

AGOGE NEW IDENTITY TEMPLATE

Ideal Version of Yourself 3-6 Months From Now

Power Phrases (2-3)

- I am Asher Busingye and I always attack the critical path
- I have the power and capability to influence my world
- I take what I want from this world.

Core Values (2-3)

- Bravery
- Mastery
- Earned Superiority

Daily Non-Negotiables (2-3)

- Daily Copy Campus Checklist
- 3 GWS on my Critical Path

Goals Achieved

- Achieved Intermediate Copywriter Role by 15th September 2024
 - After completing a successful discovery project and generating new leads for my client, I open my Stripe account and look at a graph that puts a smirk on my face - £300 has been credited to my Stripe account
 -
- Two retainers of at least $2,000 each + 20% rev share deals on each new lead closed by November 15th 2024
 - After crushing both discovery projects for my clients and over delivering beyond their expectations, they let me sit in the driver's seat of their marketing machine.

I'm in total control of the funnel from lead generation to upsells and my clients love me. They both pay me retainers with a rev share deal negotiated on the back end. They add on bonus checks every payment date because I'm constantly providing so much value.

- Achieved the Rainmaker Status by October 15th 2024

- I've generated my client $10,000 in revenue and hear my phone ping. It's a message of absolute excitement from my client who is over the moon because I've solved a problem he was desperately trying to solve on his own, and after being let down by marketing agencies in the past...he had almost lost hope. I read his message that conveys major excitement and I feel proud of myself.

Rewards Earned

- I treat my family to a night out at a fine restaurant (without looking at the price)

- I take Dad, Alex and the Weston lot out for dinner. We're dressed sharply and have chosen an elegant spot in Weston Super-Mare. I watch from the head of the table as people on both sides of me enjoy the moment. Listening to their laughter, seeing their smiles as they share entertaining stories and enjoy the evening. It all blends harmoniously with the clinking of cutlery and ambiance created by the sophisticated diners around us. I feel proud as I look at what I'm able to provide for the people I care about. The bill comes and I pay without a single glance.

- A 3 Week excursion in the hills of Antioquia, Colombia

- I set off on a thrilling three-week adventure to Colombia without having to worry about the price of activities. I'm with a brown haired, light-skinned woman who gives me great company both sexually and non-sexually. On my way there I pay for access to the lounge at Heathrow and use that time to add more bricks to my business empire. San Andres, San Juan and San Rafael. I visit the beautiful towns away from the big cities where I immerse myself in the culture and language of Colombia. My Spanish comes back quickly and improves exponentially in the short while I'm there. I visit [REDACTED]'s home, greet his mum with a massive wholehearted hug and share stories that will last a lifetime. Timing is perfect because I've avoided the harsh winter weather of the U.K.

- A New Asset Added To My Workstation Of Conquest
 - I say thank you to the attendant in the Apple store as she hands me my brand new MacBook Pro. The clean white packaging is distinct in my right hand as I walk out of the shop, ready to conquer a bigger part of the internet.

Appearance And How Others Perceive Him

- I'm always well groomed from getting a weekly haircut. I'm a lean machine, always combat-ready as I go about my daily life and people around me notice. When I walk into a room, even at 5 ft 8 I make a statement with the way I carry myself, Confident. Self-assured. Alert.
- I'm always well groomed. Facial hair clean shaven and shape-up is always picture-ready. I get a lot of compliments on my locks and the quality of my hair because it always has that shine to it thanks to the coconut oil.
- I walk through the world and have the aura of a man in control, a man who has the capability to influence his world - people around me can feel it. I'm oozing confidence and competence and hence people look to me for approval.
- My body language speaks volumes. My posture is firm and confident and my voice is resonant, commanding respect and admiration when I speak. I command the room with my speech and storytelling ability. My pronunciation is clear. My volume is just right without hesitation, uncalled for pauses and uhm's and ahh's. This makes me more trustworthy and seemingly more intelligent with whomever I converse. People listen when I speak and value my opinion.

Day In The Life Stories.

A Day in the Life of Asher Busingye: The Master of Influence

- 5:00 AM - The Dawn of a New Conquest

Asher Busingye's day begins before the sun rises. At 5:00 AM, his alarm isn't just a wake-up call—it's a rallying cry. He leaps out of bed with purpose, his mind already focused on the day ahead. There's no hesitation, no dragging of feet. Today, like every day, is a day to conquer. His mantra, "I always attack the critical path," reverberates in his thoughts. He starts with prayer, a moment of connection with the divine power that fuels his drive. He's reminded of his journey, from a fragile infant born prematurely to the man he is today—a man who takes what he wants from this world.

- 5:30 AM - Sharpening the Blade

Asher's home gym is a reflection of his discipline—minimalistic, efficient, and built for results. He begins with calisthenics, feeling the surge of power in every muscle as he performs pull-ups and push-ups with precision. Then, he moves to boxing. Each punch is a calculated strike, a release of the competitive energy that defines him. The heavy bag sways under his relentless assault, a reminder that in business, as in life, he leaves nothing to chance. His body is lean, a testament to his commitment to being combat-ready at all times.

