food. She works at a farm called Sweet Apple Acres. Very honest, hard-working, and quite stubborn at times. She and Rainbow Dash are tomboys who tend to fight it a bit.

ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "And because of that, people tend to ship them frequently."

Speaking of Rainbow Dash, she's a very fast flier, and she is quite a loyal friend. Currently, she is a member of the Wonderbolts." Twilight said.

"Rarity is a very generous pony.

SC276: will you stop describing everyone in terms of their Element that is not their entire personality

ThatUnknownPony: Tell that to "Return of Harmony".

The moment Spike saw her, he fell head over heels in love with her. She now has a shop in Canterlot and is well known. Fluttershy is kind, sweet, yet can be very quiet at times. She works with animals. Oh gods forbid her reaction to us eating meat.

SC276: Her cottage has to have at least one carnivore on the guest list, right...?

ThatUnknownPony: She has a bear, and I believe she fed some fish to a ferret. So yeah, she's more familiar with carnivores than you, Twilight.

Well, she knows it's the circle of life, but if we ate cows, then that could spell trouble."

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Given cows are, y'know, sentient."
[Godzilla] "...Actually, no, I'm not sorry about that detour I took for a snack."

<So, who else are you friends with?> the King of Monsters asked his daughter.
"My other two main friends are Spike and Starlight. Spike is not a pony like the others. He's a baby dragon, well, technically he is more of a child and my adoptive son.

SC276: [Godzilla] "You're a teen mom?! This never would've happened if we weren't separated so early!"
ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "Actually, that depends on the medium and if you want to believe Celestia literally forced me to become a foster mom just because."

He's always willing to give a helping hand in my work, and he's my number one assistant. Starlight is my student.

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "Kinda weird how she never spoke at all during this story."
ThatUnknownPony: [Twilightzilla] "-And an expert on dividing the fans even more than when I got wings."

Originally, she was crazed in equality nonsense and tried to take our individuality from us.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Much like you turning me into a fucking monster."

I managed to reform her when we were traveling through time and all that, and she became my first student. I'm proud to have such great friends." Twilight said.
<You really deserve to have friends. You protected your country well.> Godzilla said

SC276: No, she kinda failed miserably because you thought there were points where Mykan's worldview applied in any fashion.
ThatUnknownPony: And despite that, you now care about her having friends and all that because... Having a daughter changes your mood?

before he looked towards the open sea.
<And what do you know, there's a ship right there. I'm not sure if it's your friends manning it, but if that's the case, then they've got the guts to go this far out of their comfort zone.

SC276: I'm kinda glad the movie at least kicks this fic's ass.
ThatUnknownPony: Now I kinda want to see Tempest Shadow taking on Godzilla.

Go and greet them, and if everything winds up going south, I'll be here to bring you back.> Twilight nodded as she walked towards the boat, the moment of truth is now.

SC276: Namely, discovering she can breathe underwater now.

And so, our ragtag group of heroes arrived at yet another island. Turns out, the inhabitants of the castle called themselves human, but they didn't look like the humans of Canterlot High. And they were RUDE.

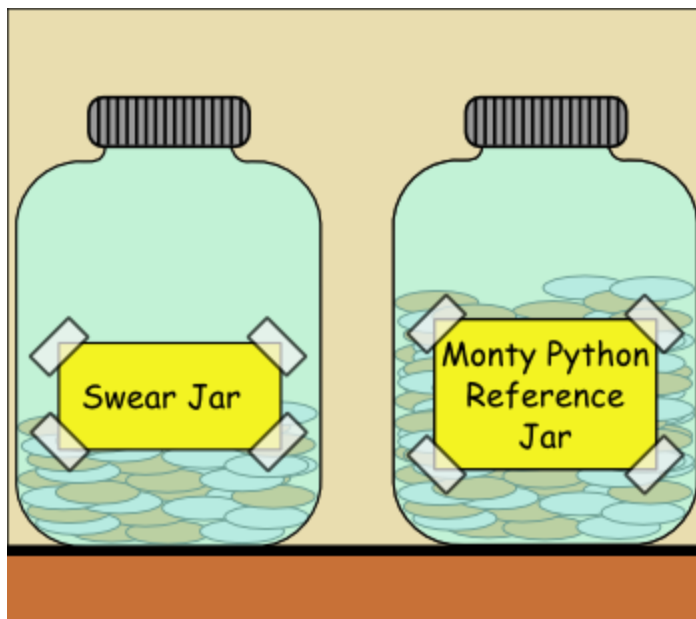

Crazy56U:

ThatUnknownPony: yup, i knew this was going there.

Throwing a cow at them?

SC276: (shakes Dragon Fullbottle, opens, punches hole in wall)

But fortunately, that was all in the past, and now, they're at another area.

SC276: [the author] "I want to include humans, but I don't want to include humans."

ThatUnknownPony: ...So you just casually shat on Monty Python's legacy for no reason at all.

"Now I might probably tell you, seeing Twilight might be a bit of a shock." Pinkie said.

"What do you mean, Pinkie? Is my sister okay?" Shining Armor said as he grabbed onto the pink mare.

SC276: YOU STILL HAVEN'T TOLD EVERYONE TWILIGHT TURNED INTO A MINI-KAIJU?! WHY THE FUCK WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN GIVEN AWAY THE MOMENT YOU MENTIONED PREPARING A "TWILIGHT'S NEW BODY" PARTY?! WHICH IS

SOMETHING PINKIE WOULD PROBABLY ACTUALLY DO, SINCE UNLIKE "THE ONE WHERE PINKIE PIE KNOWS" SHE WAS GIVEN NO REASON TO KEEP IT A SECRET

Crazy56U: Well, actually, Pinkie does have a reason to keep it secret; if she doesn't, the fic will end sooner.

ThatUnknownPony: I think that's a bigger reason for her to tell everyone about it!

"I sure hope so." Spike said.

As they were about to walk into the forest, they heard a rumbling sound.

SC276: It's Bigpaw!

"What is that?" Spike asked

SC276: I just said it's Bigpaw, pay attention.

as the quakes began to intensify, but not to lethal levels.

ThatUnknownPony: Otherwise the story would be mercifully cut short.

Rainbow Dash flew upwards and got the shock of her life. When everyone can finally, make out the being, everyone except Pinkie and Luna's jaws dropped.

ThatUnknownPony: For they wouldn't believe the stupidity in front of them.

They were standing before a giant bipedal reptile covered in black scales. She looked like Godzilla, but there were a few things that were different.

SC276: She was already described to us, for fuck's sake, we don't need it again. I'M HAVING FLASHBACKS TO FUCKING HANDBOOK.

Her snout was shorter than Godzilla's, a pair of wings rested on her back, and a white mane grew from her head, all the way down to her back and stopping at the tip of her tail, and had a series of purple and pink strips. What was the real catcher is that on her hips, was Twilight's cutie mark. She looked down at them with her purple eyes and spoke.

"Hi, everyone, it's been quite a while." Twilight said sheepishly as she waved her hand nervously. Her voice remained completely unchanged SC276: Despite physics not working like that.

ThatUnknownPony: Too bad this isn't Drakengard to explain why a giant monster still speaks like a regular girl.

and still sounded the exact same way it did before.

SC276: Despite physics not working like that. If you're going to be redundant, so can I.

Everyone's reaction was mixed.

SC276: Worst cocktail ever.

ThatUnknownPony: "-Between wanting to throw up, laugh out loud, and crying in horror."

Most of them stared wide-eyed at the new Twilight. Rarity fainted as Fluttershy studied Twilight's new form. Shining Armor remained still, staring wide-eyes with his jaw literally touching the ground.

SC276: [the author] "Everyone loves visual gags!"

Everyone was silent until Fluttershy began to speak.
"Oh my, what happened to you?" Fluttershy asked.

SC276: [Applejack] "...Really, Fluttershy? Really?"
ThatUnknownPony: [Princess Luna] "...I'm starting to wonder if all those brownies are affecting her mental functions."

Going Home

Rainbow Dash flew to the eye level of this new Twilight Sparkle, who just stared back. After an awkward moment of silence, Twilight began to speak.

"If you have anything to say-"

"Really, egghead? You really thought that we'd no longer like you?" Rainbow Dash asked as Twilight nodded.

