

Gratitude Equals Greatness LLC Zero Tolerance Refund Policy

Introduction

1. Gratitude Equals Greatness LLC provides online coaching services to men looking to improve their lives and achieve their goals. Our services are designed to be highly effective, and we stand behind the quality of what we offer. However, due to the nature of our services and the personalized attention we provide, we have a zero tolerance policy for refunds.

No Refunds

2. Once payment has been made for our online coaching services, there will be no refunds under any circumstances. This policy applies regardless of the reason for requesting a refund, including dissatisfaction with the services, changes in personal circumstances, or any other factor.

Responsibility for Choosing Services

3. Before signing up for our services, it is the responsibility of the client to carefully consider their needs and goals and to ensure that our services are a good fit. We offer detailed information about what we offer on our website and encourage potential clients to ask any questions they may have before signing up.

Payment Terms

4. Payment for our online coaching services is due in full at the time of sign-up and is non-refundable. If a client fails to make payment as agreed, we reserve the right to terminate their access to our services without a refund.

Dispute Resolution

5. If a client has a complaint or concern about our services, we encourage them to bring it to our attention. We are committed to providing high-quality services and will make every effort to resolve any issues to the satisfaction of the client.