- 7:00 AM - Strategic Breakfast with the Inner Circle

After a quick shower, he emerges from the bathroom like a gladiator ready for the arena. His locks are freshly groomed, gleaming with a healthy shine thanks to the coconut oil he swears by. He's dressed sharply, a crisp shirt, well-fitted trousers, and an aura that commands attention. His two women, one of Colombian descent and the other Caucasian, join him at the breakfast table. They admire his poise, his confidence, and his relentless drive. Over breakfast, they discuss the day's plans, with Asher providing guidance and insight. As "The King of Verbal Seduction," he effortlessly charms them with his smooth, confident demeanor, deepening their bond and reinforcing his position as the dominant leader in their relationship.

- 8:00 AM - On the Warpath: Conquering Business Challenges

Asher steps into his office, greeted by the sight of a graph on his computer screen. The numbers make him smirk—£300 added to his Stripe account. It's not the amount that matters, but the validation of his strategy. He's already achieved his goal of securing an intermediate copywriter role by September 15th, 2024, but he's not resting on his laurels. His eyes are set on the next targets: securing retainers of at least $2,000 each and achieving Rainmaker Status by generating $10,000 in revenue for his clients.

- In his mind, every client is a battlefield, and he's the general leading the charge. He steps into a meeting with one of his clients, who is on the brink of giving up on their marketing efforts after being burned by previous agencies. Asher listens intently, his posture firm, his expression unwavering. Then, with a calm, resonant voice, he outlines a strategy that leaves the client both relieved and excited. His ability to communicate, to instill confidence, and to provide solutions is unparalleled. By the end of the meeting, Asher is in full control of the client's marketing machine, steering it towards success with precision.

- 1:00 PM - Mastering the Art of Influence

Lunch isn't just a meal—it's an opportunity. Asher meets with a group of high-powered entrepreneurs, men who, like him, are killers in their respective fields. But even among these titans, Asher stands out. He's known for his sharp mind and strategic thinking in business, but when it comes to his personal life, especially with women, he's the "King of Verbal Seduction." His presence is magnetic, drawing the attention of everyone at the table, especially the women. His voice is smooth, his words deliberate, and his storytelling ability captivates the audience. He shares his latest victory—a $2,000 retainer deal with a 20% revenue share—and the room erupts in admiration. But Asher isn't seeking approval—he's exchanging value, absorbing the insights of those around him while offering his own.

- 3:00 PM - Obstacles Are Just Stepping Stones

The afternoon brings a challenge. A key client has hit a roadblock, and the success of their campaign hangs in the balance. Asher knows that this is the moment that will define him—not just in the client's eyes, but in his own. He rolls up his sleeves, dives into the problem, and emerges with a solution that no one else had considered. It's not just about solving the problem—it's about doing the impossible, about making the client believe in miracles. His phone pings with a message of gratitude, the client ecstatic about the $10,000 in revenue Asher has just generated. It's a moment of pride, but Asher knows there's more work to be done.

- 6:00 PM - Rewards of the Conqueror

Asher takes his family out for dinner at a fine restaurant. Dressed in their best, they sit at a table that reflects the elegance of their surroundings. The conversation is lively, filled with laughter and stories. Asher watches from the head of the table, his heart swelling with pride. He's providing for the people he cares about, giving them experiences they'll cherish. When the bill arrives, he pays without a glance, a small reward for the hard work he's put in. It's not about the money—it's about the ability to give, to uplift those around him.

- 9:00 PM - Reflecting on the Path Ahead

As the night approaches, Asher retreats to his suburban home. It's a place of peace, a sanctuary where he can recharge and plan his next moves. He takes a moment to reflect on his achievements—the retainers secured, the Rainmaker Status earned, the new MacBook Pro he's added to his workstation of conquest. But his thoughts quickly turn to the future. There are more battles to be fought, more victories to be won. He whispers his power phrases to himself, “I have the power and capability to influence my world,” reminding himself of the strength that lies within.

- 10:00 PM - The King of Verbal Seduction in His Element

Asher ends his day with his two women, using his gift of verbal seduction to create an intimate and unforgettable evening. His words flow like honey, each phrase carefully crafted to arouse and captivate. They hang on his every word, mesmerized by his charm and the way he makes them feel desired and cherished. The connection he shares with them is deepened, not just through physical intimacy but through the power of his words, his ability to make them feel seen, heard, and valued.

- Asher doesn't just speak—he commands, he seduces, he influences. By the time the evening winds down, his women are left in awe of him, their devotion to him stronger than ever. It's not just about the romance—it's about the mastery of verbal seduction, a skill that has earned him his title and the respect that comes with it.