SC276: [Rainbow Dash] "(facehoof) Oh Celestia, and people call me the stupid one..."

ThatUnknownPony: [Rainbow Dash] "You're so lucky this isn't a Mykan story or else we would be judging you by your appearance."

"Twilight, what on Equis ever happened to you?" Shining asked.

"Well, let me explain..." Twilight said.

SC276: go go gadget recap

"After you were knocked out cold, I tried to fight the beast myself, one who I now know was called Godzilla. When I tried to finish him off with what little strength I had, I transformed into this.

SC276: [Applejack] "So... for basically no reason."
[Twilight Sparkle] "For basically no reason."

ThatUnknownPony: [Applejack] "Figures. And here I thought it was Pinkie just having another mental breakdown."

And then the big guy thought I was his daughter or whatnot and carried me all the way here. For over three long weeks I have been separated from you, and now, you are finally with me again." Twilight felt her head, feeling only mane.

"And without my horn, unfortunately, means no magic, and with no magic I cannot change back.

SC276: [Princess Luna] "AHEM"
ThatUnknownPony: [Princess Luna] "You know my horn has healed, right?"

I still have my wings and cutie mark, as you clearly see. Fortunately, he was pretty kind to me, even acting like a parent would if he see their long-lost child. We bonded a bit and told each other our stories. I was resilient at first and almost broke down."

SC276: Oh lucky you, you've acclimated to the stupidity.

ThatUnknownPony: It was either that or succumbing to an aneurysm.

"Twilight, I would like to tell you our tale." Luna said.

"Then tell away..."

"Well, it took about a week for them to fully recover, except Pinkie, which it only took a day.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Wasn't she still conscious?"

[Princess Luna] "Honestly, we thought she flipped when she talked about you turning into a giant lizard monster and knocked her out."

Not only did I join them, your brother, as you saw, joined along with several others.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Yeah, I can see that. Why are there so many of you, and who are those two in the back acting like tourists?"

It was mostly boring, just us and the sea after we passed the strait between Griffonstone and the Dragon Lands. The weather acted on its own from then on, and we took one storm. The flora and fauna were strange and new.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "On the boat?"

[Princess Luna] "Look, even if I attempted to follow actual cause and effect, this story still wouldn't make sense, so I haven't been bothering."

ThatUnknownPony: [Princess Luna] "Imagine what you saw on the movie, except it makes no sense."

We came across a few islands, one of which contained a castle."

"Who were the inhabitants?" Twilight asked.

"They looked like the humans from the mirror world, only that their proportions were off, their eyes were very small, and their skin tone was restricted to a light beige color. Those things, I kid you not, were rude. I mean, shooting a live animal strait at us and pouring something you would not want to know down.

SC276: So it's not a full Monty Python reference, you just inexplicably have normal humans from the dark ages in the world of Equestria.

ThatUnknownPony: And remember: These are apparently the remnants of the human civilization of Earth.

We ultimately decided to pass them and then we were here." Luna said.

"Well, what now?" Pinkie Pie asked with curiosity after their tale was told to Twilight.

"Well, now, we return to Equestria. Me and the beast made a deal that if everything goes south, he will take me back to this bizarre place." Twilight said as she got stepped into the sea.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Where is this, anyway?"

[Applejack] "Yeah, uh, funny story: this is actually the Everfree."

[Twilight Sparkle] "...I've seen that monster pull WHALES out of the water."

[Applejack] "Stop acting like anything ever made sense."

"And trust me, we can swim despite our overbearing weight." Twilight said before completely submerging.

ThatUnknownPony: Oh, so you can swim. Now I'm really concerned about why you never tried escaping before.

The ponies and Spike went into the boat and followed on suite, not noticing Godzilla go into the water a few steps behind them.

SC276: how do you NOT NOTICE fucking GODZILLA

He was keeping his end of the deal, and wanted to make sure that his little Twilight would be safe from harm, physical and/or mental.

ThatUnknownPony: Too bad he already did a wonderful job scarring her mentally.

For over three weeks she waited to be back with her friends, even if she winds up a monster.

SC276: WE GET IT, NO-NAME.

Godzilla wanted to make her happy, and would let her reunite with her friends despite the rather great differences in size.

SC276: Why the fuck is that the important barrier? Worst case, she goes to live in the Dragon Lands. Ember should be a character by this point.

He wanted to make her happy, and boy, is she eager to see Equestria again, even if it would be for the last time.

ThatUnknownPony: Dude, spoilers!

<Twilight, please be safe. I know you are a teenager and can take good care of yourself, but I was just wanting to see you.

ThatUnknownPony: No, you wanted to kill everyone over a massive temper tantrum.

You spent a month with me, and if you do turn out to be accepted, then protect your home and your friends, I know you love them, but now my little girl is becoming a woman.

SC276: Doesn't matter if she doesn't become one that avoids run-on sentences.

I can't be any happier, even if you are the only one of the bunch to grow up. Be safe out there and don't let anything try to take your friends away.> Godzilla whispered, almost letting a tear come from his eye.

ThatUnknownPony: [Godzilla] "Unless it's me, then I have full control over your life."

Meanwhile, Twilight was thinking about Equestria. What happened out there when she was gone.

ThatUnknownPony: Your "father" happened. Try to keep up.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "I might know if anyone remembered that Celestia can send letters via Spike."

Was there some catastrophe that destroyed it? Did it get conquered by an enemy?

ThatUnknownPony: Again, your father happened.

What happened to it? What happened to Celestia, or Velvet and Nightlight.

SC276: Nothing happened, at worst Celestia has spent the last three weeks putting out Godzilla-induced fires.

ThatUnknownPony: Speaking of which, why aren't her actual parents looking for her?

Her father has taken her away for three long, wait just a second, why was she thinking it like that? Of course he isn't her dad, is he? Twilight tried to shake the conflicting feelings out of her head, she felt like she was in denial for some weird reason.

ThatUnknownPony: That's your brain trying to get rid of Godzilla's mental suggestions.

Of course she was not, she remembered her life clearly.

SC276: But the author clearly doesn't, given how often he has to write any given event down.

"I don't know how it would be like. Hopefully, it will all be as good as great and, if there is a way, I can change back." Twilight said as she went over a reef.

SC276: And you think Starlight fucking Glimmer, the poster girl for "magic for the slightest inconvenience" at this point in the show, won't at least have a starting point figured out? Even if she invisibly tagged along on this expedition where almost everyone was completely superfluous?

ThatUnknownPony: Hell, if not her, I'm sure Sunburst has read something about transformations and the like.

Again, the flora and fauna are largely unfamiliar. While it was a coral reef, there were some other creatures, too. Fish swam along with these weird flatworms, arthropods, and what she knew of as a trilobite. What was weird was that there were literal flying fish accompanied the typical birds, as well as some sort of species of bat. It wasn't quite as weird as those weird snails that had adapted to live in the desert. By the looks of it, those squid creatures in the trees could become a sentient race. It was quite interesting to see all the strange new fauna that had come to be there.

SC276: Yeah, cool, we don't care because this story is about Twilight being a Godzilla.

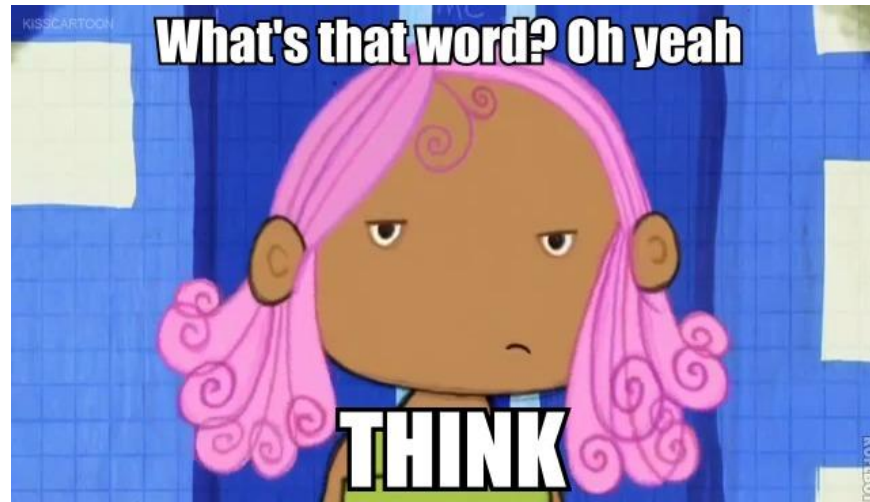

ThatUnknownPony: Why are you trying to interest us in the padding when you can't even keep focus of your main story?

