

Hello Middle School FLVS students and families,

Welcome to our final week in quarter 1 in the FLVS program. I am amazed by the work that students are doing in this course. I saw some scary Water Coasters created by the 6th-grade group, the 7th-grade group let me know how dragons could be real in language arts, and 8th grade showed me how to write linear equations. It is enjoyable to see the growth of our students each week. Keep up the excellent work and keep letting me know if there is anything I can do to support—just a couple things for this week.

- It is the end of the quarter on Friday, October 16th. All assignments for quarter one need to be completed on the 16th. If there is a problem with this, students need to reach out to Mr. McNutt to let him know. Anything that is missing will become a zero.

Here is a list of the last assignments that will be graded in quarter 1. Please ensure this assignment and all previous assignments are completed by October 16th.
