1. My most powerful driving purposes:

- My divine purpose. Proving to myself and to God that he hasn't wasted his blessings on me. Becoming the most powerful and greatest version of myself.
- The duty to my bloodline, to my family. To the ones that bled and died in order for me to be here right now.

- To provide my family with everything they need.

2. How will I revise the learned lessons:

- Whenever I'm approaching a new goal I shall go back to the CONQUEST PLANNER and create a plan for action. I will use the Cause and Effect chains to set checkpoints that will draw the map towards achieving the goal.
- Whenever I am facing unknowns and challenges I shall go back to Problem Solving and Solving Unknowns and Assumptions in order to overcome the challenges and move forward.
- When I'm writing I'll use the lessons from Perspicacity Time and Unleash your Creativity in order to tap into my brain's most creative, breakthrough ideas and apply them to my work so that I can achieve massive results that will grant me a high-status.

3. Prepare for challenges:

- HyperAdaptation is key. I should always push my limits and beat my records in order to prepare for the hard challenges.