"Note to self: if I transform back, I'd come back to that place and document them." Twilight said. Her friends were worried sick, and so was she. At least she had quite a tale to tell about that place.

SC276: You sat around moping and occasionally ate a whale. Tale over.

She heard Fluttershy try to communicate with one of the animals, but it turned out that most of them were nothing but mindless beings that knew at least knew eating, sleeping, and procreation.

SC276: Because god forbid pony powers have any measurable effect on Godzilla stuff, that'd require the author to Nothing in that place was controlled by the ponies. Plants grew, clouds moved, and animals too care of themselves all on their own. It was like in the Everfree, only without the creepy part.

SC276: [Fluttershy] "I hope if we ever have to leave Equestria for any reason, it's on literally the opposite side of the continent from here."

According to Luna, this strange flora and fauna extended way beyond the new continent, far past a chain of islands, in one of which these weird human-like creatures lived in. She would never forgive those strange creatures for throwing a live cow at her friends.

SC276: Chill, lady. The only reason we don't throw cows around here is because Earthworm Jim hasn't been in vogue for years.

Twilight would have plenty of time to talk to her friends during this voyage back home.. It would take two weeks for them to finally come back to Equestria, and she needs to talk with her friends to make up for the days apart from one another. Hopefully, her new form would not make anyone want her gone.

SC276:

If her friends still loved her, then so will Equestria.
The Voyage Back
It was a pretty long journey back to Equestria,

SC276: Well yeah, it took like two weeks.

and this time, they took no expenses and went back. Twilight was discovered to have been turned into a Godzilla-like form, she fortunately is still Twilight on the inside.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Gee, thanks for telling me things I already knew for three weeks."

Godzilla decided that if everything went south and that the nation no longer liked her, he'll take her back to the new world with him.

SC276: stop assuming readers start reading your story by selecting a random chapter

As Twilight swam, she admired the strange reefs until there was nothing but ocean out there. During that part of the journey, she occasionally poked her head up to talk with her friends. Turns out that they accepted that Twilight was still Twilight, even if she was essentially turned into a monster, which was skin deep.

SC276: (starts trying to beat the fourth wall to death with Ring's copy of Handbook for Mortals)

"Twilight, are you sure about seeing Equestria again?" Spike asked as his sister, adoptive mother, and friend in one poked her head out.

"Yes, Spike. Even if it is for the last time, I have to do it. Who knows, the ponies have accepted changelings, so why can't they accept me as well?" Twilight said.

"But what happened to Equestria while I was gone?"

"We've all been worried sick, so we decided to find you. You have to thank Pinkie for warning us about your change." the little dragon said as he pointed to Pinkie, who was busy munching on a cake. At least she's going on it just fine. As for Shining Armor, he wasn't going too well, mainly because of her new form.

SC276: [Spike] "You know, for certain completely incorrect definitions of 'warn.'"

"Twilight, are you sure you are finding a way to turn back?" Shining asked. Twilight slightly frowned.

"Well, I would if I could, but with no horn, no magic can be used. And since Godzilla was completely immune to the Rainbow, I do not know how I can fix this, and I am starting to give up on it..." Twilight said

SC276: [Starlight Glimmer] "Well it's a good thing I'm like the most powerful unicorn in Equestria right now, or at least I would be if the author remembered more than my name." as she went into a stationary position and looked at her hands.

"I always thought of myself as awkward and out of place,

SC276: Yes, that is called autism. Or being a complete fucking creep, but autism seems more likely in your case.

but in this body, I feel like this is the real me." Twilight said as she clenched her hands. Even though Lyra isn't as obsessed with hands as many think, she would still be jealous that she can have at least some semblance to the human body, three times over, four if her new form counts.

SC276: THEN WHY FUCKING BRING IT UP

"So, what do you think about me and our parents?" Shining asked.

"Well, you all were the ones that raised me.

SC276: The blood of the covenant is thicker than the water of the womb. Thick enough that hopefully Zilla-boy drowns in it.

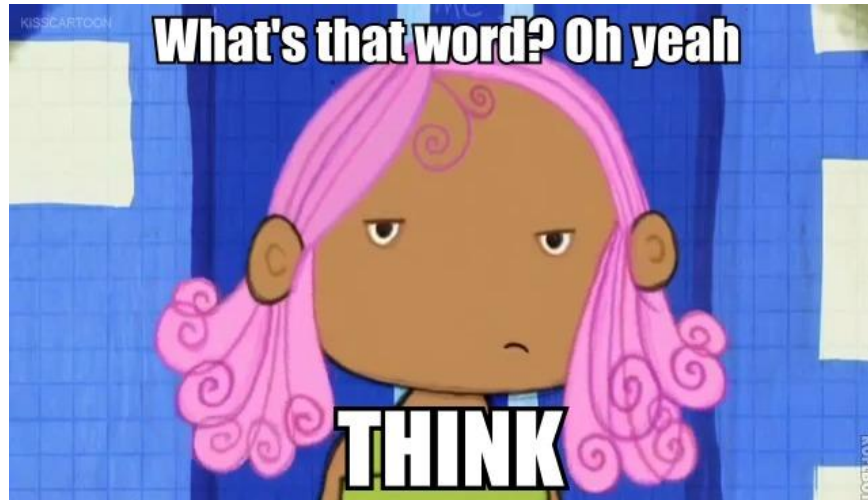

ThatUnknownPony: And this is why I always choose Conquest over Birthright.

Of course I'd love you all, though too bad about giving hugs." Twilight replied.

"You would still give me hugs, right?" Spike asked.

"Spike, you're a bit too small right now, but if you happened to be big enough, then yes, I would give you a hug." Twilight said as Spike jumped up in excitement.

SC276: I mean, you could learn to control your strength so you could give safe hugs to anyone, but that would require the author to Spike is still the same old Spike to her even if she is in this strange form of hers. The rest of the Bearers had completely accepted Twilight for who she is, although Shining Armor seems to think otherwise.

SC276: Really, author. You feel the need to make Shining Armor racist.

Luna had a worried look on her face. Sure, she accepts Twilight for who she is, but why is she worried?

"Luna, what's wrong?" Twilight asked as she looked at the alicorn of the night.

"It's that I literally can never go into your dreams again. Your door... is gone." Twilight's eyes widened at that comment.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "You mean I can't perform alchemy anymore?!"

"How?" she asked, with worry on her face.

"Well, I've came up with a theory

Crazy56U: [Princess Luna] "It's unrelated to this dream bullshit, mind you, but still worth sharing. That fucking DLC 'leak' that said the fucking Dragon Quest guy was next, no, okay, that's bullshit, it's fake, check it: the actual next DLC guy is Frogger."

[Twilight Sparkle] "... ..like... ..the Shrek-ass looking reboot v-" on why it is gone. You see, all the creatures on Equis are magically connected in a network of doors that most know of as dream web.

SC276: [Princess Luna] "Think the Collective Unconscious from Psychonauts, but made up entirely of those mental cobweb things."

Godzilla, as you call him, lacks magic, and in theory, his dreams are nothing more than a figment of his own mind." Luna stated.

"And that means when I transformed, my connection to the dream web was severed.

Crazy56U: "Luna then promptly collapsed to the ground from a brain aneurysm over how stupid that was."

Luna, I am so sorry to hear this." Twilight said.

"It's nothing to be ashamed about, Twilight. You simply no longer have that sort of magic. I'm not saying you no longer have magic, you still have your cutie mark, don't you?" Luna asked.

SC276: I don't know, does she? Clearly I only yell about the deep fatal flaw of fics that I haven't read.

"Well, yes, though I have my doubts. Even when Discord took my horn, I still felt magic from within me.

