Question 1 (Open Your Heart - Reading): Read the following situation and draw a conclusion using a past modal (must have, can't have, should have). "Jane arrived at the party, but her best friend Mark wasn't there. Mark's car was not in the driveway, and his phone was turned off. He had mentioned feeling ill earlier that morning." Conclusion: Mark must have stayed at home because he was feeling ill. (OR: He might have gone to the doctor.)

Question 2 (Open Your Heart - Writing): You attended a music festival last weekend, but the organization was terrible. There were no trash cans, and the sound system was broken. Write a short formal letter of criticism (4-5 sentences) to the event organizers. Answer: Dear Organizers, I am writing to express my deep dissatisfaction with the recent music festival. Firstly, the lack of trash cans resulted in a very dirty environment. Moreover, the sound system was poor, which ruined the performances. You should have tested the equipment beforehand. I hope you take these complaints into account for future events. Sincerely, [Your Name].

Question 3 (Facts about Türkiye - Reading): Read the text about Göbeklitepe and answer the question. "Göbeklitepe, located in Şanlıurfa, is known as the 'zero point in time.' It dates back to 10,000 BCE, making it much older than the Pyramids of Giza. It features massive T-shaped limestone pillars arranged in circles, decorated with carvings of wild animals." Question: What are the distinctive architectural features of Göbeklitepe mentioned in the text? Answer: The distinctive features are the massive T-shaped limestone pillars arranged in circles and the animal carvings on them.

Question 4 (Facts about Türkiye - Writing): Write a short blog post (5-6 sentences) recommending a city or a historical site in Türkiye to foreign tourists. Mention why it is special and what they can do there. Answer: If you are planning a trip to Türkiye, you must visit Cappadocia! It is famous for its unique 'fairy chimneys' and underground cities. You can take a hot air balloon ride at sunrise to see the breathtaking landscape from above. Also, staying in a traditional cave hotel is a wonderful experience. Don't forget to try the local pottery kebab while you are there. It is truly a magical place!
