

Univariate and bivariate Laplace and discrete Laplace distributions and generalizations

Speaker: Barry C. Arnold, University of California, Riverside, USA

Abstract:

Univariate Laplace and discrete Laplace models are described and investigated. More general mixture models are presented. Bivariate extensions of these models are discussed in some detail, with particular emphasis on associated parameter estimation strategies. Multivariate versions of the models are briefly introduced.