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "It just took on the form of a verrrrrrrry fucking massive migraine. ...okay, honestly, that might have been in part due to Discord turning the others into asshats, but..."

Now, I don't feel any of my natural magic at all, I cannot even access the magic of friendship!" Twilight exclaimed with a bit of fear that her magic was gone forever.

SC276: [the author] "Whatever the fuck that is."

"Twilight, you cannot regain your magic by just moping around, it's not like something bad is happening to Equestria right now." Pinkie said.

ThatUnknownPony: And you just jinxed it, Pinkie.

Hayseed Swamps Biollante.

SC276: Oh right, that thing. Honestly, with all the repetition going on, that thing got crowded out of my head.

A plant beast from ages past. Originally a human girl named Erika Shiragami, she died and was revived when her father spliced her cells into a rose. He also spliced some of Godzilla's cells, causing it to mutate into a giant flower beast,

Crazy56U: DISCLAIMER: NONE OF THIS IS A LIE

ThatUnknownPony: What's with scientists creating monsters in an attempt to bring back their dead children?

SC276: This is why the Invisible College exists in Genius: the Transgression. So all these people with the same idea in the same universe can compare notes and not do that multiple times.

with Erika's conscious in the new being. She was scared of who she was and cried to her friend from a previous life. However, it attracted Godzilla's attention, and caused Erika's mind to be suppressed and Biollante to fight Godzilla, once in her Flower Beast form, and once in her Plant Beast Form.

SC276: And once in her Beast Beast Form.

After her second fight, Erika's mind regained control as Biollante's spore floated out into space, where they were orbiting Earth for millions of years until they finally landed in the Hayseed Swamps.

SC276: (Googles) Author, picking a random location on the official map doesn't mean you've watched the show.

She turns her head to the left to see white crystals growing and heading towards her. She had no time to flee and got imprisoned in a giant crystal.

SC276: Literally not how crystals work.

"Me and my big mouth."

SC276: who the fuck said that

Godzilla of the Stars

SC276: As if the one on the round wasn't already a massive headache.

"Me and my big mouth..." Pinkie said before her Pinkie sense went off.

"What was it, Pinkie?" a worried Twilight asked.

"Something evil has landed in Equestria, something big, like Godzilla-size big!" Pinkie said as she poked her head from a cloud and pointed to the approximate height of the monster, don't ask, but it did leave a shocked Twilight with widened eyes. "And you are the only one of us large enough to fight it directly." the pink pony concluded.

SC276: [Pinkie Pie] "Literally just you, and not the obvious fifty-story dinosaur that's been blatantly following us the entire time!"

"But, what if I cannot fight him? I've always had the magic of friendship by my side, and now with my magic severed and the fact that you cannot fight by my side, I don't think that I can win.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "I'm not used to physical labor!"

"I'm really scared..." Twilight said as a single tear came from her eye.

"Listen, Twilight. This is what I learned numerous times from a certain giant monster swimming right beside us. It doesn't mean you cannot win, it means you have to win, not just for Equestria, but for us as well." Pinkie said in a very cheerful way.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "...That doesn't help at all!"

"But why are you so cheerful about this?" Twilight asked the pink pony.

"Because I am confident that you'll win. Just look at Shining and Cadence, they beat the changelings with just their love, so why can't you beat the space monster on your own." Pinkie said.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Because I'm not about to be married?"

"Thanks, Pinkie, under that hyper attitude and childlike glee of yours, you have some pretty deep wisdom.

SC276: As deep as an inflatable kiddie pool.

And speaking of Shining, he wasn't too keen about my transformation and kept asking me questions that only I would know." Twilight said.

"He's just stubborn sometimes, but he may also be cautious. I guess that's what big brothers are for." the pink pony said as she pointed to the white unicorn with a blue mane.

SC276: [Vinyl Scratch] "Hey, don't point at me! I don't even know why I'm on this boat!"

"I think you are right, Pinkie. Let's head home and defeat this new enemy. Hopefully, everyone would recognize me." Twilight said with an underconfident look on her face. Pinkie took note and went inside to eat yet another oversized pastry. It's a mystery on how she can eat so many sweets in her body and gain little to no weight.

Crazy56U: One word. Tapeworm.

DAVE: well shit
DAVE: thats a hell of a mystery no one thought was a mystery and didnt even really need solving DAVE: but damn if it didnt just get solved so nice work

SC276:

Three days later, they finally got into familiar waters. The strait between Griffonstone and the Dragon's Lair looked pretty normal, but when they got to the coast of Equestria, there were no beaches to greet them, instead, giant white crystals towered over the city that they encased.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "...Hey, Pinkie, by 'Godzilla-sized monster,' did you mean King Sombra's back?"

Luckily or unluckily, the crystals have perfectly preserved the city of Manehattan with no problems, SC276: Didn't Godzilla completely destroy that one?

but it was still scary to see whatever happened to cause this insanity. Docking was a bit tricky, but the Statue of Harmony wasn't covered in crystal, so they were able to anchor the ship somewhat.

SC276: What, crystal docks too good for ya?

"Twilight, there's no turning back, are you sure you want to go in there?" Pinkie asked.
"Yes, Pinkie, this is my fight, and are you sure you want to come along?"

SC276: [Pinkie Pie] "You mean as the only other character in this story with more than like five lines?"

"We all are sure we want to follow you, you are our friend, monster or not." Pinkie said as they hopped onto Twilight as she trekked inwards, not noticing a black-scaled head come up.
<Twilight, I'll be guiding you when needed, like at the beginning of the fight, and I will protect you when necessary, too.> Godzilla said as he went out of the ocean, being careful not to be noticed by the ponies.

SC276: Godzilla is not a mysterious protector type, he's FUCKING GODZILLA.

As they traversed inland everyone had the shivers at what happened to Equestria. The whole of it was turned into a colossal crystal fortress, and the whole land was rendered unrecognizable except for the occasional landmarks here and there that were encased in crystal, but that was enough for our little group.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Are we absolutely certain that Sombra's not involved?"

But when they reached Ponyville, something bad had happened.

SC276: And the whole country being turned into Bubsy 3D isn't?!

A searing orange beam of cosmic energy came crashing into Twilight, hurting her and causing her to stumble, knocking everyone off of her. As Luna tried to get up, her body was rendered immobile. She attempted to struggle, but it was no use as she was pulled away by an unknown force. Twilight looked to see the perpetrator move Luna towards him.

It looked a lot like Godzilla, but there were obvious differences, SC276: Like it was fifty-one stories tall.

like the two large crystals on his shoulders and the golden trident-like crown on his head.
SpaceGodzilla

SC276: I do not care if that's an actual canon name for an actual canon monster, ROLLERGATOR is a better name than that.

let out a loose laugh as he phased Luna into one of his shoulder crystals. Twilight looked to the other crystal to see another alicorn trapped inside.

"Oh no..." Twilight said

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "This is so fucking bullshit."

before turning to her friends.

"Shining, get them to safety, I do not want to risk their lives, or yours." Twilight said. Shining Armor nodded and lit up his horn in a rose aura, teleporting them all to safety as Twilight got into a fighting stance, looking directly at SpaceGodzilla.

"I don't know who you are or what your intent is,

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "-or why your name is so absolutely fucking terrible-" but I have no choice but to defeat you." Twilight said.

<You fight me? Pathetic, you don't even know the full extent of your abilities,

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "What makes you think that?"

[Mr. Spaceman] "Because unlike the author, I've actually been reading the story!"

so step aside. No, wait, you stay put so I can have a practice dummy to use my new powers on.>
Godzilla's spacial duplicate laughed, running forward to punch Twilight, SC276: Punching is a new power for you?

who dodged to the side, making him land in one of his own crystals.

SC276: I hope that's like stepping on a LEGO.

Twilight's eyes locked SpaceGodzilla's as the both glared at one another. SpaceGodzilla made the first move. He lunged towards Twilight yet again, but when she attempted to dodge, he was ready for her. He grabbed Twilight with the Gravity Tornado and threw her into hundreds of feet into the air, along with himself. The two traded punches, kicks, and bites as they hurtled across the sky and into the Smokey Mountains.

SC276: ...Are you trying to have a Dragon Ball Z-like battle between kaiju?

