VELLORA RELAY

Privacy policy

Effective date: November 7, 2026

Publisher draft: add the destination developer's legal name, support email and privacy contact before publication.

Offline game

Vellora Relay does not request Internet access. It has no account, advertising, analytics, crash-reporting or tracking integration.

Local progress

Mission stars, unlocked deliveries and sound preferences are saved only in the app's private local storage. The app does not transmit them. Clearing app data or uninstalling removes them. Android backup is disabled.

Permissions

The app does not request access to location, contacts, camera, microphone or shared storage.

Contact and updates

Support communications outside the app are handled by the publisher and the communication service used. The publisher must add its contact details here and update this page if the app's data practices change.
