Prompt date: 6/02
Prompt: [138/100] There is no currency in the pride. There is no way to trade after all. What makes someone 'wealthy' would be their magic most likely. Since being able to produce magic orbs could be life or death the more you can produce effortlessly the better off you will probably be. The 'richest' person in the pride then would be someone who can make an abundance of lights. Most Lions need the help of stones and herbs. Rumi however seems to have an innate ability to produce such orbs from his pelt. No one knows why but he seems to be able to produce a never ending supply of the things. He is the one that sets up the scouts with orbs to last a few days on top of the stones and herbs they take to replenish them.

Prompt date: 6/8
Prompt: [102/100] The hollow group is made up of several cats trained to be healers. All the spirituals have the ability to help those that are sick. Though there are designated healers like Clover. Depending on the severity of the illness they will either be allowed to walk free and just check however much they need to be, or they will be quarantined in a specific location either among the roots of the tree or in a den nearby, again, depending on the severity. The more serious the further away they are kept for the safety of the group to keep the spread down.

Prompt date: 6/8

Prompt: [172/100] The healer of the shadow canyon pride is Equinox. She keeps the sickly members in a cave deep in the canyon. She typically only uses one but if something is severe enough she has a total of about 5 caves she can keep people contained to. They have to stay in these caves until they are better, not working or doing their jobs if they are really bad and she keeps them on bed rest until they are better. The only time someone might be sent away is if they've become sick with the mist, because there is no cure, and those infected could become a risk to the pride if they stay. They will typically stay close to the canyon out of the way to not cause trouble, with a healer and a guard checking on them every so often but they are not allowed in the canyon unless somehow they get better. Because while there is no cure, sometimes one infected will get better for reasons unknown to the pride.

Prompt date: 6/9

Prompt: [100/100] Max likes to share his sweets that he makes with Blight. She likes to pretend to be annoyed at him but they both know its just games. He will normally give her more of the food because why keep all the goodies for himself? She tries to make it fair though cause she knows how much he loves sweets and how rare they can be around the canyon. She thinks its nice that he wants to share. They'll sometimes eat other meals together but it will mostly be sweets that Max finds or makes and they enjoy the time together.

Prompt date: 6/9

Prompt: [107/100] Twig and Clover share all their meals together. They have done so since they were tiny kittens in the nursery. Clover always tries to sneak extra portions to Twig because she still remembers when he was a little sickly, weak kitten, though Twig doesn't much care for this behavior and can get annoyed at her protectiveness even though he still loves her. He'll try to sneak the extra portions to her and it will often continue in a never ending cycle till the entire meal is eaten which normally leads to them eating the same amount in the end anyway. The other clan mates just find this behavior amusing.