Twilight rammed her tail against SpaceGodzilla's face, knocking him back. Godzilla's crystalline imposter launched the Corona Beam at his foe.

SC276: Unless otherwise stated, I'm just going to assume those are homebrewed Pokémon moves.

Twilight attempted to dodge, but the beam curved towards her. It did a loop upwards before she ducked and caused it to hit a crystal, which SpaceGodzilla grabbed telekinetically and attempted to toss it at her and succeeded in hitting her. Something about fighting SpaceGodzilla made Twilight's chest feel hot, and she didn't notice until now. However, instead of freaking out at this, and inhaled as the hot feeling crawled up her throat. Twilight didn't know what that feeling was, and she wasn't sure about it was until she exhaled, releasing a torrent of atomic breath at her foe. SpaceGodzilla took a hit directly in the center, but he was not knocked back.

SC276: Offhand, you're about to vomit. Get thee to a toilet.

SC276: Like how Fox's blaster doesn't cause flinching.

Twilight attempted to do it again, letting out another blast of atomic breath, but SpaceGodzilla shielded himself with a force field of crystal before attacking her once again. This time, he grabbed Twilight in his telekinesis, rending her body immobile and throwing her around at the sharpest crystals, staining them red with blood and creating some pretty big wounds here and there.

SC276: At this point, why am I expecting sense...

SC276: I would assume any wounds on a Godzillasaurus are big by definition.

Twilight tried to use her atomic breath to interrupt him, but the fiend blocked her attack and punched her, leaving her body injured and unable to move. SpaceGodzilla laughed before speaking.
<This is fun,

SC276: What fic are you reading, buddy?

I must admit that you put up a good fight, but you have no friends to be around. Even with them, they'd still be no help for you, like all the little bugs we-> He couldn't finish his sentence when Godzilla showed up, lunging forth and ramming his body against SpaceGodzilla, sending him flying into a crystal.

SC276: [Mr. Spaceman] “

<I don't know who you are or what your goal is, but if you think THAT YOU ARE GONNA KILL MY DAUGHTER, THEN YOU SHOULD THINK AGAIN, PAL!> Godzilla roared before letting out his signature battle cry at SpaceGodzilla, who looked at the King of Monsters.

SC276: Why would he be impressed? He's the Space King of Monsters.

Twilight could see the two behemoths clashing before blacking out. She didn't know where she would be, but where was she? All she knows is that she woke up in a dank, dark, void.

SC276: It's called being unconscious, you freakin' idiot.

She knew that Godzilla is currently fighting SpaceGodzilla as she sat there, fatally wounded by the crystalline beast. What had she done to deserve this? And more importantly, where in the world is SC276: -Carmen Sandiego?

she?

"Anyone here... HELLO!" she yelled, but no response called back to the frightened kaiju. She never felt so confused, lost, and alone in her life.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "I mean, excluding that time of my exam as a filly where I got caught in a vortex of my own magic, but the author hasn't watched the show."

If this is the afterlife, then she was probably the only one who got there. But suddenly, a voice responded to her cries.

"You shouldn't be feeling this way..."

SC276: "You've met with a terrible fate, haven't you?"

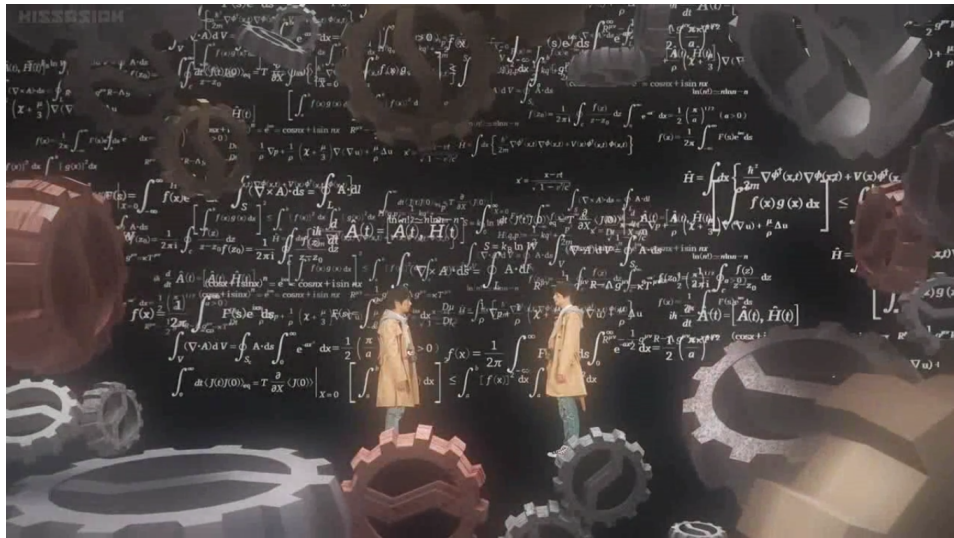

Author's Notes:

Next time, we will find out who was speaking to Twilight and where she is, so be patient and stay alert for any updates. Man, if there were notification squads here, I recommend that you join them.

SC276: If you want one so badly, go to YouTube and stop bothering us.

Void of Darkness

"You shouldn't be feeling this way..." Twilight was shocked. That voice sounded exactly like her own. Twilight was even more bamboozled when she saw who was speaking. It was HER! Not her her, but the old unicorn Twilight. Purple fur, blue mane with two stripes, purple eyes and the like.

SC276:

"Y-y-y-your ME!" Twilight said.

"Well, yes and no. This is your subconscious, and you are in a coma." the unicorn said.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Apparently the author thinks everyone that gets knocked unconscious goes into a coma, even though that's like two orders of magnitude more severe. Someone needs to pay attention in biology classes."

"Sure looks pretty dank, why aren't there books everywhere?" Twilight asked her unicorn counterpart.

"Well, in a nutshell, you are almost about to die.

SC276: In which case, there should be books that are on fire.

Your father, Godzilla, is fighting SpaceGodzilla, and you are the only one who can help him in this situation." the unicorn said as Twilight walked up to her.

"Wait on just a second. You are telling me that Godzilla is my father. Not even I would think that, and why am I the only one who can help defeat SpaceGodzilla, I don't have any magic with me.

SC276: Stop making fucking excuses.

And why do you keep calling him my father when he isn't?" Twilight yelled.

"That's what you keep telling yourself, Twilight. It wasn't taken away. You have to dig into it, and you have plenty of that right here." A rectangle slid down and projected a scene that Twilight recognized.

SC276: I am getting so fucking sick of characters creating projector screens at this point. I thought the Mykan comparisons were over with by now...

She saw her and her friends use the Elements for the first time and defeat Nightmare Moon. Another rectangle slid and showed Twilight curing her friends from the influence of Discord, and another of them using the Elements on him.

"But, my friends, they're likely dead!" Twilight said.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "I can't trust my brother, a trained military captain, to keep my friends safe!"

"They may be dead out there, but they live on in here." the unicorn said as she pointed her hoof at Twilight's chest area.

"Well, what does that even mean?" the kaiju asked.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "It means you need to eat them to restore your strength."

"As a certain pink pony said, it does not mean you cannot win, Twilight. It means you HAVE to win for your friends. Equestria and quite possibly even the world is at danger, and it's up to you to save it all!

SC276: Not making a strong case here.

You are the daughter of Godzilla!" the purple unicorn said as Twilight closed her eyes, leaving her to think.

Meanwhile, back in the real world, Godzilla was still fighting SpaceGodzilla, throwing him a safe distance away from the unconscious body of Twilight. Godzilla pushed against SpaceGodzilla as the two monsters were locked in a power struggle.

SC276: It's just fucking hilarious how the author is so creatively bankrupt, the only opponent he could think of for this fight is just an alternative version of Godzilla.

SpaceGodzilla won in the end, pushing Godzilla into a crystal, causing blood to fly out, but not causing Godzilla to fall.

The King of Monsters merely shook his head and fired his blue atomic breath at SpaceGodzilla as he was walking towards him. He attempted to use Celestia and Luna's magic to reroute it back at Godzilla, who ducked at the last second.

SC276: Could've just used how crystals bend light, but no, you had to make this like the fight with Tirek in a blatant attempt to convince us you watched the show.

