

this is a constantly updated document on exactly where the sweet bell day patreon/merch money is going and how we are spending it we mainly use the money for prizes, website fees, minecraft server fees, art, etc.

every single thing we've spent our patreon/merch money on is listed below. this is the sweet bell day fund.

we used the patreon money from the first payout towards things for sbd9

these things were

patreon money (payout #1)	+ $62.95
minecraft server	- $2.99
shirts for the top 3	- $43.11
hat for 1st place	- $8.97

after SBD9 happened, we received our second payout

we have not decided yet what to do with the money, but it most likely will be spent on prizes for winners, an idea we've been throwing around is to have prizes for the top 3 but also have a raffle for a special prize for anyone in the top 25. we're still figuring things out thank you for supporting sweet bell day, we will post on the patreon when updates are added to this document hello everyone! it is bobby.

i kinda lost track of where all of the money came from but currently we have a lot of money. i am pretty sure it was a combination of etsy sales, teespring sales, and patreon sbd11 money. actually yeah, that's exactly what it's all from. i have not lost track of which money is sbd money, just where it came from... so let's restart!

let's restart!	ok! sounds good.
current sbd fund	$201.81

yay! we have $200 for the next sbd!
let's spend it all on candy corn.

whats up yall
sbd12 was amazing
super fun

here are the stats

current sbd fund	$201.81
merch	- $120
current sbd fund	$81.81

i keep the sbd fund in my savings, I transferred 120 as an estimate for merch and it came out to like 118.75. i paid for the mc server and a month of web hosting out of my own pocket so i think keeping that 1.25 isn't the end of the world, it's less than what it should be, consider it a donation.

love yall, see you next time website renewal time!! (plus unpaid hosting to me)

i paid for website hosting out of pocket for 7 months, 3.50/month = 24.5

website renewal is 8.99 soo 33.49 to me from the 81.86 we had (we made 5 cents, woo!)

so sbd fund is at 48.37!

woo! that's still a lot!

but! we have 191.62 sitting in our patreon account, which is not gonna be pulled out until we need it 🙄

but that brings us to having $239.99!!

cha ching

thanks so much to everyone who supported sbd12! (and everything before)

we could not do it without you!
we are considering changing the way we accept payment for sbd.

patreon does have its downsides (like being paid at the end of the month), but we are responsible w the money, so we can continue to work off of the last sbd's funds if we don't change our payment system.

anyways, hope everyone is staying safe and healthy
