

Welcome!

Hello everyone! So I know that Halloween's quite a ways off, but it takes me forever to complete these kinds of projects so why not just post the MAP call now, right?

//°The main concept of the project°//

The main goal of this MAP is to take popular horror characters and recreate them in the world of Wings of Fire. I myself am a huge fan of horror films as well as the fantasy world of Wings of Fire, so I feel like this is a cool idea to combine those interests.

+°Please note before applying°+

-Since this is a horror-based MAP, it contains content that may not be suitable for audiences under the age of 13 including gore, violence, and other disturbing imagery

-You may apply using either the application form or in the comment section (If you're applying in the comments, please tell me the part/ parts you would like and include the code word (Found in the rules) somewhere in your comment)

-Your part doesn't have to feature a character from a TV show or movie, you could also use well known creepypasta characters like Slenderman, Sirenhead, or Jeff the Killer to name a few.

-There is a code word hidden in the rules and you will not be accepted unless you include it in your application

°~Rules~°

-This MAP is NOT beginner friendly- I do ask that you have some experience with animating/ drawing and have examples of this on your channel before applying

-Gore and violence are allowed but no NSFW or 18+ content, if your part makes any reference to something that is not appropriate for this map, you will be immediately kicked and banned from any of my future MAPs

-Your part must feature a recognisable dragon-ified horror character

-No tracing or stealing from other artists

-Both PMV and AMV style animation are allowed, although your part must have a minimum of 2 frames and at least some movement whether it be full animation, tweening, or simple panning

-No gacha

-Only dragons!! (Things like background characters can be other animals or even humans, although the primary focus/ main characters should be dragons)

-No greenscreen please

-Your part must be completed within fourteen days of being accepted, and a WIP must be provided within seven days of being accepted

-You are allowed no more than two parts at one time

-Please comment 'applied' after filling out the application so that I can contact you if you get the part!

-Extensions can be provided, although if you need one I would like to be alerted before you hit the deadline

-If you do exceed the deadline, I will give you a warning, although if you do not respond with an update within a 24 hour window, you will be kicked

-Code word is the horror character that you will dragon-ify, thanks for reading the rules!