The King of Monsters roared at his opponent, who fired an atomic fireball at Godzilla, who countered with his own, creating a shockwave that shook the surrounding crystals, but did not destroy them.

Twilight snapped out of her pondering state and opened her eyes, walking towards her old unicorn self.

"You are still in denial, aren't you?" the unicorn said. Twilight nodded in response.

"Well, your memories as a baby will give you some hindsight." the unicorn replied

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Excuse me, why would I have memories of when I was a baby when-?"

[Twilight Sparkle] "The author thinks that anyone knocked unconscious falls into a coma, LOGIC HAS NEVER APPLIED HERE" as she pointed towards the direction the older memories are. Twilight walked across, looking back at the memories.

As Twilight walked farther into the past of her memories to find an answer, she passed many of her old memories, and has long passed the moment she got her cutie mark. At that point, she began to lose her memories, but not her knowledge. She remembered things like how to speak and stuff like mathematics and science, but her experiences, her whole identity, except her first name, were another story.

SC276: [the author] "Now that is definitely a phenomenon that is exclusive to only me so I have to waste everyone's time explaining it!"

As she went further and further into the past, her experiences faded away from her. However, her objective remained, and that was to go to the very beginning of it all. Twilight has passed everything, meeting Celestia for the first time, her time as a toddler, and her first words. All of it, down the drain. By the time she reached the one year mark, she had remembered nothing. "Ugh, this is taking me nowhere, where am I, who am I?" Twilight said as she marched forth, clearly not remembering anything about her old life.

SC276: (is still trying to beat the fourth wall to death with Ring's copy of Handbook for Mortals)

She marched the same direction she always was, looking for answers. At the very beginning, there was a bright white light waiting for her. "Oh hello, Mr. Light, what do you have in store?" Twilight said as she walked closer to the light, feeling the urge to touch it. "I feel like I should touch it." the kaiju said as she reached out her right hand to touch it. The moment she sunk her forearm into the ball, a new memory flashed before her.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "OH MY GOD, I'm in a ripoff of The LEGO Movie!"

She saw a tall, black monster on an island, fighting a giant dragonfly dragon thing, defeating it in the process. It walked further into its island, where an egg resided. This egg was lavender with indigo spots and a pink, six-pointed star, just like the marks on Twilight's hips.

SC276: how the fuck
Godzilla and his mate weren't fucking Pokémon, author

The beast, Godzilla, wrapped himself around the egg with sadness in his eyes. His mate and two sons were killed by that overgrown wasp the moment they met. At least he still had one last egg. Too bad his mate is not here as well, but his kind were naturally very good parents.

SC276: I don't believe you.

She was ultimately poisoned by Megagirus when they fought, she could have been an excellent mother. As the egg began to crack, the humans became afraid. What if the two interbreed? If they don't do something quick, they'll be here long after humankind has died out, went to space, or whatever.

SC276: How the fuck are you remembering something in third-person from before you hatched- oh right, logic doesn't apply in this universe.

SC276: When... humans don't have to deal with them anymore?

So, they invented a weapon to deal with it.

SC276: "Invented a weapon," "stole the Dimensional Flux Agitator from Sluggy Freelance," same thing really.

All they had to do was take out the child. Their powerful cannon shot a beam of light at the egg and surrounded it just as the baby hatched halfway. The ball of light flew upwards before disappearing from one time period, and into another.

The next thing Twilight saw was a garden in some sort of castle. Two unicorns walked together, one male and one female. The male was blue with a dark blue mane and the female was light grey with a white and purple mane. They walked across the garden, admiring the scenery until they saw a light appear in the sky.

SC276: Why am I not surprised the author doesn't know how memory works...

"Make a wish, dear." Twilight Velvet said to her husband, thinking it was a shooting star.

"Um, dear, I don't think that is a shooting star..." Nightlight said as the ball of light headed straight towards them. The two lept to the sides as the light faded away, revealing a small, newborn lavender-coated foal with a navyblue mane that had purple and pink strips on it.

SC276: ...Why the fuck did getting sent into the future turn her into a pony?! I was expecting something like Celestia polymorphing her to avoid the panic of a giant baby lizard appearing in the middle of Equestria. This, meanwhile, explains nothing! This is a non-explanation! Somehow the author managed to come up with a worse explanation for a baby pony appearing in the middle of nowhere than "My Little Dashie!"

She harmlessly plopped to the floor, shivering violently as goo trailed behind her when she dragged across the ground.

"Um, Velvet? Why is there a foal there? Should we adopt her?" Nightlight asked his wife as she wiped the goo off her.

"Yes, dear, but what do you think we should name her?" Velvet asked.

SC276: [the author] "Superman's origin story works just as well if the baby lands in the middle of a kingdom's capital as it did in rural Kansas, right?"

The two thought about it long and hard as they took the filly to the orphanage so they can adopt her. They regarded the night sky at the time they found her, and that sparkling light that carried her to the ground. And finally, Nightlight came up with a name.

"How about Twilight. Twilight Sparkle."

"I think that is a beautiful name." Velvet said

SC276: [Velvet] "Vampire-ish, but beautiful."

as Twilight Sparkle cried. Nightlight stuck a pacifier into her mouth, and the little filly began suckling on it before all of Twilight's memories came rushing back to her. A purple aura was starting to form in the void.

Twilight gasped as she saw the internal magic light up her subconscious. She gave out a confident grin as she began to feel her magic return.

SC276: [the author] “

She already felt stronger.

“Who am I? What am I? Those questions bother many people. Who you are depends on a lot of things, but I know who I am! I am Twilight Sparkle, the former Element of Magic, former student of Princess Celestia, and the daughter of the King of the Kaiju!” Twilight said as the area around her was turning white.

SC276: I dunno, I still don't buy having your real form exposed cutting you off from the Element- oh right, because the Element's in the Tree now. Fuck you anyway.

“So what if I die for good this time. If I have to die, I won't die in vain. If I am going to die, if it really happens, I will die a protector, not a coward! I never thought I could be lonelier, but it is now that I realize that you are never alone, ever!” Twilight said as she got up, her wounds vanishing into thin air. She felt stronger than before, and she will assist her father if he is still fighting SpaceGodzilla.

"Dad, I'm coming to help you!" Twilight said as she ran towards the battle.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] “(stops after realizing she's still in her subconscious)” [Twilight Sparkle] “Yeah, protip: comas don't give a shit about determination. You're still gonna die. Nice rousing speech, though.”

Daughter of Godzilla

Godzilla breathed heavily, lashing his tail at SpaceGodzilla, hitting him in the face, but not before he made a move. The crystalline beast attempted to impale his weakened counterpart with his tail if it weren't for a small atomic breath hitting his face. Godzilla looked at the attacker in shock. Twilight was flying a few dozen feet above the sky, magenta energy surging around her as she was descending to the ground like a heavenly angel.

SC276: Maybe in the original definition of “angel”...

<So, the little girl is back on her feet again. How touching, always coming back when there's someone in distress. Your own father failed, and so will you! Once you're done for, your friends are next.> SpaceGodzilla said.

SC276: Wow, you're so terrible at this, you couldn't even do collateral damage.

"You wish. The moment you came here, you terrorized Equestria, covered it in crystals, and absorbed the two sisters. I was still in denial that first time, but now I've finally accepted my past." Twilight said

SC276: Even though the past consisted of two memories of events that not only not connect to each other in any way, but take place from perspectives you literally couldn't have had. It's infinitely more likely that those were planted in your mind by some outside party.

as a familiar magenta aura began surrounding her hands. Godzilla thought that her magic had vanished completely when she changed back, and SpaceGodzilla was just as shocked.

SC276: [Mr. Spaceman] "This is so fucking bullshit!"

<Do it, sweetie, and whatever you do, don't give up!> Godzilla said. SpaceGodzilla fired the Corona Beam at Twilight, who decided to teleport out of the way and fire an atomic breath at one of SpaceGodzilla's crystals, being careful not to destroy the princess trapped inside. SpaceGodzilla turned around and attempted to impale her with crystals, but the princess countered them with small atomic fireballs. He lunged towards Twilight and attempted to punch her, but she countered with a punch of her own, creating a powerful shockwave that caused the surrounding crystals to crack.

