

Call to Action Transcript/Description

[Image Description: A blue slide. Large red words that read “Why vote in the mock election?” appear and fade out.]

[Video Description: A young, East Asian woman with shoulder-length straight black hair. She is wearing round glasses and a red shirt with the word “VOTE” written several times, each time one letter being replaced with the fingerspelling equivalent. She is standing against a light green wall, looking at the camera and signing.]

Lia: You should join the mock election so you can practice and be an experienced voter when you turn 18 years old. You’ll be ready!

[Video Description: An older white woman with shoulder-length light brown hair. She is wearing a black sweater. Behind her is a blank white wall. She is looking at the camera and signing.]

Debra: Equal opportunities for everyone!

[Video Description: An older white female wearing glasses with her strawberry-blonde hair in two braids. She is wearing a light red shirt. She is standing outside with trees in the background. She is looking at the camera and signing.]

Kathy: You’re important. Your beliefs are important. Show your choices. Vote!

[Video description: A young white female with light brown hair pulled up in a messy bun. She is wearing a plain black hoodie. She is standing in a room with windows behind her. She is looking at the camera and signing.]

Tarja: Dive into hands-on learning.

[Video Description: A young white man with glasses and short brown hair. He is wearing a light blue collared shirt. Behind him is a plain white background. He is looking at the camera and signing.]

Bailey: Be a part of a community. Vote!

[Video Description: A white woman with shoulder-length brown hair. She is wearing a black shirt that says “Good Trouble” in white letters. She is standing in a room with windows on her left side and a white door behind her. She is looking at the camera and signing.]

Jordan: Hello! Come on and vote!

[Video Description: An older Black female with grey hair pulled back into a small, tight ponytail. She is wearing a white button-up shirt with gold hoop earrings. Behind her is a red wall with a framed family portrait. She is looking at the camera and signing energetically.]

Ruth: Yay! Vote! Vote! It’s important! Come on! Come on! It’s a good experience for you! In the future your vote will be important! You’ll get an idea. Yeah! Yay! Yay! Vote! Vote ! Yay! Yay! Come on! Come on!