SC276: (is on his phone) This level of Stellar Fox is particularly tricky...

SpaceGodzilla had enough of this, and so did Twilight.

SC276: That makes three of us.

The crystalline beast began to draw magic from Celestia and Luna and shot it right at Twilight, who countered with her own magic blast, creating an explosion of color.

"Note to self: free Celestia and Luna from that guy's crystals." Twilight thought SC276: If I keep pointing out the redundancy, I'll be here for another week...

as she dodged yet another blast, confirming what she should do. Twilight teleported behind SpaceGodzilla when he prepared another attack. She punched one of the shoulder crystals, cracking it and almost freeing Luna. Before she could free her and maybe Celestia, SpaceGodzilla turned around and did an attack of his, knocking Twilight back into a crystal, aiming to impale her, but Twilight went back to her balance and began pushing on the charging SpaceGodzilla before throwing him into the crystal, causing blood to fly out. SpaceGodzilla roared and got out of the crystal, just as Twilight punched the right shoulder crystal, freeing Luna.

SC276: Get a new move.

SC276: [the author] "This is totally not ripped off from some boss fight!"

She did the same thing to Celestia's crystal, but there was something off with the two sisters. For starters, they looked more grey than usual, and another thing to be noted, their cutie marks were gone and their manes lost their ethereal properties.

SC276: god fucking dammit

The weakened alicorns shook their heads and got up, limping from the fight to sit it out.

SC276: How did they even get down to the ground safely, given pegasi and presumably they need magic for their wings to support them?

"He has our magic, Twilight... you must defeat him and free our magic." Luna said as she and her sister lay down on the crystalline ground.

"Let's hope so... she has defeated so many with friendship,

SC276: when will the mykan allusions end but this will be her first on her own. And, by the looks of it, well." Celestia said as the two behemoths continued their fight.

"But as Pinkie said, she always has her friends with her, even when they're far apart." Luna said as Twilight teleported behind her foe and did another atomic breath at him.

"In a sense, I guess you're right, Luna." Celestia said as the two continued to watch the fight. Both sides were tired and evenly matched by the looks of it.

SC276: [Princess Celestia] "Pass the popcorn, I'm getting something out of this."

<I must admit, you are a powerful foe, but I had enough of this. Even without my shoulder crystals, I'll destroy you.> the crystalline being said.

SC276: Yeah, I don't believe you.

"You wish. You've been destroying my home, and it's about time we end this fight." Twilight said.

<Agreed, worm. Let's see if you can defeat me in this!> SpaceGodzilla said as he charged up a powerful super-Corona Beam and launched it at Twilight, who countered the blast with a red atomic breath mixed with her own magic.

The two powerful attacks met head on, seemingly evenly matched. However, SpaceGodzilla's blast is slowly advancing.

SC276: [Willy Wonka] "The tension is terrible. I hope it lasts."

Twilight thought that she would lose, but then, she thought of her memories. She thought of Twilight Velvet and Nightlight, how they adopted her and cared for her like she was one of their own. The ponies of Equestria weren't aware of her past, but Godzilla himself was.

SC276: ...So?

She thought of how he wanted to make her, his daughter by blood, happy. She was in denial all those times and never thought of the perspective of the King of Monsters. Sure, the humans may have taken her away from him until her teens, but if they didn't then she would've probably never learned what she did, and Equestria would've turned out much worse if it were to still exist. She ignored the cracks of light forming in her body as she continued to think about herself, still in the conflict.

SC276: Which somehow doesn't make you a baby by dinosaur standards.

"What's going on with Twilight?" Celestia asked, her eyes widening at the glowing cracks.

SC276: [Princess Luna] "Offhand, she's turning into a Phantom. Though it honestly seems more likely that happened that caused her to turn into a Godzilla in the first place."

"I don't know, but it's not stopping." Luna said as Twilight's blast intensified, pushing SpaceGodzilla's blast back. The light became brighter as Twilight's cracks grew. The blast's intensity created a dome made out of light and overtook SpaceGodzilla, killing him in the process.

SC276: Oh come on, it wasn't even the fucking beam that killed him!

The dome of light continued to expand across Equestria, overwriting SpaceGodzilla's influence. In the Hayseed Swamp, a large crystal broke open before vanishing, freeing a gigantic plant monster. Biollante looked both ways with her crocodile-esque head before moving southeast. She didn't know what happened, and she was pretty sure she did not want to know at all.

SC276: I can't fucking believe a plant kaiju is the most relatable character in this story.

Godzilla got up, groaning. His injuries were completely healed, but where was Twilight? All he saw was smoke. He took notice of the two sisters, who had just regained their magic, looking just as sad as he felt. But this was not meant to last.

SC276: Because god forbid Twilight die.

When the smoke cleared, there was no sign of SpaceGodzilla, and in Twilight's place, a new/old being lay.

She looked like Twilight's old pony self, complete with lavender fur and a navyblue mane, but there were some things... of.

SC276: ...Of what?

One of the most obvious traits was that her tail wasn't that of a pony's, but it was longer and wider, covered in lavender fur and ended in a brush of hair that resembled her old tail. Her underside was no longer covered in fur, but black scutes, which also covered what used to be her hooves. Three clawed toes grew on her back feet while her front hooves were replaced by appendages that looked like hands. If you look closely, there were some minor differences. Her wings have become feathered again, but retained their singular claws, and her mouth had a set of fangs in the place of her original equine teeth.

SC276: She looks a bit like she's trying to cosplay as Spyro and forgot a lot of the details.

It appears that Twilight had become a hybrid pony of some kind.

SC276: Hey, keep your opinions to yourself!

Celestia and Luna walked over to Twilight's body and saw that she was still alive, but unconscious.

SC276: Fuck, and she almost managed to escape this story.

"Twilight's alive, Celestia!" Luna said as her sister nodded. In the background, Godzilla looked on. His little girl hadn't completely changed back to her pony self, but if she can live with her hybridized features and her friends can, then he can as well.

SC276: And if she doesn't, she can just go to Skylanders Academy.

She has grown up quite well, he was quite surprised at her bravery, to be honest. He couldn't be any prouder of his daughter than he is right now.

SC276: Good to know it's all downhill from here.

She deserves a good, long rest after that series of events.

SC276: -unfortunate-

"Don't worry, we're by her side." a pink pony said as she went onto her snout.

SC276: ...what?

"I gotta go now. Her party cannot build itself, ya know!" Pinkie said as she vanished just as quickly as she had came.

SC276: [Applejack] "OK, can I give my opinions on all of that?"
[Princess Celestia] "No. I want this behind me faster than my tail."

Time to Party

Twilight opened her eyes, waking from her long, sweet slumber to find herself in her castle's bedroom, wait, what?

"How is this possible! I would be too big, it doesn't make... sense." Twilight said as she looked at her arms, which were covered almost completely in lavender fur, bar her hands, which were covered in black scutes similar to that of a birds.

SC276: I am not going over this fucking description again. SKIP!

Twilight pulled the covers to see that her body had become what looked like a mix between her pony and kaiju selves. She was pony shaped and sized, and even looked like her old self on some occasions, but there was much more than her new hands.

Her back hooves were replaced with the three-toed feet of a Godzillasaurus, again covered in black scales. Her tail was not that of a pony's, but was longer, about half the length of the rest of her body and covered in lavender fur, save for the underside, which was covered in black scales like her hands, feet, and belly are. Twilight patted her back to feel her two feathered wings rest upon it, each with a draconic claw on the. Twilight attempted to get up, only to go face first onto the floor.

Getting up to her familiar quadrupedal stance, she walked towards the mirror to get a better look. Her belly scales didn't continue up her neck, and her head was that of a pony's, but there were differences. Her old pony teeth were no more, replaced by a full set of fangs. Her eyes were also different, having orange sclera and yellow irises. If this were the old her from before the Nightmare Moon incident in this body, she would have freaked out big time. But with the events of the last month in place, she doesn't care.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "At some point, you just have to go: why bother reacting."

The thoughts didn't last for long when she heard the door open.

"TWILIGHT!" seven familiar voices cheered from behind the hybrid. Twilight turned around to see her friends standing there, waiting for a hug.

SC276: They don't want to initiate hugs with her anymore? That's just sad.

Twilight smiled and ran over to them, pulling them into her embrace.

"Twilight, thank goodness you are alive!" Spike said, shedding tears.

"And I'm glad to be alive. Dad would be proud of my work, and so would the rest of my family if they were still alive." Twilight said with a smile. There were not any answers.

"I'll tell you about that later on..." the hybrid pony added sheepishly, scratching the back of her head.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Hopefully you won't think it's too stupid."

[Applejack] "Compared to all the other bullshit, I find that unlikely."

"But right now, it's time FOR A PARTY!!!" Pinkie chirped in her usual happy tone, pushing the lavender hybrid into the main room in mere seconds. To Twilight's surprise, everyone in Ponyville was there.

SC276: It's... It's a castle. Everyone fit in the main room of your library, why is this surprising?

"WELCOME HOME, TWILIGHT!" they all yelled in unison.

"But... why aren't you freaking ou-"

"Save all your thoughts for later, because now, it's time to party." Pinkie said as she went to the kitchen to prepare a cake.

SC276: You didn't bake it already?!

"If you say so." Twilight thought aloud.

SC276: [Pinkie Pie] "(loud whisper) Psssst, no one tell her it's been five years."

The party was great, there was no lying about it, but she was feeling a bit... reflective about the situation that happened back when.

SC276: -ever.

Crazy56U: [Twilight Sparkle] "(thinking) If I just slam my head into the corner of that table hard enough, I think this nightmare may finally end."

It's hard to be reflective during a Pinkie party, but not impossible.

SC276: The author's justification for everything.

Twilight thought back to the moment she first met Godzilla, her father.

SC276: (still trying to beat the fourth wall to death with Ring's copy of Handbook for Mortals)

It's hard to believe that the people raising you are not really your family by blood. Twilight Velvet and Nightlight loved her like she was one of their own, and it was hard when you get the wake-up call of a lifetime. After her transformation, she was in denial. All Godzilla wanted to do was make her happy. They spent a month miles away from Equestria, SC276: It was three weeks.

and it was pretty bizarre, she's not gonna lie.

SC276: Nor summarize.

After that climactic monster battle, she needs a little something normal. And if a Pinkie party was normal,

SC276: -and she's a Spyro cosplayer now, so "normal" was basically anything at this point-then she should dive in for some of the fun. At least they are happy to see her, she guessed her friends told the populace before or after they found her and they told them that it was alright. Either way, her friends are close. The party was great, and everyone had a blast.

SC276: Particularly when the castle exploded and killed everyone.

Children and adults alike were happy that their lost princess was finally back in Equestria, and the cake Pinkie made was delicious, and everyone liked it. Twilight was happy to be back, and even felt confident enough to play with some of the kids.

SC276: Well you do need some confidence to play with goats. They are ruthless at Sorry.

The party, which started in the morning, now was well into the night. It had dwindled a lot, but there were still a few adults around. As for Twilight, she was talking to two the princesses.

SC276: About three the problems of the world.

"Cheer up, Twilight. Even though your life turned out to be a lie, your bonds are very much real." Celestia said.

SC276: "You may have made me a Kamen Rider, but it was my friends that made Build!"

"Thanks, Celestia. You know what to say, but, there's one question remaining." Twilight said, hugging her mentor for a moment.

"What is it?" Luna asked.

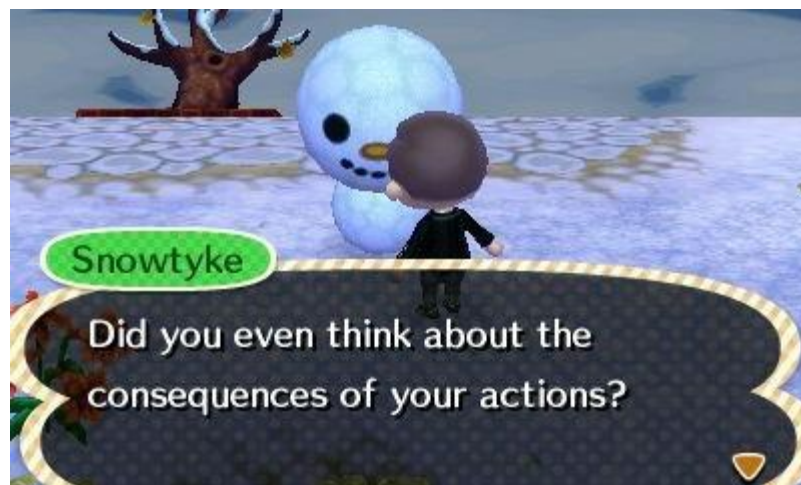

"What am I gonna tell my adoptive parents?" Twilight said.

"You don't have to,

SC276: Yeah, sure, hide the OBVIOUS HALF-DINOSAUR traits from two ponies in particular, that'll just- (dies from brain aneurysm) but... how DID you know?" Celestia asked.

"Well, it all had to do with the mind's structure. Turns out that whatever my species is to be called had these hidden memories that continue all the way up to when we first hatch from our eggs." Twilight said.

SC276:

"Yeah, but it's too bad I can't visit your dreams anymore." Luna said before a pair of arms wrapped around her.

"But you cannot stop visiting me, though." Twilight explained as Celestia called for a chariot.

"You're right." Luna said as the three boarded the chariot to Canterlot. It was a beautiful ride, yet Twilight fell fast asleep.

SC276: [Twilight Sparkle] "Now that Luna can't enter my dreams, I can mentally enact all the kinky fantasies about her that I want!"

1,000 Years Later...

Crazy56U: Equestrian jerks are going home... Now Twi sleeps for a thousand years... When she wakes, the world will end...

Twilight walked across the halls of the castle, flashing back to that very moment in her life. She has grown quite a lot, and she was now as tall as Celestia was before she and Luna were killed in a war against an enemy she no longer remembers.

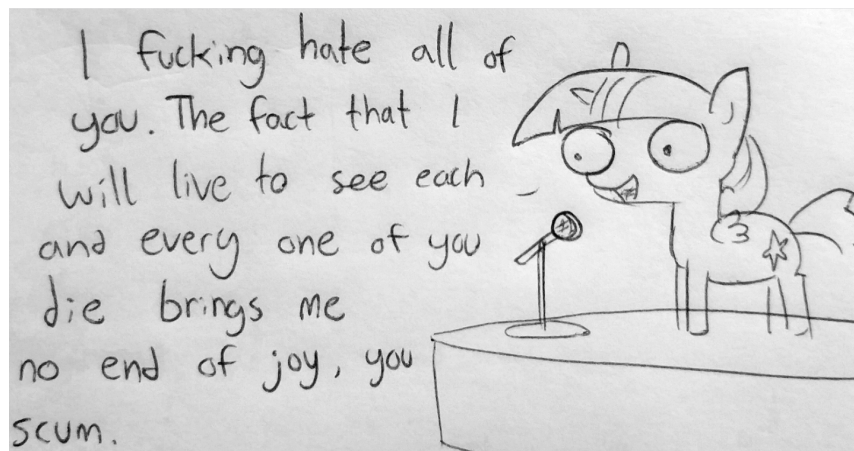

Crazy56U: It was Rollergator; he stabbed Luna in the kidneys and then ate Celestia, taking a page out of Lenny Kravitz's book.

Her mane now flowed in the nonexistent wind, creating a starry constellation effect much like Luna had, and her fur developed white gradient on her limbs, save for the black scales on her hands and feet.

SC276: ...You ate them, didn't you.

She was now the sole ruler of Equestria, and she came such a long, long way.

Crazy56U: Or, in other words:

It was hard to think that she started out as a unicorn living in Canterlot, only to find her true heritage as the daughter of Godzilla.

SC276: Mostly because it was so fucking stupid.

Now, she is the sole princess of Equestria, and now, she was a mother to three beautiful children. She came a long way, and Godzilla would definitely be proud of her.

SC276: [the author] "Where did Godzilla go after that battle? Fuck you, that's where!"

THE END

Author's Notes:

Alright, so the final part of the story's up and done. So, who wants a sequel?

Crazy56U:

SC276:
